BOHEMIA NOTES.

Devoted to Mines and Miners—A Nugget Correspondent's Batch of News.

Alf Walker has been in the hills the last week doing his assessment work on his Fairview property.

The J. E. Young property is coming to the front rapidly. Cabins and tunnel houses are being erected and development work of a substantial nature is being planned.

John and Felix Curriu on Horse Heaven are doing some extensive drifting on their property with exceedingly good results.

Ely and Pearson are into some fine milling ore, and the property is highly spoken of.

J. D. Fletcher returned to camp last Monday after a short visit in your city. S. E. Holderman and Norman Hickey are doing some thorough development work on Mr. Fletcher's property.

Peterson & Cluekey have struck some fine ore on their property on the east side of Fairview.

The Grizzly group—Klophenstein, Byrne & Johnson—an interest of which was recently sold to English capitalists, is now undergoing development work, under the supervision of Fred Byrne. It is understood that active operations will be conducted on this property throughout the winter.

The recent rich strikes at the Ridge are still attracting much attention and new prospectors are coming in each week. It is said that Messrs Brooks & Scott will make arrangements to put in a mill this fall.

The Grouse mountain Mining and Milling Company, a close corporation, incorporated by Jack Klophenstein, B. E. Hawley and Henry Johnson is now in shape to take on active development. The locations were made last year, but only surface work was done. This year a comfortable cabin has been erected 16x40 feet, and now the owners are ready to commence two tunnels the work on which will be carried on the greater part of the winter.

Deputy U. S. Mineral Surveyor W. F. Briggs of Canyonville, who has been employed in the Bohemia district for the last two months returned to his home last Friday. Mr Briggs has done some extensive underground and surface work for the Musick Mining and Milling Company while in the district and his draft sheets show up his work in a very commendable manner. He has a very complete map of the tunnels, shafts, ore schutes, and stooping of the Defiance and California claims of the company, which are of great interest to anyone interested in mines.

The new store building at the Musick is now completed, and it is said a stock of goods will be put in right away.

The public schools of this city will commence the second Monday in October.

Prof Kendall is off for a few weeks visit to points down the valley.

Tom Smith came down from Bohemia the first of the week.

Newt Jones visited Springfield Monday.

Mrs Jane Emerson returned last week from Shoestring after a week's visit.

Mrs Mary Hawley and son Frankie visited at Lorane Wednesday.

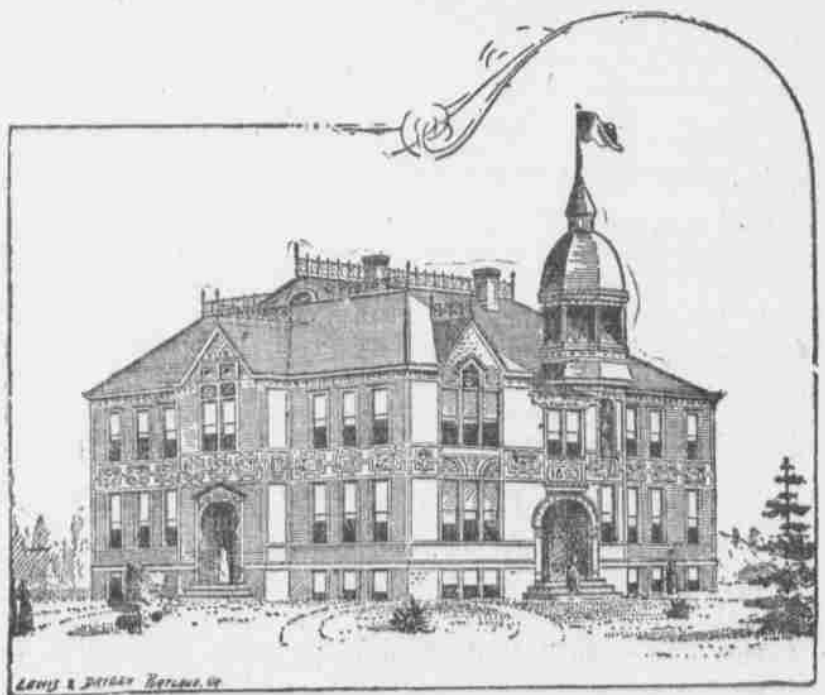

Misses Lulu Curriu and Ermine Veatch left Sunday for Eugene where they will attend the U of O.

Frank McFarland and C F Cathcart made a trip to Lorane Wednesday.

Albert White came down from Bohemia Tuesday and visited Eugene Wednesday on business.

Professor F A Farris, a phrenologist of almost national reputation has been giving some interesting lectures and readings at Martin's hall this week.

F J Hard and J I Jones visited Bohemia this week.
