BOHEMIA NOTES.

Devoted to Mines and Miners---A Nugget Correspondent's Batch of News.

July 16 1899.

EDITOR NUGGET: On the last day of June I left Cottage Grove for a look at the Bohemia mines. Eight of us took passage on the stage line owned by C. M. Henderer & Co. Four spanking good horses drew us at a good rate of speed over a nice country road. We arrived at Wildwood, 18 miles from Cottage Grove, where we had dinner—and such a dinner—fit for a king. This is a noted stopping place on the road to the mines. It is kept by a man of the name of Kerr and twenty five cents paid the bill. I have traveled up and down the Willamette valley a good many times but I never ate a better country dinner than I got at Wildwood. From Cottage Grove to Wildwood the road runs through a nice farming country.

Fine old orchards, rank wheat and oat fields abound. Good farm houses and barns are the rule. Neat school houses appear at intervals of a few miles, where you see some of the healthiest, happiest looking children on the face of earth. From Wildwood on up the valley to the warehouse the mountains shut in and nature begins to take on a wilder mood, farms disappear, but magnificent forests of yellow fir take their place.

We arrived at the warehouse at about 6 o'clock and oh, so hungry! This is an old stopping place at the foot of the mountains and is kept by Mr. Boren and wife. Such clever old people who do everything possible to make their guests comfortable. We had venison for supper, and I assure you I ate my share of it. I can say truly to the public that this is a good house kept by a good old fashioned couple. Next morning at six o'clock we were out on the road up the mountain. One would suppose from the way the road winds around that the builders of it had followed some huge serpents trail. Four miles up the mountain we arrived at the first "switch back" 3260 feet above sea level. From there on the grade is steep and winding until you arrive at the Ridge hotel presided over by the genial "Joe Cole the good old soul." This is merely a private stopping place built for Mr. Cole's private use where he keeps feed for his own men and freight teams, but there is no use for anyone giving the cold shoulder to the Ridge hotel. No one need go by Joe Cole's place hungry. I have been the guest of Mr. Cole now two weeks and have spent the time in hunting fishing and climbing great snow banks. The climbing has been a success but as for hunting and fishing I refuse to answer any questions unless so ordered by the court. In this connection I might say that I was on the identical spot where Mr. Alf Walker of Cottage Grove saw a weasel catching red side trout. I saw no weasel, neither did I see any red side trout, mind you I am not contradicting Mr. Walker's statement. The trouble was that I was not at the spot at the right time to see the weasel catch the big red side trout.

I took lunch up on a great snow bank on the Fourth of July, where in the evening I could see the Stars and Stripes float from the summit of Fairview mountain which is one of the highest peaks in Bohemia.

I have now been to most of the mines where everything is pushing ahead. The Noonday is putting in a new tramway. The Helena mine is taking out ore and rushing up a stamp mill.

In fact all the mines show activity and push. I have been over to Sharp's creek where I met Johnny—an assayer, I ran onto his office by chance. I found him not only an assayer but a geologist also. He has a great collection of mineral specimens and he told me the different names of the different kinds of rock. One pile he told me was "Protoxide of Hydrogen" another he called a "Sulphate of Magnesia" this said he is "an ox hide" of Mercury. I suppose he has the district down pat and as he told me he was going to write up the Bohemia district. I shall leave it to him.

As for myself I shall be satisfied with my trip though I find no ledge of gold bearing rock for I have been out two weeks and have seen nature in its wildest form. The mosquitoes are about to eat me up.

Yours,
"JEEMS POLK."
An old pioneer.

TEACHERS INSTITUTE.

Eugene, Oregon, July 14, 1899.

The Annual County Normal Institute will convene at 9 o'clock, July 31, 1899, at the court house, Eugene, Oregon, and will continue five days, viz: July 31, August 1, 2, 3, and 4.

Professor C. W. Durette, of Portland, will have charge of geography, history, physiology and mental arithmetic.

Superintendent E. D. Ressler will give the work in language, reading, orthography and arithmetic.

Arrangements have been made to have lectures and talks by such prominent educators as Professors Hawthorne and Young of the university, senator B. F. Mulkey, of Monmouth, and others.

The morning sessions will be devoted to class work, and the afternoon sessions to talks on school management and discussions. All the late decisions on the new school law will be explained and discussed.

The afternoon of Wednesday, August 2, will be flag day. The institute will be addressed by speakers selected by the G. A. R., on the subject of "Patriotism in our Public Schools."

Thursday afternoon will be school officers' day. All school officers are urged to be present and take part in the discussion.

The instructors are among the best in our state. Professor Durette's good work last year is known to the teachers of Lane county.

Superintendent E. D. Ressler is known to be one of the most enthusiastic and interesting institute workers in Oregon.

Teachers, it rests with you whether you are profited by this institute or not. The law contemplates that every teacher shall attend and assist in the work of these institutes. We hope the teachers of Lane county will come cheerfully and regularly; so make the work interesting and profitable.

A cordial invitation is extended to every teacher, school officer and friend of education to be present and take part in the exercises.

W. M. MILLER,
School Superintendent Lane County

WANT TO COME IN A BODY.

The following dispatch from Bebee under date of July 23, signifies that the boys are not inappreciative of the honor Oregon would confer on her soldiers.

Portland, Or., July 23.—The latest news concerning the prospect of the volunteers coming to Portland in a body is contained in the following telegram, which was received by Judge Northup yesterday, and which is self-explanatory:

"General Shafter is away, and I cannot arrange in regard to the men retaining their arms after reaching Portland until after his return on Monday. General Summers is desirous of bringing the regiment in a body to Portland. I am quite confident that all will go. Date for muster out is fixed for August 7. I think that the sentiment to proceed to Portland in a body is strong among the men.

Boyd gallery will be closed August 3, for two weeks.
