

Mixing it up at Bohemia Mining Days

Photos by Daniel Friis, Damien Sherwood & Sophia Edelblute

Downtown filled with people traveling near and far to take part in this year's long-awaited Bohemia Mining Days festival. After skipping last year due to COVID-19, a robust public turnout set the stage for enthusiastic performances, parades and races throughout the two-day event.

