FOR PRESIDENT
WILLIAM McKINLEY
OF OHIO

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT
THEO. ROOSEVELT
OF NEW YORK.

Do you want to continue the present good business conditions, which give employment to all and better wages than ever before paid? If so, vote for McKinley, for under his administration the protective tariff and sound money principles for which the republican party legislated, the depression, the idleness and want of 1893-96 have vanished. The country is now more prosperous, labor is better employed, wages are higher than ever before. It is reasonable to expect that with a continuation of McKinley's policy prosperity and employment will also continue.

If American statesmanship had no better representatives than such men as Bryan, Altgeld, Pettigrew and Tillman, the country would have to confess that "the white man's burden" was too heavy. But the mantles of Jefferson, Jackson and Lincoln have been inherited by others as patriotic as they, who will not pawn their judgment for nominations or trade their influence for votes.

Hon. O. F. Paxton of Portland will address the citizens of Cottage Grove on the political issues of this campaign from a republican standpoint at Martin's Hall on Monday, October 29. All are invited to come and hear the speaking and are assured of an interesting talk.

That all the great powers have adopted the policy of the American administration in dealing with the perplexing Chinese question is evidence of the wisdom which rules in our state department and the respect shown abroad for American opinions.

Bryan does not intend to apply the beautiful theories about the "consent of the governed" as enunciated in the Kansas City platform, to the Afro-Americans of the South. They are intended for use in far-away countries.

Many of the men who wore tin roosters upon their hats in 1892, and then wore Cleveland badges upon the seats of their breeches for four years, voted for McKinley in 1896, and they'll do it again this year.

The only German daily newspaper in Kansas has joined the big procession in that prosperous state and declared for McKinley and Roosevelt.

The more Bryan talks, the more he convinces the people that he is not constructed of the sort of timber that presidents are made of.

As the election of McKinley becomes a greater certainty, the increase of confidence in security values continues steady.

The wild predictions indulged in by Bryan shows that despair has smothered his judgment.

M. E. DEDICATION.

A LARGE AND GENEROUS AUDIENCE GATHER AT THE FORMAL OPENING.

The New House of Worship of the Methodist Episcopal Church Now Consecrated to the Service of God.

Last Sunday was a grand day in church circles. The storm that had prevailed for three days previous had settled down to a quiet calm, and the sun struggled to penetrate the fog that hung low over the valley, and for a short time did peep through the veil of mists and give assurance to all of a pleasant day. Long before the hour set for the dedicatory services at the M. E. church the streets were thronged with men, women and children wending their way toward that new temple of worship, and as the hour drew nigh for the opening service the people poured through its portals until all its available seating capacity had been occupied. The choirs of the other churches united with that of this house of worship and some beautiful praise selections were sung.

Presiding Elder Ford preached an eloquent sermon and won the hearts of his hearers. He was ably assisted in the various other functions by the resident pastor C. E. Crandall, Rev. Bryan, Rev. C. H. Wallace and Rev. Gardner.

Before the dedicatory services proper were conducted Elder Ford made it manifest that the new edifice must be clear of debt. The total cost of the church as it now stands was stated to have been $3,500. There had been $2,700 paid; $250 more were promised and there remained $550 to clear the indebtedness. Under the inspiration of the Elder and his corps of willing workers it took just 30 minutes to raise this amount and a surplus of $75. The solemn rites of the service of dedication were then performed; the choir sang the beautiful hymn "Coronation"; and with a benediction the services closed.

This church is now launched upon its mission of good under the very brightest of auspices, and has in its pastor an able, devout and energetic man who, as time goes on, will win many converts to his fold and make the moral and spiritual influence of the church felt in all this region round. The attendance of its Sabbath school is perhaps the largest in this city, and its Epworth League is in a most flourishing condition. Surely the M. E. church people have much to be thankful for and indeed they have a beautiful home in which to dwell in unity and from which their praise offerings can well out and up to the great white throne where the loving master sits and watches over all.

The handsome gain in population made by Memphis shows conclusively that the prosperity enjoyed by that Southern city is not of the temporary variety. The business men of Memphis are firm expansionists.

Democratic abuse of Governor Roosevelt indicates quite clearly that his campaign speeches are vote-makers. The largest number of clubs is always to be found under the trees bearing the best fruit.

Former President Harrison hits the nail on the head when he declares the full dinner pail is not a sordid emblem. The man who will not work and provide for his family is not a good citizen.

