

Eruptions

Dry, moist, scaly, letter, all forms of eczema or salt rheum, pimples and other cutaneous eruptions proceed from humors, either inherited, or acquired through defective digestion and assimilation.

To treat these eruptions with drying medicines is dangerous.

The thing to do is to help the system discharge the humors, and to strengthen it against their return.

Hood's Sarsaparilla permanently cured J. G. Hines, Franks, Ill., of eczema, from which he had suffered for some time as Miss Arina Weller, Box 217, Algona, Wis., of pimples on her face and back and chafed skin on her body, by which she had been greatly troubled. There are more testimonials in favor of this great medicine than can be published.

New Use for Aluminum.

Experiments are being made to discover if aluminum may not be used in the manufacture of high-class wind instruments. If this could be done it is thought it would be very desirable, on account of verdigris deposits, and as it is not easily affected by changes of temperature the instruments would be less likely to get out of tune.

ENJOY THE WALKING TOURS.

German School Children Visit the Country Districts Afoot.

"While I was in Germany a few weeks ago," said a New Orleans business man who has recently returned from a trip abroad, "I encountered a party of public school boys on one of the 'walking tours' that form part of the educational system over there. The youngsters range in age from about 10 to 14 and the tour was scheduled to last a week over a carefully prearranged route. It struck me as being an excellent idea and I was particularly impressed by what the teacher in charge referred to as 'eye training.' He would point out a piece of forest, for example, and call the boys' attention to the fact that the foliage was not a uniform green, but was really made up of an infinite number of tints and shades, ranging from light yellow to deep purple. That led the way to a little talk about the law of optics and color impressions, all very simple and informal and evidently deeply interesting to the scholars. They listened attentively, asking questions and making comments to one another and it was so much like a friendly conversation I dare say they forgot they were being taught.

"As they drew near the woods, the teacher indicated different trees and told them something about their character, distinguishing marks and commercial value. Chatting at a little gashouse that evening, he gave me some details in regard to the system. One of its chief objects, he said, was to train the eye to see things. After a boy had taken a 'tour' his powers of observation were at least doubled and life was proportionately more interesting and attractive. As a natural result the brain was stimulated and kept alert. In going through towns a curious game was played. The boys would be led at a rapid walk past a store window and then asked to describe the objects it contained. The one whose list was longest and most accurate received a prize, generally in the shape of a chunk of bread and a piece of sausage. The teacher said he found it excellent training and mentioned incidentally that the idea was borrowed from the memoirs of a French conjurer, Robert Houdin, whose father put him through the same course to cultivate his memory. It was an odd little circumstance and showed that the modern German is not above taking a suggestion wherever he finds it."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

BAD TIGER A MUSIC LOVER.

Violin Strains Have a Soothing Effect Upon an Angry Beast. A student of animal habits made some experiments with music at the London Zoo. Here is his account of the effect on a tiger: The violin player approached a sleeping tiger, which was lying on its side, with feet stretched touching the cage bars. He played so softly that the opening notes were scarcely audible. As the sound rose the tiger awoke, and, raising his head without moving his body, looked for some time with fixed attention at the player. It remained for some time in a very fine attitude, listening to the music, and then making the curious sound that, in tiger language, does duty for "purring." It lay down again and dozed. The soft music was played on, while the great beast lay as if lulled to sleep. The violin was then put aside for the piccolo. Judge of our surprise, when, at the first notes of the new instrument, the tiger sprung to his feet and rushed up and down the cage, shaking its head and ears and lashing its tail from side to side. As the notes became still louder and more piercing, the tiger bounded across the cage, reared on its hind legs, and exhibited the most ludicrous contrast to the calm dignity and repose with which it had listened to the violin.

Then came the final and most successful experiment. The piccolo was stopped and a very soft air played upon the flute. The difference in effect was seen at once. The tiger ceased to "rampage," and the leaps subsided to a gentle walk, until the animal came to the bars, and, standing still and quiet once more, listened with pleasure to the music.

"There are many men," the student remarks, on summing up his experiments in music at the zoo, "there are perhaps many races of men, who could not detect a discord and would be alike indifferent to harmony and its opposite. Yet among the brutes on which the experiments were tried the sudden start of displeasure at a discord was general from the snakes to the African elephant."

Substitute for Coal.

