both Seaside and Sisters. All of it is for one express purpose.

"We're really trying to gear up for January ... for our first league game against Siuslaw," Hutchison said. "Everything we're doing is going towards that. Our goals start there."

It is little different for the other area teams and while the smaller Skyline schools to the south of Cottage Grove begin league games this week and next, Cottage Grove must wait only a couple short weeks before their old rivals begin coming to town. From Jan. 17-24, both Lions squads will play three games in eight days against Siuslaw, Marshfield and Marist.

Hutchison's team is a young squad that is continuing to progress, while the talented girls team hopes to avoid the same big-game jitters that hampered their volleyball success. If early non-league signs are any indication, the Lady Lions could press for a league title.

Douglas County, in its own right, is overflowing with girls' basketball talent as Yoncalla, Elkton and North Douglas are all currently ranked in the OSAA top-20. The three teams are scheduled to have six total head-to-head matchups this year beginning with an Elkton/Yoncalla clash on Sat., Jan. 4. The North Douglas and Yoncalla boys' teams both boast rosters with talent and experience, while the Elkton boys look to make headway with a young group.

Only time will tell what the league season holds, but after a few weeks of rest and relaxation, the basketball players of Cottage Grove, Yoncalla, North Douglas and Elkton High Schools are ready to prove their mettle. Or so their fans hope.

CGHS boys basketball: Head coach Seth Hutchison kept his young roster busy during the holiday break, traveling east to Sisters for a three-day weekend tournament.

The Lions (4-7) had a tall task in their first game on Fri., Dec. 27 losing to last year's state champions, Banks (6-4), 79-53. CG then bounced back on Saturday against the host team, beating the Outlaws (2-8) 38-26 before dropping a nail-biter on Sunday to a tough Baker squad (6-5), 60-57. The Lions now get a short reprieve before picking their schedule back up on Tues., Jan. 7 when they will host Cottage Grove's Raina Herzog and Adelle Kent continued in the sport and both wrestled at junior nationals in Fargo, North Dakota earlier in July.

At the tournament, Herzog finished second in her weight class.

Herzog and Kent are both juniors this year at CGHS. The pair of girls qualified to be one of the 34 girls on the team at a tournament this past March.

During the high school season Raina Herzog, in her first year of high school wrestling, won the state title at the 235 weight class.

9. October 9, 2019: "Beloved pool returns to CG, Aqua Lions". After a long 11-month closure, Cottage Grove finally has their beloved pool back and better than ever.

On Tues., Oct. 2 Sue Taylor - wife of longtime Cottage Grove High School (CGHS) water polo and swimming coach, Bud Taylor, and a former lifeguard - cut the ribbon on the new and improved Warren Cottage Grove sophomore (now a junior) Adele Kent also qualified for nationals, but was eventually hampered by an ACL injury that has kept her out of the 2019-20 wrestling season.

The ribbon-cutting signaled the end of a lengthy closure that, while inconvenient for local swimming enthusiasts and youth athletes, brought myriad improvements to a pool facility that desperately needed it after 63 years of continued service to the Cottage Grove community.

10. November 6, 2019: "Freshman phenom flies into state meet". The 2019 Sky-Em League Cross Country Championships were held on Thurs., Oct. 31 at Lane Community College and CGHS freshman Jaden Owens surprised just about everyone by finishing second overall with a personal record 5k time of 16:33.50. It was one of the fastest times in the state recorded by a freshman.
