

COUNTY CONVENTION.

Of Lane County Sunday School.
Held at Pleasant Hill.

The following is a report of the Lane County Sunday School Association held at Pleasant Hill May 18 and 19:

The tenth annual convention of the Lane County Sunday School Association convened at Pleasant Hill May 18 and 19 was called to order by the president Mrs. Clara J. Bond of Irving. Mrs. Ella Benham being absent on account of sickness, Mr. Wm. M. Pitney was appointed secretary pro tem. A good substantial program was rendered. Most of the officers, and 36 delegates were present, ten being from Cottage Grove. Lane county is divided into six districts as follows: Junction City, Eugene, Springfield, Creswell, Cottage Grove and Siuslaw. Statements from the presidents of these districts were received, all of which were very encouraging and showed the work to be in a prosperous condition.

Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather and bad condition of the roads the convention was well attended and a great deal of zeal and enthusiasm for the work was manifested and everyone felt strengthened and encouraged to enter into the work with more enthusiasm than ever.

The president appointed the following committee: On credentials, D. Read, Evelyn L. Barton, L. N. Peck, who reported 36 delegates present. On finance, A. J. Zumwalt, Wm. M. Pitney, W. L. Wheeler. They reported the money on hand, and recommended that all schools in the county be urged to pay the 2 cents per capita of the average attendance for state, county and district work, and also that a collection be taken up to defray the expenses of the convention which was $4, carried. Collection $2.21.

Committee on nomination reported the following which was adopted: For president, Mrs. Clara Bond, Irving; vice president, Will Bristow, Creswell; secretary, Wm. Pitney, Junction City; treasurer, James S. Kelley, Pleasant Hill; district president, Eugene, Mrs. Mitchell; Cottage Grove, J. I. Jones; Springfield, R. G. Callison; Creswell, Mr. Burton; Junction City, O. Bennett; Siuslaw, F. E. Freemont.

Committee on resolutions submitted the following which was adopted. Resolved that we tender our thanks to the good people of Pleasant Hill for their words and acts of welcome. And be it further resolved that the Lane County Sunday School Association ever hold in remembrance the early pioneers of this vicinity and especially the name of the venerable patriarch Elijah Bristow who settled on this ground on which we now stand in 1846, and built the first house in Lane county, and who so kindly dedicated this ground to school and church purposes.

Resolved that we put forth a greater effort the coming year, and let our motto be, Lane county for Christ, and that the thanks of this convention is due Sister Clara J. Bond for her zeal and good work for the success of the Sunday school work in our county, and that these proceedings be sent to our county papers for publication.

All mines have a beginning, and all great mines are made—some faster than others, it is true; some require much more capital than others. The largest and most successful mines in the United States were small affairs in their early history Grants Pass Mining Journal.

Some newspaper men are terrible liars. In writing of a cyclone in the Middle West one of them said it turned a well inside out, a cellar upside down, moved a township line, blew all the staves out of a whisky barrel and left nothing but the bung hole, changed the day of the week; blew the hair off a bald headed man, blew the mortgage off a farm, blew all the cracks out of a fence, and knocked the wind out of the populists.—Ex.

Many old soldiers now feel the effects of hard service they endured during the war. Mr. Geo. S. Anderson, of Ross-ville, New York county, Penn., who saw the hardest kind of service at the front, is now frequently troubled with rheumatism. "I had a severe attack lately," he says, "and procured a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It did so much good that I would like to know what you would charge me for one dozen bottles." Mr. Anderson wanted it both for his own use and to supply it to his friends and neighbors, as every family should have a bottle of it in their home not only for rheumatism, but lame back, sprains, swellings, cuts, bruises and burns, for which it is unequalled. A POETIC KANSAN.

The Spring Poet Springth up Late in the Season.

The following is a poetic effort from the pen of T. A. Lewis, a Kansas man who has seen Oregon in the throes of winter:

Here is a fifty dollar capper
But I have not the cheek to ask it
And if it will not do for your paper
I know it will do for your basket.

I love to ramble in the wood
In the springtime of the year
To see the elephant chew his cud
And snuff the Oregon air.

The rising sun o'er Jefferson's peak
With glorious light was gilding
Grouse were plenty so to speak
But cougars and bears were hiding.

The kinds of game we have are many
The sportsman to amuse
But of giraffs we have not any
And we are out of kangeroos.

The trout within the brooks
Glide swift a silver dart
And safe from either line or hooks
Defy the anglers art.

There are some fish at Yaquina bay
But they mostly stay in water
And they are hard to catch, they say
As a wealthy farmers daughter.

The scenery here is grand
It is beautiful I repeat
With mountains rising on every hand
And webs growing on our feet.

Oh! What do you think of Oregon weather
With its months of mist and rain?
I think if my toes don't grow together

I will go back to Kansas again.
KANSAS.

AGUINALDO'S OPINION.

Baltimore American.
"Good morning Mr. Aguinaldo"
"Morning! but you'll have to excuse me, I'm busy running."
"It is reported that you want to sue for peace"
"Well I would like to get a chance to sit down and talk it all over with somebody."

"Do you think terms could be arranged, Mr. Aguinaldo?"

"I wouldn't care so much about that part of it, but I could get my second wind."

"What is your cross-country record, now, Mr. Aguinaldo?"

"Well, with a running start, I've covered a mile in three minutes flat. I can dogtrot it all day, though, at a pretty fast clip. I expect to make a great deal of money out of a six-days-go-as-you-please some time in the muddy future."

"What do you think of wireless telegraphy?"

"It doesn't interest me at all. What I want some genius to do is to invent some fightless Americans, so that I may enjoy a runless rest. Pardon me; there's Brigadier-General Fuston coming down the pike with fireworks in his whiskers, and he's yelling like a circus calliope. I am wanted in the next country. Good morning!"
"Good morning, Mr. Aguinaldo!"

COMPUTATION.

Probably our great ancestor, Adam, little thought of the trouble he would cause posterity by eating an apple. But now the question as to how many apples he really did eat is a new difficulty. How many apples did Adam and Eve eat? Was it one or was it millions? When the subject was first mooted, the editor very naturally replied,

"Why, one, of course."
"No," said the assistant editor, "Eve ate one and Adam ate one too, that's 2."

Then the sub-editor passed along a slip of paper, on which was written, "Eve 81, and Adam 81, making 162."

But the poet, who is a man of imagination, capped this with "Eve 81 and Adam 812, making 893."

Then the publisher tried his hand and his contribution was, "Eve 8142 see how it tasted, and Adam 81,242 keep her company, 16,284."

Then the humorist, who had been listening quietly, handed in his contribution, "Eve: 8142 see how it tasted, and Adam 8124, 210-der a husband was he to see her eat alone. This makes 8,132,362."

"But he had another object," said the poet. "Eve 8142 satisfy her curiosity, and Adam 8,124,240-ly Eve in her position. That makes 82,132,382."

The Oregonian.—

And the Bohemia Nugget for $2 per year, cash in advance. This is without doubt the greatest clubbing offer offered by Oregon newspapers today. The Oregonian is without doubt excelled by none, in point of news both local and foreign, is a clear print, and besides has that great redeeming feature, devoid of sensational and disgusting literature. Remember the two papers, the Weekly Oregonian and your home paper the Bohemia Nugget for $2.
