

A low-angle photograph of the United States flag waving on a tall white pole against a clear blue sky. The flag is positioned diagonally across the frame, with the top left corner near the top left of the image. The flag features 50 white stars on a blue field and thirteen horizontal stripes, seven red alternating with six white, starting with a red stripe at the top. The pole is white and has a gold-colored finial at the top. The background is a solid, clear blue sky.
