REVOLUTION IN SPAIN

Government Claims to Have Checked the Uprising.

THE MOVEMENT WAS PREMATURE

The Clergy Implicated in the Affair, Which Was Strengthened by the Crisis in Catalonia.

Madrid, Nov. 3.—The latest news of the Carlist movement is more favorable to the government. It is asserted that the chief of the Berga band has offered to surrender, if he is pardoned, but it is added that the government has decided to act vigorously and pardon no one. The Basque provinces remain quiet. The following statement has been issued by the Spanish minister of the interior: "The revolutionary movement is on the decline. It is now limited to the hand in the mountains near Berga, which is fleeing before several columns of government troops. The rest of the peninsula is calm. The troops have returned to Igalada. They encountered no revolutionaries."

The Movement Was Premature. Paris, Nov. 3.—The Temps this evening publishes a dispatch from Madrid, which says the military authorities of Barcelona are censoring all the local papers, that all information respecting the Carlists is prohibited, and that nothing is allowed to be telegraphed or telephoned except official bulletins. The correspondent of the Temps adds: "It is now certain the bands of Carlists are more numerous than at first stated. The two bands number 800 men each, and the movement is well organized, but premature. The Liberal and Republican press declare the vitality of Carlistism is due to the freedom allowed the religious orders. The lower clergy are implicated in the uprising, which is strengthened by the industrial crisis in Catalonia."

Carlists and Catalonians. New York, Nov. 3.—It is learned from Biarritz, says a Paris dispatch to the Times, that the Spanish Carlists are trying to approach the Catalonian revolutionists with a view to common action against the present Spanish government. It is not thought, however, that the Catalonians will identify their cause with the Carlists, and it is said to be unlikely that the latter will make much headway. Weyler's appointment as captain-general of Madrid was directed by the government's fear of trouble in Catalonia.

MATTERS IN COLOMBIA. The Liberals Have Started a Second Revolution.

New York, Nov. 3.—C. B. Hart, United States minister to Colombia, South America, who has arrived here, and is on his way to his home in Wheeling, W. Va., said in an interview that matters in Colombia are sadly mixed. The Liberals started a second revolution a few days ago, and it has developed great strength. The fighting has been fierce and up to date the killed and wounded have numbered 30,000.

"While the Liberals have met with much success, it is my belief that the government will be eventually successful. But the revolution is seriously disturbing business. General Prospero Pinzon is in command of the government forces, and the revolutionists are commanded by General Rafael Uribe. The scene of the trouble is the department of Cauca.

"In the recent election, San Clement and Senor Marroquin were elected president and vice-president respectively. San Clement, on account of the state of his health, could not live in Bogota, and went to Villeta. In his absence, Marroquin started a rebellion and assumed the presidency, securing the recognition of all the foreign powers except the papal see. Both San Clement and Marroquin, however, are drawing their salaries of 86,000 pesos per annum. This is payable in silver, but the currency of Colombia is so upset that it is difficult to place a value upon it.

"There is a demand there for Benito Seamala, who is here in New York. He was formerly United States vice-consul at Bogota. The Marroquin government charges him with conspiracy and he is practically an exile."

The Alvord Case. New York, Nov. 3.—The case of Cornelius L. Alvord, the defaulting note taker of the First National bank, who is charged with embezzling $890,000 worth of the bank's funds, was not transferred to the United States courts today, as had been expected. Alvord's counsel objected to the transfer, and the case was postponed until tomorrow.

Washington, Nov. 3.—General MacArthur, at Manila, notified the war department today that Major John Davis, United States volunteer, died at Manila this morning of chronic Bright's disease. Major Davis was a native of Illinois and a veteran of the war of the rebellion. At the time of his death he was chief surgeon of the Third district of Southern Luzon.

Hamburg, Nov. 3.—The provincial court has laid an embargo upon bar gold to the value of 2,500,000 marks, which arrived at Cuxhaven today on the imperial steamer Bundesath, from Delagoa bay. This step was taken, it is alleged, for the purpose of reimbursing insurance companies here for gold withheld by the Transvaal government during the war. The Hamburgische Boersen Halle, however, denies a rumor that the gold was shipped by Mr. Kruger.

HELD UP A PAY WAGON.

A Desperate Attack Made by Four Italian Miners.

