VIRGINIA. W. W. Why, it's all right, he asked.

"A young man," she replied.

"I'm glad to hear that," he said, and they both smiled and looked at the little girl who was standing in front of the store. "I'm going to take her to the movies."

"You certainly are," she said, and they both laughed. "I hope she enjoys it."

"She will," he said. "I always take her to the movies when I can."

They went inside the store and chose some snacks to eat. They sat down and watched the movie together, and she was happy and content. She knew that he was a good man, and she was glad to have him as her friend. She knew that he would always be there for her, and she was grateful for that. She smiled as she thought about the future, and she knew that she would always be happy with him by her side.
