BOHEMIA NOTES.

Devoted to Mines and Miners—A Nugget Correspondent's Batch of News.

It is reasonable to suppose that there can be but one Cripple creek to excite the mining world or that Colorado, Montana and California can be the only states that can produce rich mines in the same formation and character of fissure veins mineralogists and geologist have found essential in the requirements of permanent mines. Why cannot Bohemia with its once volcanic mountains which is penetrated with fissure veins and heavily impregnated with gold, silver, copper and lead, and has every feature of formation that proves permanency in Colorado's richest mines. It is safe to say that when one half the money has been spent developing the prospects of Bohemia that is spent in the remote districts hunting for quartz, or spent in other states for the same purpose, there will be many mines equally as rich and as famous as any of those that are the topic of the day in the mining circles, for future possibilities take this district comprising of over 30 square miles of Lane and Douglas counties, and which is as little known among mining men as any camp west of the Rockies and compare it with the famous Cripple creek, the gem of the gold producers of the union, which once was volcanoes and covered with surface lava, called andesite breccia or pudden stone, and is penetrated with gold bearing fissures. Cripple creek is not alone in the leading formations for Bohemia has just as good fissure veins penetrating porphyry, Igneous rock, lava, etc., and especially andesite of a decomposed nature, which has been the formation of some of the greatest mines ever discovered. Bohemia is among the highest peaks of the Calapooia ranges from 4000 to 7000 feet, connecting the Cascade range, and in line with the mother lode. The camp is practically a new one as far as development is concerned. What work has been done was very quietly and returned handsome profits. None of the mines are worked at a depth to exceed 400 feet while they showed marked improvements in size of ore bodies and values improved as depth was gained. The ore is porous and easily worked in most cases and is free milling, and in some cases it is heavy in copper, zinc and lead. Nearly all the ledge croppings of which there are thousands in the district carrying more or less gold values but in sinking or drifting the values increase with depth. It would be useless to describe the Bohemia district as it is without more space for no mining man who is used to the showings of other camps would believe one half of it. But had all the noted mines today been left in the hands of the prospectors with capital we would have no dividend paying mines, and that is where we stand today in Bohemia. The encouragements are far greater today for Bohemia than the Baker City district ever had and the mines there have proved rich without doubt. It might be well for Oregon capitalists to investigate their own fields who have been searching the remote corners and isolated regions of the far north hunting for mining investments. We also invite all capital who want gold mines to come to Bohemia and inspect the prospects that are daily discovered. It would beyond all doubt interest the most of them to see the large bodies of high grade ore, which can be bought from the prospector at good figures but when middle men get a hold of some of the prospects and expect to make $25,000 on a $5000 option it is not to be wondered that the camp is held back. This is not one case the writer refers to, but that has been the case all the way through. I advise all who want to buy to come to the owner direct, and save enough on the purchase price to develop the property into a high tone proposition. Cottage Grove is the gateway to the Bohemia mines.

One of the many discoveries of Bohemia that offers a promising future is that of the Laura group owned by the Le Roy Bros. in the Champion barin upon which they intend to do developing work as soon as supplies can be got in. It has all the features of a high grade property and will bear inspection.

Another rich strike in the last sixty days is the Grizzly Mountain Prospecting and Milling Company. They are rushing work with a small crew of five men getting out ore for a shipment. The ore runs high in copper and silver and about $8 in gold with 7 feet of ore in the base, all of the east drift which adds to the future of Bohemia.

The Pacific covers 68,000,000 miles, the Atlantic 30,000,000, and the Indian Ocean, Arctic and Antarctic 42,000,000. To stow away the contents of the Pacific it would be necessary to fill a tank one mile long, every day for 440 years. Put in figures, the Pacific holds in weight 948,000,000,000,000,000 tons. The Atlantic averages a depth of not quite three miles. Its waters weighs 325,000,000,000,000,000 tons, and a tank to contain it would have each of its sides 430 miles long. The figures of the other oceans are in the same startling proportions. It would take all the sea water in the world 2,000,000 years to flow over Niagara.

Whooping Cough.
I had a little boy who was nearly dead from an attack of whooping cough. My neighbors recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I did not think that any medicine would help him, but after giving him a few doses of that remedy I noticed an improvement, and one bottle cured him entirely. It is the best cough medicine I ever had in the house.—J. L. Moore, South Burgettstown, Pa. For sale by BEXSON DRUG CO, Cottage Grove, Joe Lyons, Drain, Druggists.

NOTICE.
Twenty-five thousand brick for sale. Bert Wood, Cottage Grove, Oregon.

Good authorities estimate that the late Mr. Flower's profits in the last 18 months in Wall street have exceeded $10,000,000. He has become in that time the acknowledged speculative leader in the financial markets of the United States.

The Calumet & Hecla copper mine at Houghton, Mich., is said to be netting over $1,000,000 monthly.

Rocky Gulch Mining Co. will hold their postponed January meeting on May 31. The run the past winter has been very satisfactory indeed.

AFTER MANY YEARS.

Two drummers met at the Hotel Sherwood on Friday last, joshed each other in a genial way, ate at the same table, listened to the same phonograph until 12 o'clock, ate at the same time and table next day, and sat down in the lobby of the hotel after dinner to enjoy a cigar and relate some of their experiences on the road.

Finally one of them spoke about the time he was a boy in a certain Indiana town; and the other knight of the grip exclaimed: "H—!! I was a boy in that town—what's yer name?"

"My name is Ogden, Harry Ogden."

"Yes? Well Holy Moses! My name is Fowler, Lew Fowler."

"Well I'll be d—!!! boys together!—where's Ben—?"

"In business in A—"

"Where is John H—?"

"Oh, he's in Texas."

"And where is Maggie—and Sarah—?"

"Married—both married."

And then those two drummers got mixed up into one of the most animated conversations over old times when they wore knee pants with the behind most end badly in need of repair, punched bull frogs with sharp sticks, got whipped by the same school teacher, and sucked eggs.

"Remember old Sollenger?" said one. "You bet I do; old saddle bags you mean?" "Yes; well one day I fixed one of those pointed things with paper on the end of it. Sollenger was sitting in front of his store with his feet propped up. I threw the pointed concern and it stuck in his shoe sole. Sollenger says to me: 'Come here and pull it out.' I walked up, and he kicked me about twenty-five feet out into the street."

"Train time says the clerk."

"Goodbye," says one. "I see you in S—" says the other, and the two men drifted apart again