Mount Pleasant, Pa., Nov. 2.—Four Italian miners attempted to rob Pay Clerk William Hostler, of the Southwest Connelleville Coke Company, while he was making his trip today between this city and Alverton with the pay roll of the Alverton & Tarr Works, amounting to $4,000. Mr. Hostler is dead, his companion, Harry Burgess, messenger of the company, is wounded, two of the Italians are dead, a third fatally wounded and the fourth is in jail.

Hostler and Burgess left this city at 1 o'clock this afternoon with the safe containing the money. When they reached the summit of the long hill just below which lies Alverton, a large coke town, without a second's warning four Italians fired a volley from their hiding place, and sprang forward, firing as they advanced. Mr. Hostler fell dead at the first volley. Young Burgess, the wounded man, was able to return the robbers' fire with effect, and one of the number at the horses' heads fell dead. A few seconds later he fired his revolver in the face of another, and as the thief fell his two remaining companions, became terrified, and, leaving the dead one, set out with the wounded one over the hill to the south.

Burgess managed to drive on to Alverton with the body of Mr. Hostler and the safe, where he gave the alarm. Mount Pleasant and vicinity, with the clerical force of the coke company, turned out, and soon cornered the two, who had concealed themselves in a field on the Durstine farm, a mile from this town. A summons to surrender was answered by a volley, in which one of the posse received a slight wound in the chest. The outlaws from their fortified position made a fierce stand for a few minutes, until one of the posse succeeded in getting in their rear. He shot one through the head, killing him. The other surrendered. In the meantime, another division of the posse overhauled the third robber, who had received a ghastly wound. The ball, entering his mouth, penetrated his head, and came out at the back of his neck. He is not expected to recover.

OPPOSED TO ANNEXATION.

St. Croix People Want to Remain Under Danish Rule.

St. Thomas, D. W. I., Nov. 2.—At an extraordinary meeting of the colonial council at St. Croix, D. W. I., Monday, the vice-chairman denounced the statements made by A. J. Blackwood, the United States consul at St. Croix, and chairman of the colonial council, in an interview printed in New York, October 26, in which Mr. Blackwood was quoted as saying the sentiment of the people of the Danish West Indies is strongly in favor of annexation. The vice-chairman said the allegations made were opposed to the facts in the case, and that Mr. Blackwood spoke without the council's authority. A resolution was adopted to cable King Christian, of Denmark, submissively expressing "the wish of the inhabitants to continue under the Danish crown," and expressing the belief that annexation to the United States would be against the wishes of the majority of the inhabitants. Some of the members protested against the passage of the resolutions, but the vice-chairman overruled them. There was a torchlight procession Monday night styled "The People's Protest." A very long and orderly crowd, headed by a band of music, marched through the town.

SHE MUST BE DEPOSED

Powers Determined to Remove Chinese Empress.

CREATION OF INDEMNITY FUND

Other Question Considered Is the Establishment of Foreign Ministry.

Washington, Nov. 5.—It was stated today in quarters well versed in Chinese affairs, that outside of the question of indemnity, punishments, etc., now under negotiation at Pekin, there are three vital and far-reaching questions to be determined, viz.: First, the removal of the empress dowager, personally and through the influence of her advisers, from all participation in the Chinese government; second, the creation of an indemnity fund by the increase of China's customs revenue, either by the payment of the duties in gold instead of depreciated silver, as at present, or else doubling the present silver duties from 5 per cent to 10 per cent ad valorem, and third, the establishment of a minister of foreign affairs, in place of the old cumbersome system of the Tsung li Yamen.

The demand for the retirement of the empress dowager is said to result from the conclusion now generally accepted that the imperial government of China was responsible for the Boxer uprising. As the empress dowager was the ruling authority of the imperial government during the uprising, this responsibility is brought home directly to her. There is understood to be no purpose, however, to visit upon her any personal punishment or indignity, but merely so to form the reconstructed government as to exclude her from all participation in it. It is deemed advisable for that reason that she should remain permanently away from Pekin, and that her advisers also should be kept away from the seat of government.

The plan of doubling China's customs duties has arisen from the need of finding a source to pay war indemnities, which the various powers demand.

THEY GIVE NO QUARTER.

German Troops in China Obey the Kaiser's Instructions.

