NEW DEWEY STORY.
 The Famous Admiral Nearly Started Another War with Mexico.

"In May, 1875, Admiral Dewey was commander of the old Narragansett," said Lieutenant Winslow. "And he was looking out surveying the Gulf of California and the shores of the coast of the peninsula. It was not long after the Virginia affair at Santiago, and the feeling toward the Mexicans and Cubans was none too cordial. The Narragansett reached La Paz, near the southern end of the peninsula, and we sooner got ashore than we heard that an American mining engineer and some Englishmen who owned the mine were prisoners in their mining shafts. Forty miles back of La Paz, in the mountains. The American had rescued an insult, a quarrel followed, and the American killed two Mexicans. The friends of the latter swore they'd kill the Yankee and the Englishmen, too, and the latter were soon obliged to barricade themselves. This stage had been on for several days when we stepped ashore."
 "As soon as Commander Dewey heard of it he was very much interested. The next day he sent a messenger to the Mexican colony in La Paz, who had aarrison of 500 soldiers there, asking him what he was going to do to give the American a trial before he was shot."
 "Oh, he got into the trouble-let him get out," said the Mexican.
 "Commander Dewey didn't like this reply, and the more he thought about it the angrier he got. The next forenoon he sent a note to the Mexican Colonel telling him that an American citizen's life was in danger, and that the man was entitled to a fair trial. He told the colonel that he would allow him just twenty-four hours to rescue the American and protect the Englishmen. If at the end of that time relief was not on its way to the little mining party he would bombard La Paz and burn it."
 "When we heard what Dewey had done we were all frightened."
 "Does he mean it? we asked one another.
 "As for myself, I was soon satisfied that he meant every word of it. I was in command of the guns. We had only two old howitzers on the Narragansett, the larger guns having been left temporarily at the Mare Island navy yard.
 "Get those howitzers ready for tomorrow morning and inspect all the small arms and ammunition," said Dewey to me. Then he called the men to quarters and estimated that of the crew of about 120 we could land ninety able, armed men as a storming force. We drilled the men all that afternoon and far into the night. That night, on Commander Dewey's order, we steamed to a point commanding the principal streets of La Paz and trained the howitzers on the town. By next morning we were all ready to begin a second war against Mexico.
 "At daybreak a Mexican corporal came on board with a message from his colonel saying that the Narragansett commander's request would be complied with. Early that morning we watched 300 armed Mexican soldiers start for the mining camp, and we kept the old howitzers trained on La Paz till the soldiers returned with the American engineer. When Dewey reported to Washington on the matter he minimized the importance of it, and it was passed over as a mere incident. Lieutenants Harris and Wright were on the Narragansett then, and Harris, at least, was with the fleet at Manila. It is somewhat singular that at that time, when we were expecting a declaration of war against Spain on account of the Virginius affair, Commander Dewey had his plans all made to sail the Narragansett to Manila."

Calve as a Gardener.
 Mlle. Emma Calve is probably the only great prima donna who combines farming with her brilliant operatic achievements. She has a large farm at Cevennes, and rusticates there each summer.
 Last summer the famous singer went into her kitchen garden and cared for her own vegetables. No one was allowed to touch them, and the results were far better than when her gardener cared for the things. Mlle. Calve wore a short skirt of the blue jeans, buttons and a thin shirt waist. She spaded and hoed and watered her vegetables day after day, and proudly sent gifts of the finest fruits of her labors to friends in Paris.
 The prima donna was very ill and nervous when she went to Cevennes, but this free, open-air life and the vigorous exercise soon restored her to the most robust health, and when friends ask her the secret of her cure she answers: "Spades and potatoes."
 Mlle. Calve's chickens also come in for some of her attention, but the garden is her chief delight. -Philadelphia Post.

 Many are the efforts that have been made to build a bicycle stand, but as long as the "bike" is suffered to rest on both its wheels it necessarily occupies more room than is at the disposal of persons living in moderate-sized houses. An effort to deal with this

STERLING ELLIOTT'S BICYCLE STAND.
 A problem has been recently made by Sterling Elliott of Newton, Mass., who is the recognized head of the League of American Wheelmen. Because of his familiarity with all phases of bicycle matters he is eminently fitted to deal with the problem. Mr. Elliott has lately been granted a patent for a stand which permits the storing of a wheel in the least possible floor area. The economy of space is secured by placing the bicycle on end—that is, resting alone on the rear wheel, which is accomplished by the aid of two wall supports, each adapted to receive and hold the rim of a wheel. In order to make the bicycle absolutely secure a metal loop is hinged on the top one of these supports and after the wheel has been placed in position the loop is dropped over the front wheel, engaging it firmly.

 plates the use of two hooks overhanging the eaves of the roof such as are now used, but instead of supporting the scaffold direct from these, as at present, they are made to support a rail of sufficient length to take in a front of average width. A chair or two chairs, one below the other, is suspended from this, and two or three ropes within easy reach of the workman permit him to move himself to any particular spot desired without leaving his seat.

Mark Twain and General Sherman.
 Some man who wants to spoil a good story has raised a direct issue of veracity between Mark Twain and the late General William T. Sherman. Mark Twain, in the published accounts of his recent interview with Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria, makes the emperor offer, after Twain had apologized for forgetting his German oration, to translate it for him from English into German. General Sherman, on the other hand, in the diary of his trip to Austria in 1872, has Francis Joseph apologizing because he is unable to speak English.

She retained all her faculties up to a fortnight before her death.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.
 As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces, such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co., Testimonials free.
 Sold by Druggists, price 75c. per bottle. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Hon. Judson W. Lyons, Register of the Treasury.
 April 23d, 1899.

Pe-ru-na Drug Mfg Co., Columbus, O.
 Gentlemen—I find Pe-ru-na to be an excellent remedy for the catarrhal affections of spring and summer, and those who suffer from depression from the heat of the summer will find no remedy the equal of Pe-ru-na.
 Judson W. Lyons.
 No man is better known in the financial world than Judson W. Lyons. His name on every piece of money of recent date, makes his signature one of the most familiar ones in the United States. Hon. Lyons address is Augusta, Ga. He is a member of the National Republican Committee, and is a prominent and influential politician. He is a particular friend of President McKinley.

Remember that cholera morbus, cholera infantum, summer complaint, bilious colic, diarrhoea and dysentery are each and all catarrh of the bowels. Catarrh is the only correct name for these affections. Pe-ru-na is an absolute specific for these ailments, which are so common in summer. Dr. Hartman, in a practice of over forty years, never lost a single case of cholera infantum, dysentery, diarrhoea, or cholera morbus, and his only remedy was Pe-ru-na. Those desiring further particulars should send for a free copy of "Summer Catarrh." Address Dr. Hartman, Columbus, O.