The democratic stone and egg throwers have manifested their dislike for Governor Roosevelt, but the American vote-casters will offset all that sort of thing on election day.

Lincoln would be sorry he said anything if he could hear Bryan quote him so often.

TONGUE SPEAKS.

A FULL HOUSE GREETES HIM WITH HONEST APPLAUSE.

For Over Two Hours He Held Their Closest Attention While He Unfolded the Live Issues Before the People in This Campaign.

Tuesday was a dark and foggy day, with intermittent falls of rain, but notwithstanding the threatening elements many people came to town from long distances out to hear the Hon. Thomas H. Tongue discuss the political situation that today confronts the American people. He was advertised for 2 o'clock, but the train that brought him did not arrive until nearly five. He was met at the depot by a large number of our most prominent citizens and escorted to the Hotel Sherwood, where an informal reception was held for half an hour. As the Opera House, where he was to speak, had been engaged for a democratic speaker that evening, the committee provided Masonic Hall. At 7:30 the people began to come and by 8 o'clock the hall was filled and but little standing room remained unoccupied. Among the audience was a goodly number of ladies.

Hon. James Hemenway presided over the meeting and in a neat and apt little speech presented the speaker of the evening Hon. Thomas H. Tongue, who spoke for over two hours and held the closest attention of his hearers. He claimed that the administration had fulfilled every and all the pledges made four years ago, and as a result the factories all over this country are running, the laborer everywhere has now employment and a full dinner-pail; an increased volume of money in the country and an increase in wages, while there was a decrease of interest.

In his defense of the administration's Philippine policy he made a thoroughly sound and most comprehensive argument. He proved the title of this country to the Philippines by every principle of international law to be perfect, right and just, and said that the utter weakness of imperialism as an issue would be proven.

The prosperous conditions that prevail today was forcibly contrasted with the hard times of four years ago.

On the question of trusts he completely upset all the arguments of the opposition and placed the credit for the only legislation ever enacted to down the trusts where it rightfully belonged to a republican administration.

Throughout his speech his language was choice, no epithet or abuse being used, and at times he became most eloquent and flowery. Generous applause greeted him and the instruction and information he imparted made the large audience feel better for having listened to the arguments he so ably expounded.

LITTLE ANNIE SOLD.

The "Little Annie" mining claim was sold by J. M. Hart and Annie Hart to M. S. Herring and J. A. Childers, two well known and successful mining men, last Thursday, for a valuable consideration. This property is situated on Elephant mountain and is said to be one of the best properties in camp, and gives every promise of developing into an immensely rich property. Mr. Childers who has negotiated the sale in the interest of his partner and self, was met here this week by his wife and will shortly be enroute to California where they will spend the winter. As soon as spring opens Mr. Childers will be upon the recently acquired property and commence active development work. He has been in close touch with various properties in the district for the past year and feels that he has been fortunate enough to secure one of the choicest in the diggings.

Bryan is already defeated and he knows it, but he must keep up his continuous oratorical performance.

The great increase in the price of cotton in the South will make votes for McKinley.

President McKinley has handled the reins of government in a masterly manner. The people are satisfied and he will be re-elected.

It is said that the Northern Democrat is opposed to the Southern Democratic injustice to the Afro-American. If so, why do they not object to it in the councils of the party?

The American people have a substratum of good sense, and although many listen to Bryan's peculiar financial theories, they will not vote for him on November 6.

MOTHERS!

Don't Let Baby Suffer.
THERE IS ONLY ONE THING KNOWN for aiding the teething process and slow growth in infants and children, and that is, for very obvious reasons, called ANTI-FRET. It stops the fretting, restlessness, general feebleness, colic and diarrhoea. Prevents brain troubles and convulsions. Renders lashing guns unnecessary. It has been estimated that five millions of babies die annually for want of mothers knowing what to do. Lethargy is the dangerous period of child life, far to serious to be dismissed with the careless remark "Baby is cutting her teeth." Your child needs home made material. ANTI-FRET supplies this easily. One box will save your baby untold misery. Sent postpaid by return mail on receipt of 50 cents. Full instructions with each. Address INDIAN DRUG CO., 2301 Washington street, San Francisco, Cal. Anti-fret so certainly relieves teething babies that we will on all packages sold by mail refund the money by sending stamps in full for those returned within 30 days not over one-fourth used.
