Local lakes provide fishing opportunities

Weekend fishing opportunities:

- Chinook and summer steelhead have been making their way into the Santiam basin, and there are reports of early fish having been caught.

- Timothy Lake was stocked last week with 4,200 legal and 1,000 trophy trout.

- Summer steelhead conditions are prime right now on the Clackamas River.

- There have been some Chinook lurking around the Sandy River. You've got a long weekend to check it out.

- It will be another busy week of trout stocking around the Willamette Valley, with fish going to the Santiam River, Green Peter Reservoir, Estacada Lake, EE Wilson Pond, McKenzie River below Leaburg Dam, North Fork Reservoir, Timber Lake, Yamhill River, Foster Reservoir, Timothy Lake, Willamette River Coast Fork, Junction City Pond, Leaburg Lake, Fall Creek, Walling Pond, St. Louis Pond, Small Fry Lake, Quartzville Creek, Trillium Lake and Silver Creek Reservoir.

Alton Baker Canoe Canal: Trout

Was last stocked the week of May 13 with 3,000 legal and 187 large/trophy-size rainbow trout.

The canoe canal is located within Alton Baker Park and can be accessed from Club Road in Eugene. A four-acre pond at the midpoint of the canal is a good spot but it can be fished all along its two-mile length from Day Island Road in Eugene to Aspen Street in Springfield. The canal is open to fishing all year.

Coast Fork Willamette River: Trout

Will be stocked again the week of May 20 with 733 legal-size rainbow trout. The river is open to fishing all year for trout, hatchery Chinook salmon, hatchery steelhead, and wild steelhead over 24-inches. Use of bait allowed April 22 – Oct 31, but beginning Nov. 1 anglers may only use lures and artificial flies. In addition to five hatchery trout, two wild trout may be kept daily.

Cottage Grove Pond (Row River Nature Park Pond): trout, warmwater species

Was last stocked the week of April 8 with 1500 legal-size rainbow trout.

Cottage Grove Ponds are open to year-round fishing and via an asphalt pathway behind the truck scales on Row River Road. In addition to fishing, these ponds also offer wildlife viewing opportunities and a fishing dock is available on-site.

Cottage Grove Reservoir: trout, warmwater species

Was last stocked the week of April 29 with 5,000 trophy-size rainbow trout.

Cottage Grove Reservoir is south of Cottage Grove and is open to fishing all year. Lakeside boat ramp is now open.

Dexter Reservoir: trout

Was last stocked the week of April 15 with 5,000 trophy-size rainbow trout.

Dexter Reservoir near Lowell is visible from Hwy. 58. Boat and bank access is available from state and county parks. Parking and bank access are also available from the causeway near Lowell. Largemouth bass and some smallmouth are also available to anglers in this reservoir.

Dorena Reservoir: trout, warmwater

Was last stocked the week of April 29 with 5,000 trophy-size rainbow trout.

Dorena Reservoir is east of Cottage Grove on Row River Road and is open to fishing all year. Trout and warmwater fish are available. Baker Bay boat ramp is accessible at the current reservoir elevation.

Fern Ride Reservoir: large-mouth bass, crappie, bluegill, brown bullhead

This 9,000-acre lake just 12 miles west of Eugene is the Willamette Basin's largest water body. Currently, the reservoir is completely full and the three main public boat ramps are available to launch boats.

For local information regarding the lake and available boat ramps, contact the Lane County Parks Department at 541-682-2000.

Bass and crappie fishing usually gets going around mid-April with peak months being May and June. Look for crappie along the weedy edges on the south side of the reservoir. The south shore around Perkins Peninsula as well as along the face of the dam are good spots.

There is good bank access at several rest stops and campgrounds, and three seasonal boat ramps.