Berlin, Nov. 5.—Considerable impatience at the meagerness of the news from China is finding expression here. The inference is that German censorship over such information is very strict. Letters from privates in China beg to find their way into the Social-Democratic papers, showing that the German troops give no quarter. The Bremen Buerger Zeitung publishes a letter from a soldier in Pekin, who said he witnessed the following scene: "Sixty-eight captives, some of them not yet adults, were tied together by their pigtails, beaten bloody by the Germans, compelled to dig their own graves, and then shot en masse." The Halberstadter Volks Zeitung prints a communication from Pekin, in which the writer says: "No prisoners are taken. All are shot or preferably sabred to save ammunition. Sunday afternoon we had to bayonet 74 prisoners. They had killed one of our patrolmen. An entire battalion pursued them and captured 74 alive. It was cruel; it was indescribable."

Escaped From Alcatraz.

San Francisco, Nov. 5.—Three prisoners have escaped from the United States military prison on Alcatraz island. Among the escaped prisoners was Frank Kinne, who was under a sentence of 15 years for desertion and treason. Kinne was brought here a few months ago in irons from Manila. He had deserted his command and accepted a commission from the rebel army. He was caught leading a charge of rebels. In the number captured by the American troops at the time Kinne was taken were several American prisoners. Kinne claimed to be himself a prisoner of the Filipinos, but the Americans who were with the party declared this to be a falsehood, and denounced the man as a traitor and a rebel. He was tried by court-martial and sentenced to serve 15 years at Alcatraz. The others who escaped with Kinne are C. F. Huntington, under sentence of 10 years, and J. M. Potts, serving five years.

Scared Her to Death.

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 5.—The authorities of Allegany county are looking for the persons who manufactured a skeleton out of animal bones which frightened Mary Oldfield, of Karrdale, to death Wednesday night. Mary Oldfield, accompanied by two friends, was returning from a Halloween party, where they had listened to gruesome stories until their hair stood on end. When about to enter the woods a rattling of bones was heard overhead, and looking up the trio were overcome with horror at seeing a skeleton of gigantic proportions sweeping down on them from above. With a cry of terror Mary dropped dead. A searching party found a wire leading from the ground to a tree top to which was attached a skeleton by a pulley.

WU ON NATIONAL HONOR

The Chinese Minister's Speech at Carnegie Institute.

Pittsburg, Nov. 5.—With a great enthusiasm past all precedents, the fifth founder's day of Carnegie Institute was celebrated today. In more than 6,000 people thronged in their desire to express to Andrew Carnegie, guest of the day, Minister Wu Fang, their homage, and of the thousands of art and science and literature their regard. Minister Wu, speaker of the day, was greeted with prolonged applause. He said in part: "China has a great deal to learn from this young republic. I believe, however, that she will learn, not the arts of war, which have for their end and aim the destruction of their happiness and welfare of the nation. No nation can become really great, unless its greatness does not lie in the extent of territory nor in the strength of battalions, but in the character of the people. From personal observation I am inclined to believe that the American people possess an element of national greatness in a degree.

"The test of loftiness of character is to possess boundless power without abusing it. Wealth is power. What can you find such vast accumulations of wealth in private hands as in America, with so little attendant evil as in other countries? I have seen countries where the rich oppress the poor and the poor curse the rich. There money is the root of all evil. The reverse is the case in America. Here the money is used for the benefit of the people, and people have good reason to thank the rich. In other words, American wealth are public benefactions. Have not far to go for an example. Your midst you have a signal instance of this class of philanthropic wealth. This institution is an enduring monument of the founder's munificence. Here one can find the most effective means for the enlightening of the mind and the uplifting of the soul. Books, paintings and sculpture specimens of objects possessing educational value are accessible to all, and to all persons. The day will come when foreigners will visit this city, not so much to see the great industrial establishments as to see the institution, which spreads its influence far and wide. This city will be equally famous for the great educator as a manufacturing center. May the standing monument of the founder's beneficence stimulate others to like this noble example. May the founder's day, which I heartily join you in celebrating, be ever remembered from year to year as an event of national interest."

After the exercises a reception was tendered to Minister Wu in the gallery, where the distinguished guest met and shook hands with about 150 people.

In 1812 he was made a free man and then came North and was employed by George Green, a Long Island farmer, with whom he remained for years. Green's faculties remained impaired until 15 years ago, when he began to lose his mind, and he entered the poorhouse, where he lived ever since. He used both white and tobacco, but is said never to have shown any bad effects from either. He was married several times and said to have been the father of 37 children, most of whom are dead.
