

The Library Association.

The Cottage Grove Library Association has just received its first consignment of books, and they are without doubt a credit to any institution of the kind, and those who had the choosing of the list deserve a word of praise for the selections made. The consignment consists of fifty-six volumes, as follows: History of the United States, Ridpath. Encyclopedia of Quotations. Shakespeare, Vol. I, II and III. The French Revolution, Vol. I and II. Six months in the Sandwich Islands. The Complete Angler, Walton. The Count of Monte Christo. The Wandering Jew. Les Miserables, Hugo. Mine Own People. The Jacklins. Adventures of Captain Horn. Dante's Divine Comedy. The Prince of the House of David. The Doomster. Tom Grogan. History of Civilization. Thelma. Self Help. The Gold Bug. The Christian. A Gentleman of France. Sartor Resartus. Kidnapped. The Pathfinder. Adam Bede. The Laws of Psychic Phenomena. The Widow in Thrums. Hypathia. The Moonstone. Michael Stragoff. Ben Fur. Two Years Before the Mast. Right Hundred Leagues on the Amazon. Beside the Bonny Briar Bush. Our Country. Strong. Romance of Two Worlds. Seven Lamps of Architecture. Soldiers Three. Last Days of Pompeii. Newcomen. Confession of an Opium Eater. Lena Rivers. Gwen Wynn. Zenoni. Last of the Mohicans. Black Beauty. The Pilot. When a Man's Single. Sport Royal. Barriers Burned Away. Imitation of Christ. Sons of Ham. A few weeks ago Rev McGee of this city presented the association with a fine set of Chambers Encyclopedia which add materially to the value and the importance of the infant library. Rev. McGee showed by this generous offer that he fully appreciated the efforts that are being made in this direction. It may take more time to put the library upon its feet in the manner desired by those who have the work in hand, but there is no question as to its ultimate success and with any thing like reasonable support from the citizens until it can in part at least pay its own way, Cottage Grove will have a library of which she can be proud.

Married.

Last Sunday evening at 9:30 o'clock Mr. W. V. Cutbirth and Miss Dora Wagner of this city were united in marriage at the parlors of the Hotel Sherwood, Rev. M. O. Brink of the M. E. church officiating. The wedding was a quiet affair, only immediate members of the bride's family and a very few intimate friends being present, as follows: Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Sherwood, Mr. and Mrs. Alf Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Garoutte, Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Brink, Miss Boler of Springfield, and Mr. Ed Hubbard. A number of beautiful presents were tendered the happy couple. After the ceremony the company found their way to the dining room where a most delightful wedding supper had been spread. Miss Wagner is the daughter of Mrs. J. M. Sherwood, and is well and favorably known in this city. Mr. Cutbirth whose former home was Fresno, California, where his parents reside, came to this city about a year ago, and has made friends right and left, who extend to the young couple a world of well-wishes. Mr. and Mrs. Cutbirth will continue their residence at the Hotel Sherwood, where they will be at home to their many friends.

Brown formerly manager of the Black Butte mines boarding house who removed with his family to this city some weeks ago and who leased the old Cottage Grove hotel has had the same nicely painted on the outside and thoroughly and systematically renovated from top to bottom on the inside, newly furnished and put in first class condition for the accommodation of the public. Mr. Brown is well known as a hotel and boarding house keeper, and he will use every effort to please his guests. He expects to run a free bus to all the trains as soon as he can get things regulated.

New Bakery.

For a long time it has been apparent that Cottage Grove was in need of a first-class bakery, and now she will have it. Mr. M. C. Campbell, formerly of Junction City, an experienced man in the business, is here, and next Wednesday morning he will have a line of first-class bakery goods in to places in this city, so as to make it convenient for the public. His goods will be found on sale next Wednesday, and every day thereafter, fresh every morning, at J. F. Miller's confectionery store, on West Main street, and Geo. Bohlman's confectionery store, East Main street. Remember, Portland prices: 2 loaves for 5 cents; 10 tickets for 25 cents; 44 tickets for $1.

Cottage Grove Snake Killer.

Cottage Grove has a snake killer that is ready at any and all times to go against any other snake killer, that thinks he is a fit subject to run up against. For a number of years Bob Veatch has made it a practice to hie himself into the hills every spring and exterminate all the rattlers he can find. Bob loves the sport and nothing affords him greater pleasure than to get into a den of rattlers and turn himself loose. For a number of weeks Bob has been as restless as a hound pup, and so last Saturday in company with Ned Strong, he struck out for Link "Holler," where he knew "in all reason" that he would find some gingle-tail serpents. To make a long story short when the boys returned they brought the rattlers off of twenty-six snakes. The twenty-seventh one they brought in and placed on exhibition in the Exchange saloon. This fellow was a little over two feet long and wagged eleven rattlers. Bob said the snakes all showed considerable fight, and one old fellow, came straight after them when they threw a rock to dislodge him, and they were obliged to shoot him. Bob says in the last five years he has killed 600 rattlers, and that one spring alone he killed 237. The annual snake hunt caused a good many snake stories to float around among the boys Saturday night, and a Nugget man happened to hear Dick White spin a yarn which was about as follows: "When I was down in Missouri, one day I was tending corn, I ran onto a big old rattler, that was a fighter from way back. Finally I up and hit him with the hoe. Well sir, he struck and hit that hoe handle, and in a few minutes that doggasted hoe handle was swelled up full of pizen as big as my arm."

Deal Closed.

The Messrs. Glass who bargained for the warehouse property of A. H. Spare some weeks since, with the view of converting the property into a planing mill, closed the deal with Mr. Spare last week. Mr. Cox, Glass Bro's foreman arrived here last Friday and has the remodeling of the building now well under way. The machinery will be placed as soon as the building can be made ready, and it will only be the course of a few weeks until Cottage Grove will have a planing mill running in full blast. Success to it.

Mining Expert.

J. Wells Smith, mining expert from San Francisco arrived in this city last Thursday with the intention of going into the Bohemia mining district with the view of examining the Knotts property. However, when Mr. Smith reached here and learned the great depth of the snow at the present time in the Bohemias he decided to postpone his trip, and accordingly returned to San Francisco. As soon as the season opens he will again visit Cottage Grove and take up the work he has laid out.

G. A. R. Camp Fire.

The G. A. R. camp fire which was held in this city last Saturday was well attended considering the excellent farming weather, which had the effect to keep some of the old boys at home, who otherwise would have been in attendance. A splendid dinner had been prepared and the old soldiers and families had a most pleasant time.

HORRIBLE ACCIDENT.

Mrs. Ernest McReynolds Narrowly Escaped Death.

Wednesday morning a messenger arrived in this city, in quest Dr. Wall, stating that his services were needed at the home of Ernest McReynolds, seven miles south of this city; that Mrs. McReynolds had met with what might develop into a fatal burning accident.

Dr. Wall immediately started for the McReynolds home, and upon his return later in the day a Nugget man learned the following particulars.

It seems Mrs. McReynolds was quilting near the stove, standing with her back and side to the stove, when a spark ignited the lady's dress and in an instant she was enveloped in flames. Her screams brought help and finally the fire was subdued, but not until the lady was frightfully burned, from the right shoulder down her side and back, her arm being burned in a most shocking manner to the wrist, as well as a severe burn under the arm.

Upon Dr. Wall's arrival everything possible was done for the unfortunate lady and when he left she was resting as comfortably as could be expected. With careful nursing the doctor thinks Mrs. McReynolds will recover. Mrs. McReynolds is a daughter of Mr. Joe Powell of Coast Fork and is well known throughout this section. The many friends of the family will be pained to learn of the lamentable accident.
