THE JETSONS FLY INTO METV!

Meet George Jetson! His boy, Elroy! Well, you know the rest. Jane, Judy, Rosey, and Astro fly into the MeTV lineup Sunday mornings at 11:30 a.m., right after The Flintstones from 10-11:30.

The Jetsons series was a follow-up to The Flintstones, the modern stone age family who lived in stone houses (not caves) with "modern" conveniences. The Flintstones was originally broadcast on ABC from 1960-1966, and was the first animated series to hold a prime-time slot on television. Hanna-Barbera sold ABC on the concept of flipping the situations around and to go futuristic. From the stone age to the space age! The Jetsons originally ran in primetime for just one season from 1962-63. Only 24 episodes, but enough to turn the Jetsons into American icons.

The futurist technology from The Jetsons may seem a bit farfetched today, but some things have come about -- just not in the exact form seen from a '60s perspective. We can make "tele-viewer" calls, have a robot vacuum the living room, and let computers do many tasks for us!

Join the Jetsons on MeTV, Sunday mornings at 11:30 a.m., right after The Flintstones three episode block beginning at 10:00 a.m., and rebroadcast over the SLTV translator system at 9.2.
