WRESTLING from B1

138-pound weight class in a score of of 13-8. Going into the third round, the match was tied at six a piece before Soto-Cruz dug deep for the victory.

"Fernando tonight is what we've been waiting for and he's still only a junior. We thought we were going to get it last year as a sophomore and he sometimes overthinks things but tonight it wasn't like he was thinking about moves, he was wrestling," said coach Chris Joyce. "He looked really smooth."

In the final dual of the day against Creswell, there was more than just a victory on the line, but added bragging rights between family members. Josh Stanley, an assistant coach at Cottage Grove, and Jake Stanley, an assistant coach at Creswell, are brothers that both graduated from CGHS as state wrestling champions. Aptly titled the "Stanley Cup," the two teams wrestled with the winner getting a WWE-styled championship belt.

"We made a little trophy so that year after year we can pass this trophy back and forth," said Herzog. And this year, the belt will reside in Cottage Grove after the Lions recorded a dominant performance and defeated the Bulldogs 66-18.

"I thought the whole team was a lot more explosive off the whistle. From Drew to Fernando and as a whole team we came out and wrestled and wrestled well," said Herzog. "I was looking as a whole team and I was happy and impressed with what we all did."

On Friday, the team took the title of 2019 Sky-Em champions as they defeated Marshfield (63-7), Siuslaw (57-18), Junction City (44-32) and Elmira (59-24). In years past there used to be an end of year league tournament that has since been eliminated as teams now qualify for state via regionals.

On Saturday the team finished seventh at Sutherlin but had individual success with Logan Lowerey, Sabrina James and Raina Herzog each winning their respective weight classes. Jacob Dunn finished in second in the 152-pound weight class.
