BOHEMIA NOTES.

MUSICK MINE, Aug. 11, 1899.

In coming into the Bohemia mining district, from Cottage Grove last Monday, the writer enjoyed a ride that shall be fresh in his memory for "many moons." Shortly before 7 o'clock that morning the stage, drawn by four well groomed and spirited horses from the well known Fashion Stables, presided over by Ed Patterson, the junior member of the firm, wheeled down to the Hotel Sherwood, where the baggage and freight going to the mines was put aboard. A short stop at the post office for the Bohemia and way mail, which by the way has increased wonderfully this year, was made, then the passengers climbed aboard and we were off for the gold fields of Lane and Douglas counties.

Only three passengers were aboard Monday, Mr. Frank Jordan, who has the gold fever to some extent, and who is now hard at work developing something alleged to be way up yonder in richness, Mr. Shelley and your humble servant.

The road is an exceedingly good one and in point of scenic production the last 20 miles is certainly hard to surpass. We arrived at the red bridge at 11:30 o'clock, 20 miles from Cottage Grove. Here we partook of an excellent dinner at the well known stopping house of Mr. Burnett. The roads split here, one crossing Row river leading to the Musick mine, the other extending on and terminating at the Noonday mine.

The ride up the mountain is one of interest to the lover of scenery, from beginning to end. This grade is an exceedingly good one, the road is smooth and one can hardly imagine, upon gaining the ridge which has an altitude of about 5,550, that the 6 mile grade can be followed with so little effort by the horses. It is a slow trip to be sure, the time consumed in going up this six miles of mountain road being about four hours.

We cross and commence the descent upon the saddle between the lofty peaks Fairview and Bohemia. As we turn over and down the mountain the Musick mine stamp mill greets the eye and the sound of machinery startles the ear.

Musick mill is situated about 1500 feet below the summit of Bohemia mountain. From this view you can look up to the rocky peak of Bohemia to your right, and towering old Fairview to your left.

Mr. I. H. Bingham the superintendent of the Musick sustains his town reputation as one of the jolliest entertainers in the diggings, and nothing is too good for the many visitors to the camp. The mill is running day and night, not an hour in the 24 being lost. Some 40 men are now steadily employed and every man has a good word for the mine and its management.

Your correspondent had the pleasure of going through the mines the other day and to a tender-foot it is a marvel.

Over at the Helena the new 10 stamp mill is going up with a rush and in a short time the Musick and Helena mills will exchange courtesies through the medium of steam whistles. The Stock & Harlow 5 stamp mill, by the way the first mill brought in here, is running right along on ore from Zinaker & Graber's famous mine, the Vesuvius, now bonded for $35,000. The boys have just struck another rich lead which is paying big, and before the expiration of the bond they will add several thousand dollars to their already liberally filled sack.

The boys are hard workers and certainly deserve the good luck which seems to be hovering near them.

I was over to the Brund, Getys and Knowles property the other day, these gentlemen are doing some substantial work upon their Sweep-stake claim, and their prospects are very bright. I had the pleasure of taking dinner at the home of Mr. Brund, presided over by his very estimable daughter who came in from their former home, on the Siuslaw river some two weeks since, and I assure you I sat down to a meal fit for a king. In the afternoon Mr. Brund and Mr. Getys invited me to join in a hunt down the canyon, and the result was a fine two-point buck, which fell before the unerring aim of Chas. Getys. The "unerring" part of it however, was in the tenth or twelfth shot.

The diggings are full of prospectors and visitors, and the day is rapidly approaching when Bohemia, grand old mountain, will warm the imposing frown into a pleasant smile which will flash down upon one of the busiest mining camps in the Pacific Northwest, and, per chance, a famous summer resort. I know of no place where I would sooner spend a few weeks of recreation than here among the "crags and peaks" of the Cascades. Among those visiting here are Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Jones, Miss Laura Jones, who so successfully edits the Drain Watchman, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Boyd, Mrs. Benham and daughter Josie, Rev. and Mrs. M. O. Brink, and Mr. Wm. Lundy of Myrtle Point, Mr. C. H. Burkholder of the well known firm of Hemenway and Burkholder of your city, arrived Thursday night in company with Al White. With these gentlemen came Messrs. Hart and Boyd two mining experts from the famous Colorado Cripple Creek country. They come to look into the merits of Mr. White's properties, and ostensibly to make inquiries relative to the camp in general. The gentlemen are said to be very favorably impressed, and it is alleged that if their report is favorable to Bohemia, next year will see hundreds of mining men with capital in here.

Capital is what is needed here and prospectors realize it. So the sooner it comes the better for all parties concerned.

U. S. Deputy Marshal Morse came in Wednesday and at some ones instigation took out a number of the Helena boys including two of the owners, Messrs. James and Dick Jennings. It is said that a warrant was issued charging them with interfering with a U. S. mineral surveyor. In the eyes of those best acquainted with Helena affairs, it is generally conceded that it is a farce from start to finish, and that the tax payers will soon become tired of the muss, for which in the eyes of the conservative, there is no occasion.

Mrs. Eugene Chase wife of one of the Musick mine men, accompanied by her two children arrived here Wednesday evening.
