gon, Nevada, and Washington Territory,"

Lane, State of Oregon has this day filed in this office his sworn statement No. 883, for the purchase of the NE 1/4 of Section No. 14, in Township No. 22 S., Range No. 3 W., and will offer proof to show that the land sought is more

He names as witnesses:

gon, Ole Hegans, Ole Roe, of Bucooda, Washing-

MINES & MINING.

Devoted to Bohemia Notes and Mining Items of General Interest to Mining Men.

Bohemia, April 20, 1900.

Another light fall of snow today.
Harvey Johnston and Albert Osner of the Golden Slipper are out for a recreation.

Ernest Lockwood, C. F. Patterson and James Pitcher arrived in camp this week.

Dick Jennings of the Helena left for a few days outing this week.
Cole's pack train is making regular trips to the mine now, the snow being gone on the summit of Grouse Mountain.

Holderman & Hickey finished their big contract on the Montana Company's group of mines the forepart of this week.

Already several parties are in the field making spring locations.
It is reported that D. B. Murray of Noonday fame has formed a new company east for the purpose of opening up a new property on Noonday road near the Ridge hotel.

Another rich strike in the Music mine. This time in No. 6 or the deepest level. This ore is of sufficient richness to be sacked and shipped which the management is doing.

The Helena is taking out some of the richest ore yet encountered, from the upraise. This ore is a porous honey combed quartz, almost wired together with gold.

B. K. Worley is working a force of men on his mines recently banded from Leroy Bros. near Judsons Rock.

It is rumored that the Calapooia group will put on a force of men about May 1st.

Frank Patterson is looking for a balloon to find his claim, known as the Jupiter, which has lately departed from its original place of discovery in Champion canyon. We suggest a trip to Lick observatory.

H. M. Bowers is locating a group for himself and eastern parties, northwest from the Noonday mill. This is a locality in which some very fine properties have already been opened up.

In our rounds over camp a few days ago we came in contact with some specimens of notices on quartz claims, some of which reads as follows. "Notice: The Oyster Soup. We claim 15 feet of this quartz mine. For further particulars enquire at Roseburg." "Notice: The undersigned claim 750 feet each way from this snag or stump and warn all parties not to trespass, and shall be known as the Minnie mining claim." "Notice. We claim everything inside the boundaries of these stakes anyone caught on this claim will be prosecuted. The name of this mine is Broadaxe." "Notice of quartz mine. We have a hole 10 feet deep and intend to hold same and have located a mine.
Also this is the extension of the Minnie mining claim." We will not publish the names of these prospectors for various reasons, but will only say such locations are not worth the paper they are written on, and men so silly as to try to hold mining claims with such description ought to be exiled to the Philippines to teach the natives new principles in foolishness. Men of this calibre are a menace to public safety and ought not to be allowed to run at large. Still some of them are just the kind some companies are looking for to manage mining properties for them and they will continue to do so till our Oregon legislature provides some special act to exclude such ignorance from the management of mines, then there will not be half the failures. There is in Bohemia a number of fine properties handled by just such persons who don't know a square set of timbers from a protected cruiser, and when men of mining ability come to look at property it is never in creditable shape.
Nothing in sight and they turn away in disgust and go somewhere else.
Let our legislature appoint a board of mining examiners make it their duty to examine all aspiring candidates for the position of superintendent, and if found competent, issue a license for one year at $50 subject to being revoked at any time if found issued to the wrong man.
Then create the office of mining inspector and make it his duty to either examine mines personally or through a competent deputy at every camp in the state. When this shall have been done the product of Oregon mines which is already large, will be more than double, and more men employed. It will protect superintendents, bring more capital to the state and will benefit in a dozen different ways. Mining in Oregon has become a reality. The state is rapidly coming to the front on her own merits and if properly represented would in a short time show a remarkable increase in production of precious metals. Let some of our recently nominated candidates for representatives bear this in mind and try and introduce a bill at the coming session to benefit the greatest industry of our great commonwealth.
