CATARH

has become such a common complaint that a person entirely free from it is customarily to speak of Catarh as more serious than a bad cold, inflammation of the nose and

It is, in fact, a complicated and dangerous disease; if not at first, it soon becomes so.

Blood is quickly contaminated by several secretions, and the poison of the general circulation is carried parts of the system.

Washes and sprays are unsatisfactory and disappointing, because they reach the seat of the trouble. S. does. It cleanses the blood of the and eliminates from the system all secretions, and thus cures thoroughly and permanently the worst cases.

H. McAllister, of Harrodsburg, Ky., having been a terrible sufferer from Catarh, and being now well, the question put to me is, "Are you still a sufferer?" I am not, but my duty to Dr. Williams' Specific Medicine, and my belief in the power of his specific and confidence in him have caused me to return to him again and again.

He has been a great help to me and I am happy to say that I have had no trouble since I last took his medicine. I am happy to say that any case of Catarh that takes account of his medicine will be cured.