The company which has acquired the Mannheim patent for mixing coal oil with carbonaceous earths, with the object of making the substitute for coal known as "briquettes," in Germany, has begun operations. Shavings and sawdust are also being mixed with carbonaceous matters in briquettes. These briquettes are sold as fuel and are said both to produce a great heat and to cause no smoke or disagreeable odor. They are, moreover, easy to handle, and are very cheap.

Britons Must Attend Church.

Few people may be cognizant of the fact that there is in existence an act of Parliament which provides that persons who fail to attend divine services on Sunday shall be liable to imprisonment or fine. The statute dates from the period of the protectorate, but that it is rarely enforced is proved only too conclusively by the sparse attendances which take place at so many public places of worship.

SURE TO FOLLOW

If the Blood is Impoverished Diseases Which Often Puzzle Doctors are Inevitable.

From The Tribune, Webster City, Ia.

Physicians are often puzzled by an ailment that does not yield to the usual remedies, patients are caused much suffering and expense while experiments are being tried upon them, when in many cases the seat of the disorder is in the blood. If this vital fluid is impoverished disease is sure to follow. Build up the blood, the diseased part is nourished and strengthened, and health results. This is the simple history of what often appears to be a complicated case. Mr. Ezra Edwards, the well-known merchant of Webster City, Iowa, passed through such an experience. He says:

"I have always believed that my trouble was due to the impoverished condition of my blood. About four years ago my ankles began to swell and cause me great pain. I am quite heavy and as I was on my feet constantly I suffered intensely. Finally the swelling became so bad that I could not walk and for a week I was confined to my chair or bed. Three doctors treated me but did not effect a cure.

"I first heard of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People through an advertisement in a religious paper. About six months ago I began taking the pills and I felt good results from the first box. I continued taking them as directed for nearly five months. I am now 42 years old and am the picture of health. I am willing to tell the world that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cured me and I know they will cure others if they are given a thorough trial.

"Hardly a day passes that I do not tell some one of the benefits I have received from Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, for I think that any one suffering from any disorder of the blood or nerves should give them a thorough trial.

Signed, EZRA EDWARDS. Subscribed and sworn to before me this 23rd day of November, 1900. Willis G. Bonner, Notary Public. At all druggists or direct from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., 50 cents per box; 6 boxes, $2.50.

EPIDEMIC OF GRIP

WORST EVER KNOWN.

GRIP BACILLUS EVERYWHERE—IN THE AIR WE BREATHE, IN THE WATER WE DRINK, IN THE FOOD WE EAT.

Bacillus of Grip.

Magnified 16,000 Times.

Hundreds of carloads of Peruna are shipped in all directions to meet the extraordinary demand of the grip epidemic.

Everybody laying in a stock of this valuable remedy in time to meet the terrible enemy, the grip. The extensive facilities of the manufacturers taxed to their utmost to meet the urgent demand for Peruna.

Almost everybody has the grip. Almost everybody must have Peruna.

Taken at the appearance of the first symptoms of the grip, not only is Peruna a prompt cure for the grip but it prevents those disastrous after effects so characteristic of this dread disease.

Peruna not only cures the grip but prevents it.

Taken in time thousands of lives will be saved in this present epidemic. Every family should take the precaution to secure a supply of Peruna at once, for the retail and wholesale stock of the remedy may be exhausted by the enormous demand for it.

It is wisdom to have Peruna in the house even before the grip attacks the household.

It has been ascertained by a reporter that the following people of national reputation have given public endorsement and testimonials to Peruna as a remedy for the grip:

Congressman Howard, of Alabama, says: "I have taken Peruna for the grip and recommend it as an excellent remedy to all fellow sufferers."

Congressman White, of North Carolina, says: "I find Peruna to be an excellent remedy for the grip. I have used it in my family and they all join me in recommending it."

Miss Frances M. Anderson, of Washington, D. C., daughter of Judge Anderson, of Virginia says: "I was taken very ill with the grip. I took Peruna and was able to leave my bed in a week."

Mrs. Harriette A. S. Marsh, president of the Women's Benevolent Association, of Chicago, writes: "I suffered with grip seven weeks. Nothing helped me. I tried Peruna and within three weeks was fully restored. I shall never be without it again."

At the appearance of the first symptoms of the grip people should stay indoors and take Peruna in small doses (teaspoonful every hour) until the symptoms disappear. This will prevent a long, disastrous sickness and perhaps fatal results.
