

The elves erupted in applause, anxious to get this year's Christmas trip started. They watched Santa pack his bags with toys, then helped Santa load them on his sleigh and leave the North Pole. Amid all the excitement, the elves didn't see that one lonely bolt had fallen off Santa's sleigh.

