General Parvene was forced to surrender.

FOREIGN FLEETS ENCOUNTERED.

A hundred and fifty persons were killed at Wounded Knee, and four others were wounded.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Suffolk, Va., Nov. 14.-General Parvene, a former member of the Confederate Congress, was killed at Wounded Knee, S. Dak., on Saturday, when the town was occupied by Federal forces. Parvene was a prominent figure in the American, French, German and Dutch armed forces during the Civil War. He was also killed in action at Wounded Knee, S. Dak., on Oct. 29, after a brief battle.

The Wounded Knee massacre occurred on the Pine Ridge Reservation in South Dakota and resulted in the deaths of 107 Native Americans, including 25 children. It was one of the deadliest acts of mass violence committed against indigenous peoples in the United States.

THOMPSON'S ORDER.

The U.S. Army has issued a new order to its troops in the Northwest, imposing harsh penalties for insubordination and mutiny. The order, signed by General George Custer, threatens imprisonment for up to 10 years for any soldier who refuses to obey orders.

THE NORTH CAROLINA.

Suffolk, Va., Nov. 14.-General Parvene, a former member of the Confederate Congress, was killed at Wounded Knee, S. Dak., on Saturday, when the town was occupied by Federal forces. Parvene was a prominent figure in the American, French, German and Dutch armed forces during the Civil War. He was also killed in action at Wounded Knee, S. Dak., on Oct. 29, after a brief battle.

The Wounded Knee massacre occurred on the Pine Ridge Reservation in South Dakota and resulted in the deaths of 107 Native Americans, including 25 children. It was one of the deadliest acts of mass violence committed against indigenous peoples in the United States.

THOMPSON'S ORDER.

The U.S. Army has issued a new order to its troops in the Northwest, imposing harsh penalties for insubordination and mutiny. The order, signed by General George Custer, threatens imprisonment for up to 10 years for any soldier who refuses to obey orders.

THE NORTH CAROLINA.

Suffolk, Va., Nov. 14.-General Parvene, a former member of the Confederate Congress, was killed at Wounded Knee, S. Dak., on Saturday, when the town was occupied by Federal forces. Parvene was a prominent figure in the American, French, German and Dutch armed forces during the Civil War. He was also killed in action at Wounded Knee, S. Dak., on Oct. 29, after a brief battle.

The Wounded Knee massacre occurred on the Pine Ridge Reservation in South Dakota and resulted in the deaths of 107 Native Americans, including 25 children. It was one of the deadliest acts of mass violence committed against indigenous peoples in the United States.

THOMPSON'S ORDER.

The U.S. Army has issued a new order to its troops in the Northwest, imposing harsh penalties for insubordination and mutiny. The order, signed by General George Custer, threatens imprisonment for up to 10 years for any soldier who refuses to obey orders.

THE NORTH CAROLINA.