

OF SOME GREAT LEADERS

Comparison of Kaiser, Kitchener, Chamberlain, Rhodes.

The eye as indicating a man's mental character is a fact that all men of recent times have been agreed with what is called the "big eye."

The penetrative eye is invariably a characteristic of the man born to exercise immense influence over his fellows.

where you will among the ranks of modern men who wield great power, the beholder above all others—bright, keen, generally "knowing"—that, with a glance, reckons one to the last gramme of merit and seems to see one's very thoughts.

You can't bamboozle an eye like that; you can't throw figurative dust in its way or "bounce" it would just go at you and its X-rays would penetrate the cloak of sham and show you your true worth.

Such an eye is possessed by Mr. Chamberlain. "But let me look at him," he remarked of an influentially placed applicant for an appointment.

Mr. Chamberlain trusts his eyes. He would doubt the word of a man whose eyes are as keen as his own sword blade.

A young man known to the writer once had occasion to particularly notice that eye, and I'd rather face the flash of guns than go through the experience again.

Everybody has heard of Mr. Chamberlain's eye—and his eyeglass. There is something very "deep" and mysterious in the appearance of that famous eye.

A clever man, indeed, is he who could fathom Mr. Chamberlain's meaning by studying his eyes. In his eyes they are not "the windows of the soul"—he never allows them to give him away."

On one occasion requires that same eye to flash in a way that is positively disconcerting. A radical M. P. had a lively encounter with Mr. Chamberlain in the early part of the present session and in telling the story the radical M. P.—who is of a rather timorous disposition—declared that "Chamberlain's glance of indignation fairly bit me."

This is an eloquent tribute to the Birmingham member's eye power. A writer tells how on one occasion he saw the Kaiser riding at the head of his suite and magnificent guards along the den Linden, Berlin.

The Emperor's face was a study. Hard, remorseless, terribly determined, it was a face that one could never forget. And the eyes—those wonderful eyes—glittered in it like burnished steel.

He would be a brave man who dared to say "No" to the Kaiser.

SIR ALFRED MILNER.
Governor of the Cape, He Has Had Dealings with Oom Paul.

One of the ablest of England's colonial governors is Sir Alfred Milner, of Cape Colony, South Africa, who succeeded Lord Rosmead in 1897, and who has figured very favorably in the negotiations with Oom Paul over the grievances of the uitlanders in the Transvaal republic.

Sir Alfred began life as a journalist, being the right-hand man at one time of William T. Stead, of the Pall Mall Gazette. For three years he aided in the management of the finances of Egypt, and returned to England to become the Chairman of the Board of Inland Revenue—the chief tax gatherer in the empire.

In 1885 he ran for a seat in the British Parliament as a Gladstonian, but was defeated. Sir Alfred was born in Wurtemberg, Germany, and received his earlier training in German schools. He is said to be the finest English scholar that the University of Oxford has turned out in many years. He is an imperialist and intensely patriotic.

Creeping Numbness is a Danger Signal

Mr. G. H. Snyder, a well known citizen of Lawrence, Kan., said: "I am now seventy years of age. About three years ago I experienced a creeping numbness in the feet, then creeping up my legs, until it reached my body. I grew very thin, lost my appetite and I did not retain my food. At last I became unable to move about. I consulted several distinguished physicians, one telling me I had locomotor ataxia, another that I had creeping paralysis. I took their medicines but continued to grow worse. Almost a year ago a friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Before I had finished my first box I found they were benefiting me. I used twelve boxes in all, and was perfectly cured. Although it is six months since I used my last pill there has been no recurrence of the disease."—From Lawrence Journal.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are never sold by the dozen or hundred, but always in packages. At all druggists or direct from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., 50 cents per box, 6 boxes $2.50.

Wronged.
"Every man," shouted the orator, "has his price!"
"You're a darn liar," said the member from Walyang, in an undertone.
"My price is only $100, and I ain't got it yet."—Chicago Times-Herald.

Largest Alphabet.
The Tartaran alphabet contains 202 letters being the longest in the world. Some of these are really symbols to represent phrases and emotions.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

It is estimated that 40,000 Americans went to Europe this summer.

The finest looking people of Europe are said to be the Tzigares, or gypsies, of Hungary. Physically they are splendid specimens of men and women and are rarely ill. So pure is their blood that their wounds quickly heal without the application of medicaments.

Bridget's Mistake.

An Irish lady, having had a few hot words with her husband one day, had occasion a few moments after to send her servant for some fish for dinner.
"Bridget," said the mistress, "go down to the town at once and get me a plaice."
"Indeed, an' I will, ma'am," said Bridget; "and I may as well get wan for meself, for I can't stand the masher no more than yerself."—Spare Moments.

Dewey Celebration.
Americans are quick to appreciate merit. The Dewey celebrations prove that, and it is again forcibly demonstrated in the praise and coincidence which is accorded Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, one of the most meritorious remedies ever compounded for indigestion, constipation, dyspepsia, biliousness, liver or kidney disease or any trouble arising from a weak stomach.

Feeling the Public.
"I'm about bashed in the matter of curiosities," mused the owner of a small store. "It's a bad habit—this idea of drawing trade by making a museum of the window, but I can't stop now—business won't allow it."

A few hours later the soda water trade was rushing. The crowd outside the window gazed until it was thirsty at the remarkable bird that hung in a big cage. The card attached bore a handful of the alphabet hysterically put together and designed for a scientific name. After it were the words: "From Samoa."

A few days later the "curiosity" was feeding in the back yard with the rest of the bantam hens.—Detroit Free Press.

An Excellent Combination.

The pleasant method and beneficial effects of the well known remedy, SYRUP OF FIGS, manufactured by the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO., illustrate the value of obtaining the liquid laxative principles of plants known to be medicinally laxative and presenting them in the form most refreshing to the taste and acceptable to the system. It is the one perfect strengthening laxative, cleansing the system effectually, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers gently yet promptly and enabling one to overcome habitual constipation permanently. Its perfect freedom from every objectionable quality and substance, and its acting on the kidneys, liver and bowels, without weakening or irritating them, make it the ideal laxative.

In the process of manufacturing figs are used, as they are pleasant to the taste, but the medicinal qualities of the remedy are obtained from senna and other aromatic plants, by a method known to the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. only. In order to get its beneficial effects and to avoid imitations, please remember the full name of the Company printed on the front of every package. CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.
