FRIDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1900.

FOR PRESIDENT
WILLIAM MCKINLEY
OF OHIO

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT
THEO. ROOSEVELT
OF NEW YORK.

The Cottage Grove Republican Club met at the City Hall on Tuesday night to make arrangements for the reception of Hon. Thomas H. Tongue, who will speak here on October 23d. Much enthusiasm was manifested and a large turnout will be made to welcome the speaker. This club has 113 on its roll of membership and every man jack of them is an earnest worker in the cause of prosperity and expansion. A rousing meeting will be had and everybody is invited.

Will Colonel Bryan please say whether he thinks it is right to disfranchise the colored American citizens of North Carolina, South Carolina, Louisiana and Mississippi in the interest of the democratic party? A plain, straightforward statement from the colonel would let in a flood of light upon his pretensions with respect to the application of the Declaration of Independence to the Malays of Luzon.

Hon. Thomas H. Tongue will address the voters and ladies of Cottage Grove and vicinity on the vital issues of the presidential campaign at Martin's Hall on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock on October 23d. He is a fluent speaker and will voice words of wisdom that all should hear.

The democratic defeat in November should not be charged against Chairman Jones, Bryan or even Webster Davis. It will be due to the fact that the policies advocated by the party are wrong, while those advanced by the republicans meet the approval of the free, thoughtful voters of the country.

Bryan despairs of the future of the country because voters insist on permitting business to influence their politics, and yet he himself has grown wealthy by making politics his business.

One of the amusing things of the present campaign is the statement made by Mr. Bryan, in his Fort Wayne speech, that his military experience had taught him that the life of a soldier was a dangerous one.

In Ohio the democratic campaign is looked upon as a good joke. But Mr. Bryan and Chairman Jones take it seriously enough when they lay claim to that state.

Don't forget the date, October 23d at 2 p. m. at Martin's Hall in Cottage Grove, when and where Hon. Thomas H. Tongue will talk to all who come about the leading issues of the campaign. Don't miss this opportunity to listen to one of the finest speakers in Oregon. He will interest you and will, perhaps, tell you things you don't know, and when he is through there is one thing that you will want to do, and that is to vote for McKinley and Roosevelt.

THE OTHER SIDE.

The following communications in reference to an article in the Nugget of last week are self explanatory. This paper desires at all times to do equal justice to all in any controversy that may arise. Its source of knowledge in things that transpire is often gleaned from hearsay and should an error or omission creep in it is a duty we owe the individual and the community to set it right as soon as full information is at hand. The version of the aggrieved parties is here given:

EDITOR BOHEMIA NUGGET:—We, the undersigned, wish to make a correct statement in reply to the article published in your paper last week headed "Rebellion Nipped in the Bud." Pearl Bennett was called upon to recite in English literature, and in answer said, "I did not study the lesson." The professor wanted to know why he did not study it. Pearl then said he was going to quit studying that book. The professor said "you are going to study that lesson," and receiving nothing in reply, started to Pearl's desk. He then caught him by the collar and jerking him with great force upon the floor where he dealt him three hard blows upon the face and neck. As to Pearl's sitting with fold arms and gazing on the ceiling in open mutiny is absolutely false.

M. ALLEN
C. C. EMMERSON
E. B. HAMBROCK
JOHN C. CARRIS
JOHN C. VEATCH

In addition to the above I wish to say that Pearl got permission from his parents that morning to quit studying literature. I thought the punishment rather severe for such an offense, but the other directors said, "We will uphold the professor no difference what he does." The board did not uphold the professor in trying to compel Pearl to take the study of literature, as they did not even ask him to study it. He returned to school the next morning and has not studied the book since, so who has been exonerated Pearl or the professor.

W. S. BENNETT.

There is a vein of bitterness in the communications and also a sense of triumph that the young man has had his own way and does not now study literature. A majority of the board of school trustees rule, and after a hearing the professor was exonerated for his action. So far as the pupil being "jerked with great force and dealt three hard blows upon the face and neck" it is estimating the professor's physical powers from a somewhat biased standpoint, for had he put undue force into his chastisement the young man would not in all probability have been in prime condition for school the next morning. The public now has both sides to the controversy and it is to be hoped that the incident is closed. Peace and harmony reign and diligent study prevails at the public school and good results will surely flow from that seat of learning.

THE PLAY SATURDAY NIGHT

On Tuesday evening the Nugget reporter was permitted to witness a partial dress rehearsal of the frontier life drama entitled "The Golden days of '49," to be produced on Saturday night by a strictly amateur company mostly from the ranks of the Woodmen of the World lodge and under and for the benefit of that organization. The rehearsal gives evidence of a fine evening's entertainment for all who go to see it, and there will undoubtedly be a full house. All the characters are in good hands and success is already assured. The scenes as presented takes one back to the early border time in a mining camp and the thrilling episodes enacted incident to the crude methods in vogue before law and order came and when Judge Lynch was the arbiter and held sway.

