

The local people watched as Santa loaded the last package on his sleigh, then took off into the night sky. A hearty “ho, ho, ho” echoed through the streets as he flew over Main Street, then stopped quickly at every house in town to deliver his toys. From then on, Santa would make Cottage Grove his first visit every Christmas Eve ...

