LATER NEWS.

Oregon Law-makers.

What's the Game? Red Bill or Blue?

Before January 31st the legislature will be in session until the first day in February. This is the one day that is of the utmost importance to the public for the making of the laws of the state.

Senator Coltman, of Klamath, has been in office since 1899 and has been a member of the Senate for the past six years. His term of office is now expired but he has been re-elected for another term and will continue in office until the first day in February.

The state capital is in Portland and has been the capital of Oregon since 1859. It is located on the Willamette River and is the seat of government for the state.

The Oregon legislature meets annually and is composed of a house of representatives and a senate, each elected for two years. The governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general, treasurer, secretary of state, superintendent of public instruction, and other officers are elected by the people for terms of four years.

The state is divided into five districts, each of which elects one senator and two representatives. The members of the legislature are elected by the people of the state on the first Tuesday in November of each year.

The Oregon legislature is one of the most powerful bodies in the world, and is responsible for the making of laws and the supervision of the affairs of the state.

The Oregon legislature is currently in session, and will continue until the first day in February. The session is the time when the laws of the state are made, and the budget for the next year is approved.

The Oregon legislature is the highest court of the state, and has the power to make laws, declare war, and approve the budget. It is also responsible for the appointment of state officials, and the supervision of the affairs of the state.

The Oregon legislature meets annually, and is composed of a house of representatives and a senate, each elected for two years. The governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general, treasurer, secretary of state, superintendent of public instruction, and other officers are elected by the people for terms of four years.

The state is divided into five districts, each of which elects one senator and two representatives. The members of the legislature are elected by the people of the state on the first Tuesday in November of each year.

The Oregon legislature is one of the most powerful bodies in the world, and is responsible for the making of laws and the supervision of the affairs of the state.

The Oregon legislature is currently in session, and will continue until the first day in February. The session is the time when the laws of the state are made, and the budget for the next year is approved.

The Oregon legislature is the highest court of the state, and has the power to make laws, declare war, and approve the budget. It is also responsible for the appointment of state officials, and the supervision of the affairs of the state.

The Oregon legislature meets annually, and is composed of a house of representatives and a senate, each elected for two years. The governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general, treasurer, secretary of state, superintendent of public instruction, and other officers are elected by the people for terms of four years.

The state is divided into five districts, each of which elects one senator and two representatives. The members of the legislature are elected by the people of the state on the first Tuesday in November of each year.

The Oregon legislature is one of the most powerful bodies in the world, and is responsible for the making of laws and the supervision of the affairs of the state.

The Oregon legislature is currently in session, and will continue until the first day in February. The session is the time when the laws of the state are made, and the budget for the next year is approved.

The Oregon legislature is the highest court of the state, and has the power to make laws, declare war, and approve the budget. It is also responsible for the appointment of state officials, and the supervision of the affairs of the state.

The Oregon legislature meets annually, and is composed of a house of representatives and a senate, each elected for two years. The governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general, treasurer, secretary of state, superintendent of public instruction, and other officers are elected by the people for terms of four years.

The state is divided into five districts, each of which elects one senator and two representatives. The members of the legislature are elected by the people of the state on the first Tuesday in November of each year.

The Oregon legislature is one of the most powerful bodies in the world, and is responsible for the making of laws and the supervision of the affairs of the state.

The Oregon legislature is currently in session, and will continue until the first day in February. The session is the time when the laws of the state are made, and the budget for the next year is approved.

The Oregon legislature is the highest court of the state, and has the power to make laws, declare war, and approve the budget. It is also responsible for the appointment of state officials, and the supervision of the affairs of the state.