The first act opens with a group of miners sitting around tables in front of the tavern in the mining camp. The man who owns a vast tract of land in the neighborhood turns up after an absence of 20 years and demands possession. A plot is entered into to do away with him. The major brings his bride from Boston. Major gets foul and comes home with a song and a jag. Foul murder is committed. The villain swears the crime upon the innocent hero. Arrest follows and grand climax.

The second act finds the hero in hiding. The heroine assists in his escape. The villain makes love to the heroine and fails to win. Sheriff searches the house for the hero, who escapes, and grand tableau.

Third act is at the tavern again. A peddler shows up who proves to be the hero in disguise, and who persuades the heroine to accompany him in flight. Mob seized the colored man and hustles him away.

Fourth act presents the deserted cabin in the lonely hills where the hero and heroine take refuge in their flight. Here occurs some very spirited and really good acting.

Fifth act presents a court scene. Hero on trial. His innocence proven. Mystery all cleared up. Happy union of father and son and lovers and a grand finale.

DRAIN NOTES.

The Methodist church has undergone a complete internal renovation and by repapering and carpeting it has now as neat an interior as can be found in Western Oregon. Its appearance is an invitation to one to come again. That is not all for Rev. Stryfeler interests and instructs his congregation.

On Tuesday evening the Christian congregation gave a sociable in honor of their retiring pastor, Rev. Arthur Gardiner, who goes to a new field of labor at Myrtle Creek. The high esteem in which Rev. Gardiner is held in Drain was attested by a large attendance of the people of both churches. He has the prayers of the Christian people of Drain.

A large number of the citizens of Drain attended the unveiling of a monument erected to the memory of a deceased neighbor of the order of Woodmen of the World, at Comstock on Sunday last. The ceremony was impressive. This should remind us all of the certainty of death and prepare for the event, temporally and spiritually.

Rev. Grannis, financial agent of the Willamette, addressed the citizens of Drain on Thursday evening on education. It was edifying. Hon. Tillman Lord addressed the people of this "neck o' the woods," on the issues of this presidential campaign on Wednesday evening. The large audience indicates the interest taken in the campaign.

The State Normal School is growing in favor and in numbers. The attendance is much larger than at any time last year, and is increasing weekly. Growth in progressive thought characterizes the school. The students manifest a deep interest in all their work.

Mrs. B. D. Boswell of Boswell Springs left for San Francisco on Monday to visit her cousin, Miss Effie Stewart, a professional singer, who is filling an engagement at that place. Captain Boswell expects to follow in a few days.

BORN.

LONG—In Cottage Grove on October 15, 1900, to the wife of E. W. Long a daughter.

It is nice to be a papa Ed and your many friends wish you joy. Mother and baby are doing nicely. The little lady will demand lots of attention, but why not, it is the only cherub in the family and the first. The Nugget extends congratulations.

MARRIED.

BEAGLE-HARMES—In Cottage Grove October 15, 1900, at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Harmes, A. H. Beagle to Miss Anna Harmes, the Rev. W. V. McGee officiating.

The ceremony that united this young couple was attended by many friends and relatives of the contracting parties. They have long resided in this community, the bride being a native of this town; they stand high in the estimation of all who know them and they begin life's journey together with the best wishes of all. The new home about completed near the Presbyterian church is to be the domestic nest wherein they will dwell, and where the Nugget hopes that love will rule, affection guide and peace and happiness abide. A sumptuous repast was served to the invited guests and everybody at the wedding had a jolly good time.

BROWN-GARROUETTE—At the home of the bride's parents on the Coast Fork on October 13, 1900, Grant Brown to Miss Colletta Garrouette, the Rev. C. E. C. and all officiating.

Many friends gathered at the home of the bride to see the nuptial knot tied and extend their hearty congratulations. They start the matrimonial journey in double harness with yokes of velvet and lines of ribbon and have the path before them to mar or make a peaceful and pleasant passage. The Nugget wishes them the best of luck through life and several little Browns to crown their happy union.

MOTHERS!

Don't Let Baby Suffer.

THERE IS ONLY ONE THING KNOWN for aiding the teething process and slow growth in infants and children, and that is, for very obvious reasons, called ANTIFRET. It stops the fretting, restlessness, general feebleness, colic and diarrhoea. Prevents brain troubles and convulsions. Renders lancing gums unnecessary. It has been estimated that five millions of babies die annually for want of mothers knowing what to do. Dentition is the dangerous period of child life, far to serious to be discounting her teeth. Your child needs "honest" relief. ANTIFRET supplies this. It is tasteless, dissolves in milk and taken early. One box will save your baby untold misery. Sent postpaid by return mail on receipt of 50 cents. Full instructions with each. Address INLAND DRUG CO., 2991 Washington Street, San Francisco, Cal. Antifret certainly relieves teething babies that we will on all packages sold by mail refund the money by sending stamps in full for those returned within 30 days not over one fourth each.

A multiplicity of paramount issues has not been productive of harmony in the democratic household. Even those who desire to follow their leaders have had to "about face" so often that they cannot for the life of them tell whether they are coming or going.
