FOR PRESIDENT
WILLIAM MCKINLEY
OF OHIO

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT
THEO. ROOSEVELT
OF NEW YORK.

Reports have been coming to this office, from all directions, of late, relative to many hunters violating the game law in the matter of running deer with hounds. It is a serious and a foolish offence, and if hunters would stop and size up the situation they would readily see wherein the practice is detrimental to their own interests. In the first place deer killed after having been run with hounds is of little account for the table; then again, the practice of running them with hounds results in running the deer out of the country, and making game scarce. Why practice a pastime that can only result in the destruction of the noblest animal in the woods? It is against the law of the state and morally it is wrong. Some of these days some one will carry the practice a little too far and then someone will wish they hadn't. The authorities should look after these matters.

The work of the rock crusher on the Silk Creek road adjacent to this city is meeting with the hearty approval of the property owners in that section, and the county court is to be congratulated upon the interest taken in the matter. The work of macadamizing was commenced about one mile from this city and nearly a mile of the road has been covered with crushed rock. The court has stated that the crusher will be allowed to operate as long as the citizens will take the rock away and make good use of it on the road. No fairer proposition could be expected and it is said something like two miles of the road will be built this fall. It will be a fine advertisement for the crusher, as the road in question has long had the reputation of being one of the worst in this section of Lane county.

Frank Gilstrap, one of the proprietors of the Eugene Register, was in Cottage Grove last Wednesday, in the interest of his paper. He reports his paper growing stronger in circulation each day; and there is nothing surprising about this assertion for, with the old-time rustle of the Gilstraps, always characteristic of their newspaper work, they are bound to make the paper stronger, not only in circulation but in influence, all of which means much to the republican party of Lane county.

A dispute was current upon the streets the other day as to whether there were more dogs than people living in the limits of this city. Taking the assertion of one man as a basis upon which to draw conclusions—i. e.—the other morning he saw twelve dogs to three men, it would be well to take a dog census.

The hop yards near Dallas are said to be practically free from lice this year.

PROPHECIES OF 1896.

Boston Advertiser.

If the prophecies and predictions made by Mr. Bryan had proven to be true, the gold standard, which has been in operation since he uttered them, would have produced the following dire results to-wit:

It would have increased the purchasing power of the gold dollar.—Madison Square speech.

It would have been as certain to make prices fall as a stone is to fall when it is thrown into the air.—Newton, Ia., speech.

It would have increased the debts of the people and lessened their ability to pay them.—Baltimore speech.

It would have made times harder and harder.—Same speech.

It would have starved everybody except the money changers and the money owners.—New Haven, Conn., speech.

It would have transferred the bread which one man earns to another man who had not earned it.—Hartford, Conn., speech.

It would have made the rich richer and the poor poorer.—Newark, O., speech.

It would have decreased the number who are happy and increased the number who are in distress.—Same speech.

It would have destroyed the hope of the toiling masses—Minneapolis speech.

It would have destroyed the opportunity to work.—Same speech.

It would have increased the number of idle men.—Same speech.

It would have decreased the volume of standard money.—Same speech.

It would have encouraged the hoarding of money.—Hornellsville, N. Y., speech.

It would have made it more and more difficult for the farmer to live.—Madison Square Garden speech.

It would have injured the wage-earner.—Same speech.

It would have made employment less certain.—Same speech.

It would have discouraged enterprise.—Same speech.

It would have paralyzed industry.—Same speech.

It would have lessened the ability of saving banks to collect their assets.—Same speech.

It would have increased the danger of depositors losing their deposits in saving banks.—Madison Square Garden speech.

It would have compelled depositors in savings banks to withdraw their deposits to pay living expenses.—Same speech.

It would have lessened the salaries of those engaged in business occupations and would have lessened the permanency of such salaries.—Same speech.

It would have injured those who have permanent investments in railroad stocks and other like enterprises.—Same speech.

It would have injured or destroyed the manufacturers of agricultural implements, wagons and buggies.—Springfield, O., and Flint, Mich., speeches.

It would have lessened the ability of the masses to buy goods and thereby would have lessened the number of traveling men.—Indianapolis speech to traveling men.

It would have made it impossible for husbands and wives to pay off the mortgage on their homes.—Minneapolis, Minn., speech to ladies.

