

Santa flew as fast as his reindeer could take him. Soon he was close to Cottage Grove — he could even see Bohemia Park — but something felt wrong on the sleigh when he started to land. “Noooooo!” Santa shouted as he held tight to the reins. His sleigh started to shake like a freight train, then veered to the side and ...WHAM! ...crashed just outside town.

