

ODFW Fishing Report for Aug. 3

COTTAGE GROVE POND: Trout, warmwater species

Was last stocked the week of April 8 with 1,500 legal-size rainbow trout. Cottage Grove Ponds are open to year-round fishing and via an asphalt pathway behind the truck scales on Row River Road. In addition to fishing, these ponds also offer wildlife viewing opportunities and a fishing dock is available on-site.

COTTAGE GROVE RESERVOIR: Trout, warmwater species

Was last stocked the week of April 29 with 5,000 trophy-size rainbow trout. Cottage Grove Reservoir is south of Cottage Grove and is open to fishing all year. Lakeside boat ramp is now open.

DETROIT RESERVOIR: Trout, kokanee

This large reservoir was stocked in mid-July with about 5,000 larger trophy-size rainbow trout. Fishing has been very good of late for both trout and kokanee with warmer temperatures and more food available. Anglers are catching most trout between the surface and 40 feet down, kokanee below that. Currently, the reservoir is down only about 13 feet, which means the fishing conditions will be very good this entire year. All boat ramps should be available to launch boats at this time.

DEXTER RESERVOIR: Trout

Was last stocked in mid-April with 5,000 trophy-size rainbow trout. Dexter Reservoir near Lowell is visible from Hwy 58. Boat and bank access is available from state and county parks. Parking and bank access are also available from the causeway near Lowell. Largemouth bass and some smallmouth are also available to anglers in this reservoir.

DORENA RESERVOIR: Trout, warmwater

Dorena Reservoir is east of Cottage Grove on Row River Road and is open to fishing all year. Trout and warmwater fish are available. Baker Bay boat ramp is accessible at the current reservoir elevation.

FALL CREEK: Trout

Was last stocked the week of July 15 with 1,200 legal-size rainbow trout. Fall Creek is open all year for trout. Beginning Nov. 1, anglers may only use lures and artificial flies. Five hatchery trout and an additional two wild trout may be harvested daily in the river. Below Fall Creek Dam the creek is open all year for hatchery Chinook, hatchery steelhead and wild steelhead greater than 24-inches.

so excited about doing this. I get to be back with my girls!" said Reed, who also teaches first and second grade.

Saying that North Douglas volleyball has enjoyed recent success is an understatement. The team, even with an annually changing roster, has not lost a league game since the 2013 calendar year. With that magnitude of success, it would be understandable for a new coach to feel the pressure of the past. Reed says she can feel it, but more from her own competitiveness and strong desire to continue winning trends. Reed, originally from Oakridge, is a former three-sport athlete and volleyball state champion herself. But as the architect of the middle school's recent dominance, she's excited and hopeful for the future of North Douglas Volleyball.

"All that talent has moved to the high school so I feel like we've been successful from like sixth grade up. It's really exciting to know how much talent I have in that group ... I feel like the success we've had, we always look at our goals as being to be the league champs and to make it to the state tournament and I feel like with the talent we have that's totally feasible for us to have those lofty goals."

A few miles west on Highway 38, Jeremy Lockhart will use the foundation of experience he's built over the last decade plus when he takes over as head football coach at Elkton High School.

"This is a great opportunity for me. I'm blessed to be able to step in and take on the challenge and do the best I can and they have confidence in me, which is fantastic, so I'm hoping to not let anybody down," said Lockhart when asked about his new position.

Lockhart, who is from Klamath Falls, spent much of the past 13 years in Eugene where he gained valuable experience as a volunteer coach for track and field and cross country at Kelly Middle School and Willamette High School.

He came to Elkton last year as a teacher, a time when there were no open coaching positions. Lockhart began volunteering at the middle school level and now, after one year of getting to know the Elkton community, relishes the opportunity that's in front of him.

"The kids here are fantastic. That's one thing that I noticed my first year teaching here. It is a wonderful community when it comes to how this community raises the kids and we all do it together and I'm just really fortunate," said Lockhart. "It's such a great opportunity that once I saw this coaching position available, it was something for me to dive deeper into this community and help it out as much as possible."

While Elkton football hasn't experienced the level of success of North Douglas volleyball they are nonetheless on a run of two consecutive winning seasons. However, amidst coaching changes and a large amount of roster turnover, Lockhart feels relaxed heading into the season.

"I've been informed that this is a brand new slate, it's a new team. I think we've lost nine seniors from last year which is pretty much our entire starting lineup so, you know, this year's definitely a new start, a fresh start ... Of course, I would love to be successful and I just hope these kids have success, but we're gonna have a fresh start, we're gonna try to have fun, we'll make sure the kids are learning and growing and then I will consider it a very successful year," Lockhart said.

Both Reed for North Douglas volleyball and Lockhart for Elkton football have yet to appoint assistant coaches to their respective staffs.