It would have made it necessary to advocate the closing up of our public schools.—Monmouth, Ill., speech.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

The management of the Nugget respectfully calls the attention of subscribers to the fact that in the early fall—about this time a year—is a mighty good time to do a little something for the paper, i. e., pay your subscription. The Nugget has, in all probability, as prompt a class of subscribers as any paper of its size in this section of the country; but subscribers occasionally overlook the newspaper, from the fact that the bill is "a small one," and that "we'll pay that pretty soon." Newspapers depend largely upon the prompt collection of small accounts, and in the fall of the year, if each subscriber, who happens to be in arrears a year or more, would only be thoughtful enough to square up, it would put quite a lump of money in the hands of the newspaper management, enable it to pay its bills, and perhaps take advantage of discounts and, in all probability, make an improvement in the paper. The Nugget management is trying as fast as increased subscription list, increased advertising patronage and a fair degree of "hustle" will admit, to give its patrons a paper that will not be laid aside for any paper published in this section. When this assertion is made the State of Oregon is not included, for, unlike some other papers, the claim that the Nugget excels the Oregonian, is not made. The attention of the Nugget is given, more particularly, to your own section of country, and its aim is to develop into a first-class local paper; and with your co-operation—in the matter of paying up your arrears by SEPTEMBER THIRTIETH—a little stronger effort will be laid out along the line of improvement, and you will feel all the better in that you have done your share to help the poor bugger who worries the year in and the year out and lives mostly on "hope," served with a sauce called "invisible promises." A dollar and a half looks small to you, and perhaps you think that a newspaper man is in small business even to hint that he would like for you to pay it, but when you multiply it by several hundred it makes quite an amount and will enable most any newspaper man to pay up his bills and still have a gingle in his jeans with which to buy another "gob" of "hope" for the coming year. Gentlemen, this is our modest way to take up a collection, but it is to be hoped that by SEPTEMBER THIRTIETH the hat will be full. Just drop in any old day—the sooner the better—look pleasant and pay up. Remember the date SEPTEMBER THIRTY.

A Salem saloon keeper offers to bet all his property, saloon and all, that Bryan will be elected this fall. He reasons that if Bryan is elected, he will have won enough to keep him during the Bryan administration, and if he loses he will still have a McKinley administration in which to regain his shattered fortune.

John Trunnell held a Nugget man up the other day with the astonishing remark that he was going to vote for Bryan this year. When asked why, he said on account of the poor wheat crop under the McKinley administration. Just about as good a reason, John, as some of the other Bryanite arguments.

CONVICTED.
Colenan Gillespie of Gold Beach, Curry county, who was arrested here last September, by Marshal McFarland, for the murder of Mrs. Edson of Gold Beach, on September 19, was tried in the Curry county circuit court, last week and found guilty. He was sentenced by Judge Hamilton to hang October 5. A reward of $450 was offered for his arrest, and this will no doubt be remitted to Marshal McFarland in the near future.

Hon. Ivan McQueen still continues to improve.
Casper Lea received an ugly blow from a maw Wednesday while drilling a well at the home of Mrs. Sears. The maw slipped from the handle just as he went to strike and fell upon his arm, bruising it considerably.

DELAYED.

The Messrs. Thomas, who have the contract for the new M. E. Church, now under construction, have been delayed of late on account of a failure, on the part of the planing mill, to get out the finishing material on time. The outside work is practically completed, and work on the inside is now under way. The contractors expect to be able to turn the property over to the proper church authorities by September 20.

Mrs. S. R. Piper and daughters have returned from their outing at Sulphur Springs.

O. F. Knox and family will take up their residence in Eugene this coming week, where they will reside until their son and daughter finish at the U of O.

James Benson who has been manager of the Benson Drug Co. of this city for the past two years, has retired from the firm, and at present Jack Merriman is in charge of the firm's business.

Darwin Bristow is in Portland this week, at the bedside of his brother-in-law, Fred Keenan, recently returned from Alaska, and whose recovery is considered doubtful. An operation was performed upon the invalid Wednesday, and a letter from Mr. Bristow announces that he stood the operation nicely, and thus far no bad results are noted.

MOTHERS!

Don't Let Baby Suffer.
THERE IS ONLY ONE THING KNOWN for aiding the teething process and slow growth in infants and children, and that is for very obvious reasons, called ANTIPRET. It stops the violent, restless, general febrile, colic and diarrhoeal. Prevents brain troubles and convulsions. Renders lancing gums unnecessary. It has been estimated that five millions of babies die annually for want of mothers knowing what to do. Gentillon is the dangerous period of child life, far to serious to be dismissed with the careless remark "Baby is cutting her teeth." Your child needs bone making material. ANTIPRET supplies this easily. One box will save your baby untold misery. Sent postpaid by return mail on receipt of 50 cents. Full instructions with each. Address INLAND DR. CO., 254 Washington street, San Francisco, Cal. Antifret so certainly relieves teething babies that we will on all packages sold by mail, refund the money by sending stamps in full for those returned within 30 days not over one-fourth used.
