

GETTING READY.

G. H. Stone is now busily engaged preparing for the setting of the new turbine water wheel which will be used to generate power in the new light plant. The wheel comes from the factory at St. Louis and is expected to be shipped by the 15th. Mr. Abrams the owner of the new light plant has entered into a contract with Mr. Stone, whereby Mr. Stone agrees to furnish the building and an adequate water power. However in view of the failure of the water power to furnish sufficient power to keep the lights up to their required brilliancy, Mr. Abrams will put in two engines and two boilers. The boilers are about 35 horsepower each, and with this complement there will be little cause for dark nights in Cottage Grove.

PREPARING A NEW CHARTER.

Attorneys Eby & Johnson are now busy preparing a revised charter for the City of Cottage Grove, which will go before the next Oregon legislature for consideration. The former charter was found to cover insufficient grounds for the existing conditions and to be of a too general nature for the needs of the municipality, although at the time it was drawn it answered the purpose and sufficed to harmonize the ideas of many of the good citizens of this city.

GOOD NIGHT WATCH.

Bert Nunn has accepted the position of night watchman and is now on duty looking after the interests of the city and causing the "weary Waggles" contingent to "move on." Bert is a good, clever fellow but a man who is inclined to do his duty, and if he follows out the duty part of it he is exactly the right man in the right place.

E. F. LODGE.

The good people of Drain have shown an inclination to delve into the mysteries of Pythian Knight-hood and on Saturday night a subordinate lodge of that order will be organized there with a full quota of charter members. It is said that many of the Grand Officers of the State of Oregon will be in attendance and some say the Grand Chancellor will be with them. Quite a number of members from Roseburg, Eugene and Cottage Grove lodges will also be in attendance.

THE FINISHING COAT.

Contractor Lea is now busily engaged putting the top dressing of fine rock on Wall street, and as soon as that street is completed the same treatment will be given Main street. It is said that Mr. Lea expects to fill up the square at the junction of the two streets although his contract does not call for it. When this work is completed, Cottage Grove will have two as good streets as can be found in any town in Oregon.

THE PENOCHE CLUB.

Was entertained last Tuesday evening at the residence of H. W. Churchill. The evening was most pleasantly spent in social converse, music and games until about 10 o'clock when that most delicious penocche was served. Those present were Mesdames H. W. Churchill, Eva Hemenway, Pearl Bernfield, Netta Garred, Eva Trimble; Messrs Roy Baker and Ollie Churchill; Messrs. Almon Hemenway, Henry Wagner and A. P. Churchill.

MAY NOT LIVE.

J. V. Thornton returned home Tuesday morning from a visit to his old home at Sheridan, Yamhill county, where he was called to the bedside of his aged father Isaac Thornton. The gentleman is in his eighty-fifth year and there is little hope entertained for his recovery.

$15,000 IN THREE DAYS.

Reliable information is received at this office that a recent three day's run of the five stamp mill at the Helena mine, $15,000.00 of the yellow metal was cleaned up. The ore from which this clean up was made came from No. 1 level, where the recent new big strike was made, mention of which was made in this paper at the time.

WEARY OF LIFE!

With a Revolver, and by His Own Hand, "Will" Jones Ends His Career.

Thursday morning at 7:15 o'clock a pistol shot rang out upon the still air and with the report the light of a life was snuffed out and another soul was waited through the mysterious curtain of eternity. Will Jones had committed suicide.

For nearly two years Mr. Jones had been in a despondent condition of mind and at times would break from his good resolutions to refrain from drink, and dissipate to a considerable extent, although until last night he had been upon good behavior for several months. At about 7 o'clock Thursday morning he went to his room over Smith's cigar store and taking his coat off threw himself upon his bed, placed the muzzle of a .34 revolver to his heart and pulled the trigger.

The report startled his father who was at his place of business a few doors away and he spoke to a friend to go up and see if there was anything wrong with "Will," as the boy a few moments before had told his father he was tired of life and bade him goodbye, saying that after "today he would never see him." Mr. Jones however, at the time did not think seriously of the matter as the boy had at such times made similar remarks. When Charles Geldmacher reached the room he was horror struck to see the boy lying on his bed gasping with the blood streaming from a bullet hole over his heart.

Dr. Snapp arrived in a few moments in time to see him gasp the last time and pronounced him dead.

THE INQUEST.

The following is the verdict of the jury empanelled by Justice Vaughn acting coroner:

We, the jury duly empanelled to inquire into the death of Joseph W. Jones, find that the deceased was a native of Oregon of the age of 22 years, and that he came to his death from the effects of a pistol shot fired by him with suicidal intent, on the 13th day of December 1900, at Cottage Grove, Oregon.

R. W. VRATCH foreman
E. R. CASE
C. H. WALLACE
ARTHUR SPRAY
E. A. WILSON
James P. MILLER
Jurymen.

Joseph W. Jones was the son of J. N. Jones and has been a resident of Cottage Grove for a number of years.

He was 22 years old, born in Marion county, where he lived with his parents until nearly man grown. He was a good boy in the general sense of the word, generous to a fault and always his own worst enemy. Despite his recklessness and inclination at times to drink, he was when not intoxicated, a gentleman, always respecting those with whom he came in contact, and appreciated in others qualities which he himself at times neglected to cultivate in himself. Notwithstanding his recklessness in life he had many friends who knew him for his generosity, and kindheartedness.

FINED.—

Sam Richards was up before Recorder Medley last Wednesday and fined $2.50 and costs for being drunk and disorderly upon the streets of Cottage Grove.

LANOLA BALM—

Is conceded by all ladies who have used it to be unequalled for the cure of diseases peculiar to their sex. For particulars write to Lanola Agency, P. O. Box 766, Portland, Ore.

SERIOUSLY ILL.—

Uncle Jack Sears who resides east of this city, one of Lane county's old and respected pioneers, is reported lying seriously ill. The gentleman is well into the eighties.

PLEASE RETURN IT.—

The party who carried away the roll of manuscript from the doorstep of the Nugget office last Tuesday morning, will please return the same. The manuscript referred to was left on the doorstep of this office before office hours and was intended for publication in this week's paper. It was of considerable importance and we will be glad to have it returned.

RETURNED.—

Geo. W. Lloyd, well known here and in Cripple Creek as mining engineer and mining man, arrived here last Wednesday after an absence of nearly a year. Mr. Lloyd has spent the greater part of the time in the east with Boston as his headquarters, in the interest of his mining properties, some of which are located in Bohemia. Mr. Lloyd comes back to take hold of the helm and put his properties in shape for extensive development the coming year. He is highly spoken of here and else where and his permanent return gives satisfaction and pleasure to his many friends here.

AT THE OPERA HOUSE.—

The Uncle Josh Spruceby Company played at Martin's Hall on Wednesday night to a fairly well filled house. Uncle Josh, the supposed "star" does not rate with even a third-class performer. In fact the only clever part of the entire play was by Uncle Josh's daughter Nancy. When you see the street parade and hear the music you have the best part of the show.

SPECIAL SALE.—

On Friday and Saturday, Dec. 21 and 22 the entire stock of dress and street hats will be sold at and below cost at Louise Newland's

FOOT BALL.—

A game of foot ball will be played on the Landess grounds, east of town, Saturday, at 1:15 p.m., between a team from Drain and the Bohemian team of this place. An interesting game is expected.
