The Nugget man does not object to anything so long as the man striving to operate the Leader ad vertises his goods. He is only against the present method is wrong. When a man makes no provision and then fails to substantiate it, it is generally conceded that he is short-sighted. When an editor of a newspaper gets his vocabulary of abuse so completely exhausted that the gist of his remarks are "not nor, ROT." he simply admits that he is6 conscientious. However, it is synonym of corruption, hence the word is in bargerous form in this article. A man who will blow on what he is going to do with another man is certainly bragging, and if he had a chance for a bully and a braggart he should not object to the use of the word remale.

The following is from the Engineer, and written to the improvements of Roseland and should be read with interest by Coult Groveites. "While Rosel-bell has many fine residences and splendid streets, the business streets and sidewalks are simply disgraceful. Enginee would not allow such surroundings. However, as Roseland has on her business streets in any port of the town.

dent insurance companies should do a thriving business among Rosel-bell grocers.

This reminds, and looked for by reliable parties that Mr., J. D., Day has been heard from. That his wife in the fall of last year, in which he denied having taken public money, and intimated that other parties were involved in this, it may, it is not quite clear why Mr. Day should have disappeared when he was not guilty of the crime charged.

Blacksmith shops are busy; merchants are busy; the Southern Pacific Company's officials at the depot have produced a large number of cars; most of the hotels are busy; the flooring mills are busy; and this is what makes Grover a desirable place in which to live.

The county court has accepted the plans and dividing into Coult Grove from the north along the S. P. track.

Cottage Grove can boast of being the best town in Oregon—and shall be—also of having the mudslide streets in Oregon—of any town of it.

In Brief

In the local school house the boys and girls are hard on the wholesome school reform. It is made from thick, tough and soft adaptable leather, especially for boys. It has a back strap and a pull handle that is strengthened back. It is built upon principles of soundness, and a good books, a combinaion hard to beat.

The Little Sunbonnet is the ideal school shoe for boys and girls who are on outdoor school reform. It is made from theft of the strongest cloth, in the Wash.
