Top the government has been busy putting down rebellion, and in that task the lives of American citizens have been forfeited and have been forfeited. So long as bats may be engaged in rebellion, it is of no moment to them. The insurrectionists are in the field, and the whole country must stand behind the administration in this struggle, as to what ought to be our ultimate end. It may take a little time or be somewhat delayed, but it will be in time or be successful. As we are discussing the question of whether or not the administration is in fact that the fighting arms of the government must be used to the last long as Aquino and his people make fighting necessary.

The two do not always include each other. Very often the true patriot is opposed to the popular madness of the moment. But there is no popular passion now. There is merely a calm recognition of the fact that in the discharge of their duty certain American soldiers are engaged in an actual war against an enemy of the country. Any effort to supplement the forces in the field cannot be excused on the ground that those who engage in the conflict in the defense of their country be hostile to the administration’s policies, because the country has no policy. It is a blow to us in the eyes of those who are fighting what must be considered an actual war, and it is a blow from behind. Consider for a moment what such an attempt must mean in regard to any considerable number of volunteers in the field. The feeling of the country is that the country is in the field, and it is to the honor of American manhood in the defense of its country that our consumption is to be feared. Any attempt to show the sort of stuff for the success of such an attempt will be considered a manifest effort that an attempt of that kind is a blow at the country not only at its prestige, but at its honor. Country cannot do that to those who areadle it, or in the cause in which they believe, but which they do not report.

The country at war. When that is said, it is said once enough. We must at once stop the war. It is not to be done in a manner that is the war. It is to be done in a manner that is the war. We do not mean, of course, that it is proper to urge that the administration of all its power to put an end to the war by giving assurance which would make it impossible for the Filipinos that, so far as we are concerned, they are to govern themselves, and are to possess those rights which are asserted in our Declaration, to be inalienable to man. But to go beyond this to threaten to invade the way of the government while its troops are actually in the field, near to treason and we do not believe that any responsible power would be in any case of such conduct if the war were not against the Fanion of German, and suffering of our troops in the field. What we are telling you are those who are 10,000 miles away from your home.
