The preliminary examination of B. F. Harvey on charge of rape upon the person of Winnie Thorn resulted in his being bound over in the sum of $1,000 to await the setting of the next term of circuit court. Whether he is guilty or not evidence deduced proves that he isn't much of a man in either event. In the first place he is of the reckless dare-devil type of railroad boys who were more plentiful some 15 or 20 years ago than now. In fact today he is a splendid type of that class, and according to his statement he has been railroading about 20 years. The only difference between him and the average railroader of recent date, is that the modern railroad boy is a gentleman. He is one of those kind of fellows who thinks he's "hot stuff," owing to circumstances (in his estimation), only just a notch below the president of the road. The chances are that had Harvey died during the first year of his experience on the road he would be remembered by those who knew him and (fortunately) released from his association by the medium death, as a good fellow. If this man Harvey, in place of sneaking into a box car, where lay a poor unprotected girl, suffering with the cold, and giving her a mackinaw coat, had have reported his discovery to his conductor, and sought a place for her in the baboose, by a warm fire in the presence of the master of the train; and then and there given her the "fatherly" advice he was so intent upon exploding to his honor last Monday, then some dependence could be put in his testimony. As it stands, especially in the face of the fact that he left the girl in a cold baboose to suffer all night with the cold, no one can be expected to believe a word utter under oath by the defendant. A man who will lie to a girl lying in a stunned and frozen condition—a stranger in a strange land—will, when it is to his personal advantage, break his oath on the witness stand. Again, a man posing as a fatherly sort of a person, all honesty, purity and all that sort of thing, cannot expect to impress a judge with the idea that he is a gentlemen, by calling the attorney for the state, a liar. It is not for a newspaper to pass judgment upon the defendant, as regards the case pending, but this man Harvey failed to create a very favorable impression in court.

John Carman, of Eugene, who some years since was married to a divorced lady quite well known in some circles in Lane county, is something of a wit as well as a rowist. Mr. and Mrs. Carman have not lived in happy bliss during the eight or nine years of married life. However in justice to the subject "Marriage," they "got along" quite well without busting the hinges off the beautiful "gate" more than once a week, for the first six months; but from that time on things became badly mixed and rows the most exasperating, occurred, and the worst of it all was that the neighbors had to witness the rows and hear the vile talk that escaped the principals and neither were choice of language. The Eugene papers have been reporting from day to day the recent battles that have taken place and the public no doubt with bated breath have looked and prayed for an ending of the campaign. Last week the madam pulled her freight for Harrisburg leaving the mad-man king of the "castle." Right here is where we must give Mr. Carman credit as being the only "joker" in the "pack." Immediately after the lady's departure he caused a sheet to be raised in the front yard as a flag of truce, and nailed up a placard on the gate "The War is Over."

The young girls of the various towns can profit by the experience of Winnie Thorn of Latham. These men may be the angels they have tried to impersonate, and no matter how the court may deal with them, conclusive evidence has been obtained that some railroad men may be the perpetrators of dastardly crimes, as well as other people; and when a girl takes it upon herself to frequent the depot grounds for the sole purpose of flirting with the employes of the road she not only lessens her standing in the community in which she lives, but she has started on the trail that may most any time lead her into the vicious hands of men not unlike the brutes who brought disgrace and shame upon the heads of father and mother, shocked a good community, "set a blister" upon the fair name of the victim, and knocked the rust off the hinges of the penitentiary. Girls cannot afford to run these risks. Virtue is a pretty good thing to tie to—"Keep you in the rear of your affection, out of the shot and danger of desire. The chariest maid is prodigal enough, if she unmask her beauty to the moon." It is indeed an easy matter to make a mistake in life—one that years of toil, honesty, and true sincerity can hardly erase; but the better way is to profit by those who have erred, and show our appreciation of the lessons thus learned by faithful observance, and avoid being "a fixed figure, for the time of scorn to point his slow, unmoving finger at."

The members of the board of pension examiners at Oregon City, who were suspended some time since, have been reinstated by Commissioner Evans through the energetic and prompt solicitation of Representative Tongue of this district. Congressman Tongue is one of the most untiring workers for his constituency ever sent to the national seat from this district.

Cottage Grove is getting the name of being one of the best show towns on the Southern Pacific. Another evidence of prosperity.
