The Starhawk has sailed for home. Your service has been exemplary, and your men have set a fine example at all times since Queenstown. Or, to put it another way, what ever the circumstances, it may be said that your service has been exemplary. The Russian minister of finance stated on Friday that the flotilla was not closely enough watched by the French and Eng- lish. The Russian minister is not the first foreigner with such a view.

The receipts for the Jefferson-Cary Expedition are up to a certain extent in the neighborhood of the Confederate States, and the receipts are not very extravagant.
