The Guard, the Lane county paper which has crossed its politics so many times that all trace of its original breed has been eliminated and now continues its wail in the shaggy coat of the degenerate, insulating alike the men who consciously adhere to either the democratic or populist party, is howling about J. L. Taylor, the republican nominee for commissioner, because Mr. Taylor is a poor man and only pays 35 cents taxes. This remark, coming from the Guard, is enough to disgust any fair minded populist or democrat, and no doubt it will, and likewise open their eyes to a complete realization of the Guard's methods. The Guard has always been a hanger-on of the rich, and never condescends to consider a poor man only in such (political) times as these when it insults the dignity of the American voter in its "coarse" attempts to play upon their sympathies. In this last break of the Guard it has given itself away in so blazen a manner that the voters of the county cannot help seeing it, and many of them will turn away in disgust at the thought of the Guard, which has howled its dismal wail of sympathy for the "poor" in the ears of the populist brothers for, lo! these many months, advocating the election of a candidate on the ground that he pays more taxes than another candidate—is "richer" than the other fellow. Is it a fact that the Guard admits that a man can be rich—even well off, and still be honest? If not it advocates the election of the citizen's candidate upon dishonest principles; and in either event it brands itself as a dishonest political organ. Yes, Mr. Taylor, the republican candidate for county commissioner, is a poor man and the republican party and the delegates who gave him the nomination are not ashamed of it, neither is Mr. Taylor. The republican party does not look up a mans tax roll before it considers his nomination to public office possible. If he is honest he is worthy; and, being worthy, his chances in the republican ranks are just as good as they would be, had he his hand in the fusionist candidate's big sack which the Guard now prates about.

Jim Amis has again flattened out in the newspaper business, having sold the "Citizen" formerly the Broadaxe to R. H Miller, well known in Eugene. This is the second time that Brother Amis has thrown up the sponge, and it must be regarded as an omen that the Citizens ticket will be defeated at the coming election. When Mr. Amis resurrected his paper two years ago he had two reasons for so doing, one that he wished to make life miserable for the present incumbent of the sheriff's office and the other to lay the foundation for the election of a fusion candidate to the office of sheriff this coming June. The fact that Mr. Amis has spent much of the time roasting the present sheriff, during these two years, is evidence that his will to defeat Mr. Withers was good; and when Mr. Withers got the nomination in the convention and Mr. Amis was forced to swallow all the vile things he had ever said about the fusion sheriff, proved that a division of the sheriff's swag had been agreed upon by the Guard and Amis. Amis went to work for Withers with a vim; but as time elapsed, he realized that there was no certainty of Mr. Withers' election, hence the sale of the "Citizen" for without the partial support of the sheriff's office that paper could not exist another six months, under the Amis management. Mr. Amis' disposal of the Citizen, the only paper eligible to the sheriff's patronage from a fusion standpoint, is significant that he has no confidence in the election of Mr. Withers, in fact Mr. Amis admitted as much in an issue of recent date.

The Leader man was very much exercised last week in that the Nugget called him down for his insinuations with reference to Mr. Knox. Some people cultivate the habit of lying to the extent that they hardly know when they are telling an untruth or casting an insinuation. Of course if the poor fellow did not know that he was reflecting upon Mr. Knox's character, he is in a sense excusable.

R. H. Miller, the new proprietor of the "Citizen," formerly the Broadaxe, is a newspaper man of much ability, and it is to be hoped that he will make good his former record in the newspaper field thereby making the paper commend itself to the public as a paper fit to read—a commendation foreign to the paper under the Amis management. Bohemia Nugget wishes Mr. Miller success.

As County School Superintendent Eugene Bond, the republican nominee will fill the bill to the letter. He is a man of exemplary habits, thoroughly educated and a successful teacher. Coupled with these advantages he is deserving. Should the voters place him in the office of superintendent of schools of Lane county, they will have no occasion to regret their choice.

COMMENT.

The following from the Junction Times, gives an idea of that paper's opinion of the republican candidates for office in Lane county.

Ivan McQueen served in the last session of the legislature and made a good record. He possesses splendid ideas on political economy and also a general knowledge of legislative work. He is a good speaker and is sure to win additional friends as the campaign progresses. The Roseburg Review in speaking of R. M. Veatch, the fusion nominee for joint senator says he "gained many friends by his able administration of the office of the Roseburg land office." Why certainly. He campaigned the district for congress while the government was paying him $8.00 per day for his services as register of the land office. Yes, Veatch's (political) executive ability is unquestioned. L. T. Harris, candidate on the republican ticket for representative, is one of the brightest young men in the state. He is a graduate of the university and although a young man has already made his mark in the legal profession. He is a gifted orator, a sound and logical reasoner and is sure to rank high in the legislative halls of the state. He is exceedingly popular and enjoys a very extensive acquaintance throughout the entire county. He will be elected by a handsome majority. James Hemenway, republican candidate for the legislature on the republican ticket, is an active business man of Cottage Grove and enjoys the confidence and esteem of the whole Bohemia district. He is a man of good ability and will well represent the interests of his constituency of the great commonwealth of old Lane. The mining interests desire a representative from this county who is familiar with the wants and needs of that gold producing section and Mr. Hemenway is the man. O. F. Knox, the republican nominee for county judge, is a resident of Cottage Grove. He is a pioneer business man of that sprightly city and was engaged in the hardware business for years until a few months ago when he disposed of his interests. The nomination was a very fortunate one as his years of active business and his thorough knowledge of the county especially fits him for that responsible position. His integrity is unchallenged and in him the people will and a wise and just official. He possesses a splendid education, is progressive and believes in managing the affairs of the county as economically as an individual manages his own affairs. Mr. Knox is very popular at home and his friends, regardless of party association, will reward him with their suffrage in token of the estimation in which he is held by his old neighbors.

SUMMER RESORTS.

"To the mountains our people in increasing numbers yearly look for those days of relaxation and recreation necessary to maintain the human machine in fair working condition. The languorous sloth of the seashore proves very seductive while it lasts, but many have decided that the annual outing should provide not only radical change of air and surroundings, but also such stimulation of flagging energies as will provide brawn and vigor for the return to labor. For this they urge the mountain climb and ramble, the balsam of the mountain pines, and the clear, unadulterated mountain air."
"In this direction the Shasta Route now affords a wealth of attractions. The entire line of road from Ashland to Redding is studded with charming and accessible hotels and camps, where are cheer and comfort and healing at reasonable cost, and where you can hunt, fish, ride, loaf, or play with equal facility."
"Or if you look for healing waters, none better can be found, hot or cold, than the springs of Ashland, Coeplin, Anderson, Bartlett, Byron and Paso Robles."
"Before visiting Europe, the people of the Northwest should see the glories of Yosemite Valley, and the wondrous groves of Mariposa and Calaveras; the Parisians are likely to make inquiries concerning these attractive resorts."
Send to Mr. C. H. Markham, General Passenger Agent, Portland, for new booklets on Castle Crag, Shasta Springs, McCloud River, Yosemite, and excursion rates thereto."
