DAMIEN SHERWOOD/COTTAGE GROVE SENTINEL

Backdropped by a picturesque Dorena Lake, musician Hunter Noack performs classical pieces for an audience of more than 100 on Saturday at Baker Bay Park. The summer concert series, "In a Landscape," celebrates both classical music and the outdoors by staging concerts in forests, fields, deserts and mountain tops. Audience members listened with wireless headphones, free to wander the park to the ambience of Noack's performance.

Initial attack resources respond to lightning fires, camp fires

Last week, resources had responded to 10 fires across the Umpqua National Forest. Locations of the starts included: Four in the Diamond Lake Ranger District, four in the Tiller Ranger District and one in the Cottage Grove Ranger District, which was an abandoned campfire. and Saturday's thunderstorms, public-use restrictions will remain in place. On average, human-caused wildfires make up 87 percent of all wildfires annually.

Fire managers had scheduled a fixed-wing aircraft reconnaissance flight over forest lands; this week, a clearing and drying trend is forecasted.

In spite of rainfall that was received with Friday and Saturday's thunderstorms, public-use restrictions will remain in place.

On average, human-caused wildfires make up 87 percent of all wildfires annually.

The use of fire restrictions helps to minimize the number of human-caused fires firefighters respond to. It is imperative to maintain awareness of fire danger levels and current fire restrictions to help keep communities safe, particularly those in rural locations.

Remember: Even if a campfire is in a campfire ring, it must be completely extinguished before leaving the camping area.
