The Nugget man does not object to anything as long as the monstrosity operating the Leader advances a better plan than that advanced by the republican party. Again we ask him to advise the people how affairs should be run if the present method is wrong. When a man makes an assertion and then fails to substantiate it, it is generally conceded that he is short waight. When an editor of a newspaper gets his vocabulary of abuse so completely exhausted that the gist of his remarks are "rot rot, ROT," he simply admits that he is tongue-tied. Rot, however, is synonymous of corruption, hence the word is in harmony with the author of the Leader article. A man who will blow about what he is going to do with some other man is certainly a braggart, and if he had a chance would be a bully, and a braggart and a bully should not object to the use of the word renegade.

The following is from the Eugene Guard relative to the street improvements of Roseburg and should be read with interest by Cottage Grovites: "While Roseburg has many fine residences and splendid brick business blocks the streets and sidewalks are simply disgraceful. Eugene would not allow the building of sidewalks such as Roseburg has on her business streets in any part of the town. Accident insurance companies should do a thriving business among Roseburg pedestrians."

It is rumored, and vouched for by reliable parties that H. J. Day has been heard from. That his wife has received a letter from him in which he denied having taken public money, and intimated that others are implicated. Be this as it may, it is not quite clear why Mr. Day should have disappeared were he not guilty of the crime as charged.

Cottage Grove cannot be described as yet, there are four, and in as many law abiding towns.

Churches are a good thing. Churches are a good thing. Churches are a good thing. Churches are a good thing. Churches are a good thing.

Blacksmith shops are busy; merchants are busy; the Southern Pacific Company's officials at the depot are busy; the planing mill is busy; the flouring mills are busy; and this is what makes Cottage Grove a desirable place in which to live.

The county court has accepted the road leading into Cottage Grove from the north along the S P track. Good. Let's join hands and shake. Open up the roadways and streets and alleys and grow and prosper altogether.

Remember the Special Mining Edition of Bohemia Nugget to be issued about December 1st. Don't forget to speak for a copy in time. Over 1300 spoken for now.

Cottage Grove can boast of being the best town of its size in Oregon, and shame be it—also of having the muddiest streets in Oregon—of any town of its size.

Eugene is to have a Republican Daily December 1st. Gilstrap Bros., publishers of the Register, will commence the publication of a 7 column four page morning daily. The Gilstrap Bros. have taken hold of the Register with a vim that stamps success on the very face of the proposition, if their vim holds out; and in this as well as all other newspaper enterprises, the lasting qualities of any publishers "vim" is governed to a great extent by the "vim" displayed by the patrons of the paper. The Gilstrap Bros., nor any one else for that matter, cannot give the republicans of Lane county's county seat, an up-to-date party paper, unless those republicans stand by and support the paper. About once in two and four years the republicans of Eugene and adjacent get on the anxious seat and howl for a good up-to-date republican paper, and promise all sorts of things in consideration thereof; but promise are "light as air." They promise about six months in four years and devote the other 42 months in writing ads for the opposition paper, forgetting the fact that it not only takes time but money to get a paper on an influential basis. The defeat of the republican party in Lane county, in one or two instances, to the knowledge of the writer, can be laid to the mismanagement of the county central committee in the matter of handling its organs. The writer does not convey the idea that it is a case of bribery; it is simply this: It takes time and money to run a newspaper in ordinary humdrum times; it takes more money and more time and more help to run a newspaper during a campaign; the average newspaper man has his time pretty well taken up, and he is able at all times, to count his surplus money in a remarkably short time. In order to take care of the proposition coming before him in a campaign as he in all sincerity would like, he must have more help; but he hasn't got the money to procure it, and as a rule the hub of the county central committee doesn't see the point, or else through the selfish inclination of getting something (be it ever so little) for nothing fails to help the poor overworked, much abused newspaper man grind away, and then kicks because the campaign work is not as strong as it should be. Patronize your paper, not only in the months in which campaign talk is the warmest, but when it lets up; keep patronizing your paper, thereby helping it get a good ready for the next time. Don't tell your neighbor that you are a republican, and that you will support, and then your ad for the paper will not help the republican paper fight your campaign battles, and sooner or later the publisher will lose confidence in the game. Don't let your morning daily die down there in Eugene, republicans. Support it—do not only support it, but drop a "nickle in the slot" once in a while. Gilstrap Bros. are pretty clever fellows, but if you don't do the right thing by them they will get tired blowing your horn and furnishing the horn, just the same as other people, and the first thing you know, they too, will lose confidence in the game. Every time your paper dies or lapses its influence is crippled.

Vice President Garret A. Hobart died at his home in Paterson, N. J. at 8:30 o'clock on the morning of Nov. 21. He was born at Long Branch, June 3 1844. He studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1866, and has held a prominent place in law circles since that time. Much of his life has been spent in politics and honors have fallen upon him thick and fast. The nation loses a good, capable and honorable man.

Bohemia and Cottage Grove—a good pair to draw to.

A School Shoe RIGHT.

The Little Samson is the ideal school shoe for boys and girls who are hard on ordinary shoe leather. It is made from tough but soft and pliable leather, especially selected; has sole leather tip and double strengthened back. It is built upon principles of comfort, strength and good looks, a combination hard to beat.
