WIDOW OF STEPHEN A. DOUGLAS

Death of the Woman Who Was the "Little Giant's" Wife.

Mrs. Robert Williams, formerly the wife of Stephen A. Douglas, the "Little Giant" of the Democratic party, and Lincoln's opponent in the Presidential campaign of 1860, died in Washington a short time ago. Some years after Douglas' death she married former Adjutant General Robert Williams. As the wife of Senator Douglas she was famous in fashionable and political circles for her beauty and her wit. When the "Little Giant" made his famous campaign his wife accompanied him, and by her tact and keen intuition made herself a strong factor in his chances of success. It was said that during the exciting times before and during the civil war Mrs. Douglas never made an enemy, although placed in many a trying situation.

Mrs. Williams was the daughter of J. M. Cutts, Comptroller of the Treasury in the '50s. She was a girl of wonderful personal charm. Tall, slender, and willowy, with a head and face of almost pure Greek type, there was a rare gentleness in the gaze of her beautiful brown eyes, in her unfailing courtesy, that made her a popular idol. Senator Douglas was a widower when he married the beautiful Adele Cutts, with whom he fell desperately in love at first sight at a reception at the White House.

After Senator Douglas' death, his widow, who was an ardent Roman Catholic, retired from society, and for some time resided the greater part of her time, after the French custom, in a convent. It was whispered that the beautiful young widow was to become a nun, the Pope having, it was said, granted a special dispensation permitting her to be received as a member of the Order of the Sacred Heart. After several years' retirement, however, Mrs. Douglas once more appeared in the social world, and her happy marriage to Gen. Williams occurred soon after.

THE EMPEROR'S MUSTACHE.

It Has Been as Good as a Gold Mine to the Royal Barber.

A German paper has lately got itself into a deal of trouble by discussing the Emperor's mustache and the barber who has made a fortune out of it. The imperial barber is Herr Haby. About three years ago Adjutant von Hullen, companion from youth of the Kaiser, appeared before his majesty with his mustache turned up in the fan-shaped style which has now become so familiar from recent photographs of the German Emperor. His majesty was very much struck at the appearance of the adjutant.

"Who did it?" he asked. "Haby, your majesty," came the reply. "Send him to me," said the Kaiser, and from that day Haby became the king of barbers, and the imperial face assumed an entirely new aspect.

Haby-to-day, although an uncrowned king, has many decorations. The latest is the Cross of Jerusalem, given to him upon the Kaiser's birthday. Haby accompanied the Kaiser upon his Palestine journey, and has accompanied the Emperor on all his journeys for several years. His other decorations include the Knight's Cross of the Hessian Philip Order, the Russian Stanislaus Oeder, a Bavarian silver medal of merit and a Turkish medjidie of the fourth class.

Haby has grown rich out of his job. His public establishment is crowded daily with the men of Berlin who are imitating the Kaiser's style of beard and he sells at fancy prices the water with which he claims to have made the imperial mustache what it is. The Kaiser has his mustache dressed every day and, sometimes, several times in a day.

ALABASTINE

LABASTINE is the original and only durable wall coating, entirely different from all kalsomines. Ready for use in white or twelve beautiful tints by adding cold water.

ADIES naturally prefer ALABASTINE for walls and ceilings, because it is pure, clean, durable. Put up in dry powdered form, in five-pound packages, with full directions.

LL kalsomines are cheap, temporary preparations made from whitening, chalks, clays, etc., and stuck on walls with decaying animal glue. ALABASTINE is not a kalsomine.

WARE of the dealer who says he can sell you the "same thing" as ALABASTINE or "something just as good." He is either not posted or is trying to deceive you.

ND IN OFFERING something he has bought cheap and tries to sell on ALABASTINE'S demands, he may not realize the damage you will suffer by a kalsomine on your walls.

ENSIBLE dealers will not buy a lawsuit. Dealers risk one by selling and consumers by using infringement. Alabastine Co. own right to make wall coating to mix with cold water.

HE INTERIOR WALLS of every schoolhouse should be coated only with pure, durable ALABASTINE. It safeguards health. Hundreds of tons are used annually for this work.

N BUYING ALABASTINE, see that packages are properly labeled. Beware of large four-pound packages light kalsomine offered to customers as a five-pound package.

UANCE of wall paper is obviated by ALABASTINE. It can be used on plastered walls, wood ceilings, brick or canvas. A child can brush it on. It does not rub or scale off.

Turned Down. "I come to ask you for your daughter," said the young man who has nothing but what he expects to earn, "but I can't express myself." "Express yourself?" sneered the plutocratic parent. AN EXCELLENT COMBINATION.

A Successful Enterprise That is Based on Merit.

A few remedies which have attained to world-wide fame, as truly beneficial in effect and giving satisfaction to millions of people everywhere, are the products of the knowledge of the most eminent physicians, and presented in the form most acceptable to the human system by the skill of the world's great chemists; and one of the most successful examples is the Syrup of Figs manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. Unlike a host of imitations and cheap substitutes, Syrup of Figs is permanently beneficial in its effects, and therefore lives and promotes good health, while inferior preparations are being cast aside and forgotten. In olden times if a remedy gave temporary relief to individuals here and there, it was thought good; but now-a-days a laxative remedy must give satisfaction to all. If you have never used Syrup of Figs, give it a trial, and you will be pleased with it, and will recommend it to your friends or to any who suffer from constipation, or from over-feeding, or from colds, headaches, biliousness, or other ills resulting from an inactive condition of the kidneys, liver and bowels.

In the process of manufacturing the pleasant family laxative made by the California Fig Syrup Co., and named Syrup of Figs, figs are used, as they are pleasant to the taste; but the medicinal properties of the remedy are obtained from an excellent combination of plants known to be medicinally laxative and to act most beneficially. As the true and original remedy, named Syrup of Figs, is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, a knowledge of that fact will assist in avoiding the worthless imitations manufactured by other parties. The Company has selected for years past the leading publications of the United States through which to inform the public of the merits of its remedy, and among them this paper is included, as will be seen by reference to its advertising columns.
