Photographer Says Red Excites Human Beings as Well as Animals.

Why does the bull so strongly object to a red rag? While the professional physiologists do not, as yet, appear to have found any satisfactory explanation of the fact, a French manufacturer of photographic materials professes to have discovered that bulls are by no means the only members of the animal kingdom who are excited by anything red. A large number of hands are employed in the manufactory, both male and female, and most of the work has hitherto been performed in rooms which all the light that was admitted passed through panes of red glass. One day passed without some terrible disturbance taking place among the work people. Now it was a duel almost to the death between two of the men, now between two of the women; sometimes the melee was general. Workshop regulations were absolutely ignored and no amount of fines or other punishments seemed to have any permanent or deterrent effect. This state of affairs was assumed, until recently, to be inseparable from work carried on in uncomfortable conditions. At length it occurred to some bright spirit that the red panes of glass might be at fault, and it was decided to try what the effect of green panes would be. The effect was instantaneous. From that day a sudden peace fell upon the whole workshop that had never been known before. Bickering and fighting ended as if by enchantment, and the voice of man or woman was never raised above a whisper.—New York Press.

LAW AS INTERPRETED.

In determining whether or not a person is a habitual criminal under a statute making him such after two former imprisonments for felony it is held in State vs. Martin (Ohio), 43 L. R. A. 94, that imprisonment terminated by unconditional pardon cannot be counted.

The serious conflict of authority on the duty of land-owners to keep premises safe is considered in Ritz vs. Wheeling (W. Va.), 43 L. R. A. 148, in which it is held that there is no such duty toward trespassers even if they are children, and that negligence to create a right of action in their favor must be so gross as to amount to a wanton injury.

But the limitation of a general ticket for passage on a railroad to the day on which it is sold is held, in Louisville and Nashville Railway Company vs. Turner (Tenn.), 43 L. R. A. 140, to be invalid, unless there is an express contract to that effect, based upon a consideration, or an alternative given to the purchaser to have a full and unlimited ticket.

One who gets upon a train with a ticket which he knows does not, upon his face, entitle him to passage, because the time for which it purports to be valid has expired, is held, in Trezona vs. Chicago Great Western Railway Company (Iowa), 43 L. R. A. 136, to have no right to recover damages for being ejected, if he refuses to pay fare, although he thinks the time limitation unreasonable.

The first attempt to subject life-insurance policies to taxation was defeated in State Board of Tax Commissioners vs. Holliday (Ind.), 42 L. R. A. 823, where paid-up or non-forfeitable and partly paid-up life-insurance policies were assessed, but the Court held that the existing statutes, though providing for the taxation of all property not expressly exempted, did not provide any special regulations for the valuation of this peculiar kind of property.

What His Lordship Desires.

Genius has always been associated with carelessness in dress and very frequently ludicrous mistakes happen. Lord Rosse, who built the famous telescope that bears his name, was an expert mechanic and was also somewhat careless about his dress.

On one occasion the earl was looking through the engine room of a large manufactory. He suddenly became interested in something he saw and, taking out his watch, stood looking from it to the machine with a peculiar smile on his face.

The engineer came along. "Well, what's up?" he growled. "What are you grinning at? What have you to say about that?"

"Oh," answered Lord Rosse, "I am not finding fault. I am calculating how long before the boiler explodes."

"Boiler explodes? Why, you're crazy, man! You get out of this."

"Well," said the earl, "if you work ten minutes longer with that screw loose the boiler will certainly explode."

The engineer looked at the screw indicated, jumped at it and fastened it as soon as he could.

"Why didn't you say that sooner?" he demanded.

"Why should I?" answered Lord Rosse, "I never yet had an opportunity of seeing a boiler explode."

Legal determination of what constitutes a spendthrift is likely to come out of a suit over a will in Chicago. T. W. T. Palmer, who was left an income of $20,000 by the will of his mother, Mrs. Benedict, is suing for the estate, valued at some $300,000; and the trustees allege that he is a spendthrift because he spent $100,000 in two years, and offer to prove that he lost $50,000 in three months on the New York Stock Exchange. Whether losing money in this way makes a man a spendthrift will then be left for the jury to determine.

Miss Susan Wymar, teacher in the Richmond school, Chicago, Ill., writes the following letter to Dr. Hartman regarding Per-u-na. She says: "Only those who have suffered as I have, can know what a blessing it is to be able to find relief in Per-u-na. This has been my experience. A friend in need is a friend indeed, and every bottle of Per-u-na I ever bought proved a good friend to me."—Susan Wymar.

Mrs. Margaretha Dauben, 1214 North Superior St., Racine City, Wis., writes: "I feel so well and good and happy now that pen cannot describe it. Per-u-na is everything to me. I have taken several bottles of Per-u-na for female complaint. I am in the change of life and it does me good." Per-u-na has no equal in all of the irregularities and emergencies peculiar to women caused by pelvic catarrh.

Remember that cholera morbus, cholera infantum, summer complaint, bilious colic, diarrhoea and dysentery are each and all catarrh of the bowels. Catarrh is the only correct name for these affections. Per-u-na is an absolute specific for these ailments, which are so common in summer. Dr. Hartman, in a practice of over forty years, never lost a single case of cholera infantum, dysentery, diarrhoea, or cholera morbus, and his only remedy was Per-u-na. Those desiring further particulars should send for a free copy of "Summer Catarrh." Address Dr. Hartman, Columbus, O.
