

Something Very Soothing.
There is something very soothing in the use of St. Jacobs Oil for the cure of Neuralgia. It soothes the pain, while it strengthens and restores the weak nerves to a natural condition. It is prompt and sure.

The largest woman in the South, Mrs. Mary Magique, colored, died recently at Little Rock, Ark. Her age was thirty, and she weighed 600 pounds.

True Greatness In Medicine
Is proved by the health of the people who have taken it. More people have been made well, more cases of disease and sickness have been cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla than by any other medicine in the world. The peculiar combination, proportion and process in its preparation make Hood's Sarsaparilla peculiar to itself and unequalled by any other.

Curiosities of Lakes.
If lakes have no overflow to the sea the water always becomes salty, particularly if there is small rainfall and much evaporation. The Caspian sea is properly a salt lake. So is the Dead sea. There are several lakes of considerable size in Canada which have no visible inlets, being fed entirely from subterranean sources.—Chicago Chronicle.

YESTERDAY AND TOMORROW MEET IN UNCLE SAM'S DOMAIN.

TODAY IS TOMORROW IN MANILA.
Paradox of Time Leads to All Sorts of Queer Consequences.
The war with Spain has been full of surprises, but perhaps its oddest outcome is that Uncle Sam now has all his holidays—not to mention other days—in duplicate. For this we have to thank Admiral Dewey. Territorial expansion has involved us in time expansion also. It is a curious literal fulfillment of the Spaniard's dream of "manana." To-day is always to-morrow in the Philippines. This paradox of time leads to all sorts of queer consequences. The cablegrams received to-day are dated to-morrow. Only the breaking of the cable at Manila prevented our hearing of Dewey's victory the day before the battle was fought! If you should start at noon to-day and travel westward at the rate of about a thousand miles an hour, it would still be noon in every region you passed through all the way around the world. You would catch no glimpse of night; you would see no sunset and no sunrise. Yet when you reached home again, twenty-four hours later, it would be to-morrow. Proceeding in the opposite direction, you would, of course, get just the opposite result. You would gain a day, apparently.
The day of the month is a purely arbitrary arrangement. Nature does not define it. One day slides into another just as yarn goes round the reel. Yet it is necessary to make the change somewhere. So we draw an arbitrary line from north to south, on the one side of which it is to-day and on the other to-morrow, even in places not a mile apart. Theoretically there are points where a single step would carry you from Sunday noon into the middle of Monday. This is the so-called date line. Here all ships as they cross drop or repeat a day, throwing your diary sadly out of gear. Sailing eastward you go to bed Sunday evening, and when you rise in the morning it is still Sunday. Sailing toward the west, you find that you have slept till Tuesday, though you got only your usual rest. The true date line is rarely shown on maps. The accompanying chart is therefore worth preserving.
Roughly, the course of the line is as follows: Starting at the north pole it passes through Behring strait, then slants to the westward to clear the long horn formed by the Aleutian chain of islands and give them the same day as the United States, to which they belong. This accomplished, it returns to the one hundredth and eightieth meridian and drops southward into the tropics, keeping far to the east of the Japanese group and the Philippines, until it approaches the latitude of the Fiji Islands. As these and some neighboring groups belong to Great Britain and do business chiefly with her Australian colonies, the date line here makes a sudden swerve eastward, so as not to embarrass the local commerce with a change of day. When we purchased Alaska we annexed the Siberian day, which at that time cut into the American continent, though occupying a remote and desolate region. We quickly revised the date line, however, to suit our own convenience.
The case of the Philippines is singular. For a long time they enjoyed the American day, though the Asiatic calendar prevailed all around them, thus dragging the date line far out of its natural course. Some who ought to know better seem to suppose that this absurd practice is still maintained. A statement to that effect appeared in a well-known magazine not many years ago. But in 1844 the much-needed change was made by Narciso Claveria, then Governor General and Archbishop, the 31st of December of that year being dropped from the calendar.

CRETE'S NEW FLAG.

The Powers Decide on a Design for a National Ensign.
The powers have now decided on the design the Cretan flag shall take. The ground of the flag will be blue, quartered by a white cross. The upper quarter next the staff will, however, be red, bearing a five-pointed star. The flag is a pretty one, but it cannot be said to have given entire satisfaction to all over whom it will float. A section of the Cretans grumble that the flag does not sufficiently recognize the Ottoman suzerainty.

There is a man in Newton, Kan., N. Murray by name, who has married the same woman four times. AIDED BY MRS. PINKHAM.

Mrs. W. E. FAXTON, Youngtown, North Dakota, writes about her struggle to regain health after the birth of her little girl.
"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—It is with pleasure that I add my testimony to your list, hoping that it may induce others to avail themselves of your valuable medicine.
"After the birth of my little girl, three years ago, my health was very poor. I had leucorrhoea badly, and a terrible bearing-down pain which gradually grew worse, until I could do no work. Also had headache nearly all the time, and dizzy feelings. Menstruations were very profuse, appearing every two weeks.
"I took medicine from a good doctor, but it seemed to do no good. I was becoming alarmed over my condition, when I read your advertisement in a paper. I sent at once for a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and after taking two-thirds of the bottle I felt so much better that I sent for two more. After using three bottles I felt as strong and well as any one.
"I think it is the best medicine for female weakness ever advertised, and recommend it to every lady I meet suffering from this trouble."
Maternity is a wonderful experience and many women approach it wholly unprepared. Childbirth under right conditions need not terrify women.
The advice of Mrs. Pinkham is freely offered to all expectant mothers, and her advice is beyond question the most valuable to be obtained. If Mrs. Faxton had written to Mrs. Pinkham before confinement, she would have been saved much suffering. Mrs. Pinkham's address is Lynn, Mass.
