FRIDAY, JUNE 8, 1900.

At every election it is demonstrated that the ballot used under the Australian ballot system can be greatly improved. There are many voters who do not understand the methods of writing their ballot and necessarily make many mistakes, thereby causing their vote to be ineffectual in part if not as a whole. As an illustration the candidates for representatives for all parties are together, in small type with the party to which the candidate belongs opposite the name of the candidate. Over the group of names at the right hand in small type is the sentence "vote for three." So small and in so obscure a place is this sentence that the average voter does not notice it. Many voters forget the number of representatives for whom they are entitled to vote, and not infrequently do they pass their ballot in after having voted for only one. Such was the case in Cottage Grove. It is known to be a fact that some 20 voters in these precincts failed to vote for the full number of representatives. There should be a more definite way to acquaint the voters with the proper number of candidates to be voted for.

That low grade ore may be worked with profit by modern methods was demonstrated last year at the De Lamar group of mines in Mercur, Utah; 128,804 tons of ore, averaging about $3.50 per ton and giving a return of $449,437 was worked at a cost of $1.16 per ton for mining the ore and 72 cents for milling, leaving a net profit of $146,010 for the year. From tailings, which had a value of $1.09 per ton, a net profit of 60 cents was realized, the treatment costing 49 cents per ton; $10,531 was the net profits from the tailings.—Industry and Mining.

A bushel of corn worth an ounce of silver! Pretty near it on May 7, corn was worth 45 3/4 cents a bushel in the New York market. Silver was worth 59 3/4 cents on the same day. In 1896, at the time of Bryan's prophecies as to free silver, corn was worth only 21 1/2 cents on the farm. But it has kept on advancing in price under the gold standard.—Grants Pass Observer.

It is perhaps not generally known that there is a city ordinance prohibiting the projection of a stove pipe through the roof of buildings. Parties building should bear this in mind and avoid extra expense and put in the proper flue in the first place.

KENTUCKY GAME LAW.

Plain citizens may be shot from January 1 to December 31.

Senators, governors and members of congress may be shot during any political campaign, or within sixty days thereafter.

Niggers may be shot at any time. Hunters in search of this game may also use a stuffed club or butcher knife.

No man shall be allowed to kill in excess of six persons per day. In case where it is an affair of honor this number may be increased to 103.

Every man who does not tote the remainder of his game from public sight within 48 hours of the time the first volley is fired, will be fined one gallon of moonshine.

If a citizen leaves his home half shot and is found on the streets a short time thereafter, full of buckshot, that is his fault, and his relatives are not allowed to shoot more than 17 persons in their efforts to find the guilty person.—Louisville Journal.

THE ELECTION NEWS.

How Cottage Grove Behaved--A Republican Victory.

Election day was quiet and orderly in Cottage Grove. Little excitement prevailed and the best of nature existed among the hardest workers who lined up for the days hard work. Considerable work was done on both sides but in a quiet and business like manner. The voting commenced early in the morning and was steady all day, in either precinct.

After the closing of the polls nearly everyone went home, and it is a conservative assertion to state that not to exceed 25 men awaited election returns from Eugene.

NOTES.

Multnomah county came as near throwing the republican party of the state in disgrace as it could and not do it and the fusion element at home and abroad are getting their only solace from that locality. However, whatever result may be forthcoming from that county the republicans are to blame for it. But in a sense they are not responsible, either. There is a limit to man's consistency likewise to the consistency of a great party. The Oregonian, while great credit must be given it for its many gigantic efforts in behalf of republicanism, is in a sense an agitator in republican ranks, and much of the dissatisfaction and bitterness existing today among the republicans of Multnomah county can be easily placed at the door of the Oregonian. The Oregonian is a great political warrior ranking high among the greatest, but it is not always consistent. In the campaign just closed had the Oregonian so desired, Multnomah would have given a complete republican victory.

Congressmen Tongue and Moody were elected by increased pluralities.

A Washington dispatch under date of June 5 has the following:

The republicans in both houses and the administration are rejoicing tonight at the signal victory won for the party in Oregon. The democrats are especially disheartened, and are trying to gather some comfort out of the result in Multnomah county.

Oregon is redeeming herself beautifully.

It takes something besides "isms" to down republican principles.

There was a decided falling off in Lane county as compared by the registration. For instance: The registered vote of Eugene was 901, and the number of votes cast was 325, showing a falling off of 76 votes.

The Roseburg Plaindealer is highly elated with the outcome in Douglas county, and it has a right to be.

FARM NOTES.

(Oregon Agriculturist)

The price of corn is materially higher this spring than it has been for a number of years past.

According to the San Jose Mercury last year's crop of prunes amounted to 110,000,000 pounds and the crop of this year will probably reach 125,000,000 pounds. About 7,000,000 pounds of last year's crop have not been sold yet.

The May estimates of the United States department of agriculture credit Oregon with 558,528 acres of winter wheat sown in the fall of 1899 as compared with 491,555 acres harvested last year, and Washington, 512,530 acres seeded last fall as compared with 378,684 acres harvested last year.

The Chicago Record tells this apple story: "At precisely 2 o'clock every day Senator Cockrell, of Missouri, leaves his seat, goes into the cloak room, pokes his hand into his overcoat. Then he sits down in a comfortable chair before the wood fire that crackles in the chimney place and proceeds to eat apples. He is as regular as the sun, and the senators rather set their watches by him than by the old clock that hangs over the entrance to the chamber. He takes no other luncheon, eats nothing else between breakfast at 8 o'clock and dinner at 6 o'clock in the afternoon, and believes that apples are the healthiest food nature has provided for man."

Eakin & Bristow have just received their first shipment of Crescent Bicycles for 1900. They always give satisfaction and are the cheapest in the market $25.00 and $35.00.
