Children's Book Holiday Gift Ideas

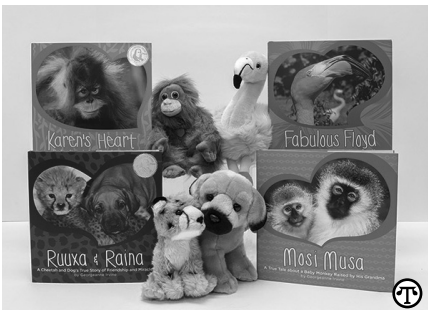

"The Nocturnals: The Mysterious Abductions" by Tracey Hecht

(NAPS)—Animals disappearing without a trace? In the first book of the critically acclaimed four-book middle-grade series "The Nocturnals," we meet three unlikely friends—Dawn, a serious fox; Tobin, a sweet pangolin; and Bismark, the pint-sized sugar glider. When the animals go missing, it's up to Dawn, Tobin and Bismark to find out why.

With the help of a gentle wombat, a jittery jerboa, a band of coyotes and some kooky bats, the brigade finds itself in a wacky, high-stakes game that will determine their survival. Discover the friendships, teamwork, and humor as the brigade solves the unpredictable mysteries of the night. From Fabled Films Press, buy at <https://amzn.to/2C3opOQ>.

San Diego Zoo Global Press "Hope and Inspiration Series" by Georgeanne Irvine

A collection of heartwarming tales of animals that survived challenges and thrived under the loving care of humans. Author Georgeanne Irvine has devoted more than four decades to raising awareness about animals and wildlife conservation.

Now, in a four-book series, she connects children with animals to teach important life lessons of perseverance, empathy, and friendship. Children and grownups will read the true stories of: "Fabulous Floyd," the flamingo who never gave up; "Karen's Heart," the brave orangutan; "Ruuxa & Raina," a cheetah and dog's true story of miracles and friendship; and "Mosi Musa," a baby monkey raised by his grandma. Accompanying plush toys also available. Buy at <http://bit.ly/2BYMVk1>.

"Jenny's Pennies: A Nantucket Tradition" by Peter Saverine

"Do you believe in mermaids and wishes that come true? Do you believe in lucky days when someone's watching over you?" So begins this whimsical tale of Nantucket's tradition of throwing a penny near the Brant Point lighthouse. This inspirational book is filled with colorful illustrations and verse. Meet a mermaid named Jenny who collects the pennies thrown off the ferry by visitors, young and old, as they leave the quaint New England island, hoping to return.

With the help of her seaside friends, Jenny re-scatters the pennies throughout the island to bring good luck to the finders. It's a great read-aloud that will inspire you to pick up lucky pennies wherever you travel and believe in their magical powers. Purchase at <https://etsy.me/34RMUux>.

"If You Were Me and Lived In..." Cultural series by Carole P. Roman

As Santa gets ready to make holiday stops to all parts of the globe, it's never too early to start teaching children about that world around them. In her years as a teacher, parent and grandparent, author Carole P. Roman noticed there were few, if any, books about other cultures for young children. Roman has remedied that with a 22-book series covering cultures in every corner of the world.

Roman knows children love to discover the differences and similarities of other people and places in far-off lands. Tailored to children 3 to 8 years old, her writing is simple but does not talk down to youngsters. Get on board and discover the world through the eyes of a young person. Holiday Season Jobs For Students (NAPS)—If you or someone you care about is among America's estimated 20 million college students, the holidays could include a particular present for you: a great seasonal job.

The Job Picture
 The holidays are often a time students seek seasonal work, as a way to earn extra money to put towards tuition, or just have extra spending money. A recent survey of Americans who hold, have held or would consider taking a seasonal job shows that of potential seasonal workers, over 40% plan to put their earnings towards holiday gifts, over 20% for school expenses, and over 20% for paying student loans.

Fortunately for these young people, a global leader in package delivery and logistics—UPS—anticipates a very busy holiday shipping season, and is hiring about 100,000 seasonal employees to deal with the extra packages.
 "We expect another record Peak Season this year, with daily package deliveries nearly doubling compared to our average of 20 million per day," said Danelle McCusker, UPS's head of U.S. human resources. "In order to make that happen, once again we're recruiting about 100,000 people for some of the country's best seasonal jobs."

What You Can Get
 Perks at UPS for students home for the holidays include:
 1. Flexible hours, including multiple shifts, so you can fit work into your schedule
 2. Competitive hourly pay
 3. The UPS Earn and Learn program, which offers eligible seasonal student employees the ability to earn up to $1,300 towards college expenses, in addition to their hourly pay.

College students can get good seasonal jobs while home for the holidays—that could become the gift of a great career.

Planning For Your Future
 Applicants thinking about getting a permanent job should know these seasonal and part-time jobs have long served as a foot in the door to a career at UPS. In fact, 35 percent of the people UPS hired in the past four years for seasonal package handler jobs stayed with the company on a permanent basis after the holidays, and nearly a third of the company's current global workforce started in seasonal positions.
 That's important to many students. Nearly 70% want their seasonal job to turn into a full-time position, according to the recent survey. And nearly all agreed that seasonal and temporary jobs are a good way to move into a permanent, full-time career. Permanent UPS jobs—including part-time jobs—come with great pay and benefits, including healthcare and retirement benefits.
