ECZEMA'S ITOH IS TORTURE.

Eczeema is caused by an acid humor in the blood coming in contact with the skin and producing great redness and inflammation; little pustular eruptions form and discharge a thin, sticky fluid, which dries and scales off; sometimes the skin is dry, and fissured. Eczeema in any form is a tormenting, stubborn disease, the itching and burning at times are almost unbearable; the acid burning humor seems to ooze out and set the skin on fire. Salves, washes nor other external applications do any real good, for as long as the poison remains in the blood it will keep the skin irritated.

BAD FORM OF TETTER.

"For three years I had Tetters on my hands, which caused them to swell to twice their natural size. Part of the time the disease was in the form of running sores, very painful, and causing me much discomfort. Four doctors said the Tetters had progressed too far to be cured, and they would do nothing for me. I took only three bottles of S. S. S. and was completely cured. This was fifteen years ago and I have never since seen any sign of my old trouble."—Mrs. S. S. JACKSON, 1414 McGee St., Kansas City, Mo.

S. S. S. neutralizes this acid poison, cools the blood and restores it to a healthy, natural state, and the rough, unhealthy skin becomes soft, smooth and clear.

SSS cures Tetters, Erysipelas, Psoriasis, Salt Rheum and all skin diseases due to a poisoned condition of the blood. Send for our book and write us about your case. Our physicians have made these diseases a life study, and can help you by their advice; we make no charge for this service. All correspondence is conducted in strictest confidence.

HOW THEY DO IT IN JAPAN.

Reporters Make Thorough Work When They Interview a Man.

"Before I went to Japan," said a prominent Western railroad official who has recently returned from a visit to the Mikado's kingdom, "I used to think that our American newspaper reporters were the most inquisitive class of men in the world, but this idea was very soon dispelled from my mind when I arrived at Tokio. Four interviewers for the vernacular press called upon me before I had been five hours on Japanese soil, and when I succumbed, after vainly pleading privilege, it was to find that the alert-minded Japs had simply taken the American system of interviewing and reduced it to the simplest terms, not to say an absurdum. With them, interviewing is business from the start, like pulling a tooth or boring a hole. They waste no time over pleasant introductory remarks about the weather or your voyage.

"The operation is as follows: You receive a card bearing a series of cabalistic marks, and uncertain whether your visitor is a minister of state or a guide in want of a job, you go downstairs and discover a dapper little gentleman, in appearance about 19, dressed in faultless foreign fashion, tennis shoes, flannel trousers, white vest, blue coat, flowing necktie, spectacles, and with helmet, and speaking English with the accuracy and impressiveness of a copybook.

"Good-morning. Are you Mr. Blank?"

"Good-morning. I am."

"Well, I am the reporter of the So-and-So newspaper of Tokio. Will you permit me to interview you?"

"With pleasure."

"The interviewer then takes a seat, produces a notebook and pencil and begins with the directness of a census taker: 'How old are you, and where were you born? And when you tell him that you were born of poor but respectable parents in the year 1, let us say, he gravely commits the unfamiliar phrase to paper.

"How long will you stay? How long since you started? Where have you been? What is the circulation of your paper? How do you like Japan? What do they think of Japan in America? These were a few of the questions pressed upon me, and I answered them as best I could."

"What do you think it looks like, paw?" little Albert ast.

"Oh about like the middle of a Frog pond along tords Christmas," paw sed.

"It wouldn't be so Bad if we Didn't haft to send relief expeditions to Bring the explorers Back as soon as they hoist a Flag thury Seven feet neerer the pole then enybuddy ever Got before. That costs good munny that mite be used for publishing Speeches Statesmen were going to make in Congress if they Didn't get hef to Print, and sending millions of them out all over the country where they won't ever get Red. Think how much nobuller it would be to save hewmun lifes that way than by sending the munny to rescue Artek explorers that didn't haft to go in the first place."

"Well, do you Think it'll ever be Found?" maw ast.

"Yes," paw sed, "some day it'll get rumored that they are Gold there, and Then England'll send a war Shlp and some Surveyors up and run her boundary Line through it, so only one edge'll be Sticken outside for the other nations to camp on."—Chicago Times-Herald.

FRUIT LOSING ITS TASTE.

Many Varieties Once Luscious Becoming Very insipid.

"What has become of the fruit that used to taste?" asked the distracted man who had just taken a bite from a peach that glowed in delicate shades of pink and gold. "Where are the peaches that used to have the real taste and juice and flavor and were a delight to eat? I have just paid five cents for a large delicious looking peach that is as dry as sawdust and as little more to suggest that it is fruit and not cotton batting. Such beautiful colors I have never seen before, and so far as their merely spectacular features are concerned the peach of the day is a great improvement on its predecessors. But it is of no earthly use for any purpose. It is dry and flavorless and does not repay the trouble of eating it. I can remember, however, quite another peach which was common enough some years ago, although it seems to be rare enough now. The good peaches are as difficult to find as the peaches, and the quality of the ordinary run just as poor. They are more beautiful than ever to look at, but are tasteless. Nobody seems able to tell just why fruit should have lost its quality so completely. But the fact is remarked by everybody. All I can say is that these two particular kinds of fruit would never have gained their present reputation if they had always tasted as they do now. As the fruit stands grow large and elaborate the quality of the fruit itself seems to become poorer and poorer."—New York Sun.

Small Horses Found to Be Best.

The experience of the British in South Africa is said to have demonstrated the superiority of small horses to the larger as draft animals in the field of hostilities. They can go longer without food, it is said, can do just as much work and make a smaller target for the enemy.

MANY SUFFERERS

WHAT A LARGE NUMBER OF PEOPLE ARE ENDURING.

A Distressing Condition in Which Many American People Are Involved—The Only Way to Alleviate It.

From the Mountaineer, Wahalla, N. Dakota.

The remorse of a guilty stomach is what a very large majority of the people of this nation are suffering with today. It is a well known fact that dyspepsia is a characteristic American disease and it is frequently stated that "we are a nation of dyspeptics."

It is a distressing ailment and because of its many forms is difficult to treat. Sometimes it is the result of improper modes of eating, improper food or mental worry and exhaustion; then again it may be sort of a depressed condition of the body and treatment should be directed to the restoration of the health, without special attention to the stomach. In other instances, the disease is evidently the result of inflammation of the stomach.

Any one of these conditions produce a lack of vitality in the system, by causing the blood to lose its life sustaining elements. The blood is the vital element in our lives and should be carefully nurtured. Restore the blood to its proper condition, dyspepsia will vanish and perfect health follow.

For example, in the county of Penma, North Dakota, a few miles from Wahalla, resides Mr. Ernest Snider; man of sterling integrity, whose racey cannot be doubted. He was formerly a resident of Landdowne, N. D., but removed to the West and is a prosperous farmer.

For three years he has been unable to his work because he was ill with dyspepsia. "I became seriously ill out three years ago," he says, and consulted a doctor who gave me some medicine for indigestion. I continued grow worse and several physicians are called at intervals who gave me temporary relief, but the disease returned with all its accustomed severity.

"The distress after eating made me dread meal time. At times I became so dizzy as to be unable to stand. I had sour stomach, heartburn, palpitation of heart, and weak nerves. The doctors disagreed as to the nature of my disease, but all agreed that the stomach was affected. I suffered intensely and life was a misery.

"I tried several well-known remedies, but was not benefited.

"I read in the newspapers articles regarding the wonderful curative powers of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and finally after some urging on the part of a friend, I concluded to try the pills. I purchased six boxes. This was five months ago.

"I had not taken all of the first box before I felt much relief, I continued taking the pills, and after using four boxes I was cured. I have none of those distressing symptoms now and am completely restored to health, and can do as much work as any of the laborers on my farm. I owe my restoration to health to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and gladly give my testimonial, hoping it may prove beneficial to some persons similarly affected.

By restoring to the blood the requisite constituents of life, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People renew the nerve force and enable the stomach to promptly and properly assimilate the food, thus speedily and permanently curing the dyspeptic. These pills are a specific for all diseases having their origin in impoverished blood or disordered nerves. They contain every element requisite to general nutrition, to restore strength to the weak, good health to the ailing. Physicians prescribe them, druggists recommend them and everywhere the people use them.
