FRIDAY, APRIL 26, 1901.

The recent rains are hailed with much gratification among farmers. The crops are all promising and grass is now abundant.

Cottage Grove is overlooked by the president and party on his Pacific coast trip, but this is no reason why we should overlook the president. Why not make some kind of demonstration as the presidential train passes through on the morning of May 22? We can at least fire off a few sticks of giant powder, thus letting them know that we are not only acquainted with the fact that we had an election last fall but that the news of the president's Pacific coast trip has preceded him.

The London Spectator gives Uncle Sam warning to be on the lookout for the combining of European forces with the view of overpowering this country, both as a commercial and political power. Well, Uncle Sam no doubt appreciates the good office of the Spectator, but doesn't feel the least uneasy about the proposed combination. It would be amusing to see that aggregation of European militarism attempt a landing in the United States. It would be an attempt and that is all; and when the smoke cleared away there wouldn't be enough whole European soldiers left to spread the news that there had been a fight.

The Portland Evening Telegram is highly exercised as witness its comments upon the petition and signers thereof, praying for the pardon of Frank Patterson the railroad boy who was sentenced to a term of years from the Douglas county circuit court, for the crime of rape upon the person of a young girl. The Telegram is very aggressive in its scathing criticisms of those who differ in opinion with Portland's evening paper, to the extent that they sign a petition asking for the pardon of the boy. The Telegram should remember that it is only a newspaper, of the very ordinary type, and that the people have as good a right to express their ideas by humbly signing a petition for pardon as the Telegram has to brow-beat and slander them for so doing. It bitterly attacks the "fool women" who have signed the petition. Were it not for this stroke of inconsistency the article should go unnoticed, but when the Telegram gets so low that it fails to recognize the sympathetic nature of the "mothers of men," it should be rebuked and with severity, and a lack of future patronage would probably awaken the Telegram to the realization of the enormity of its criticism. As to Patterson he is without doubt guilty; but there is much in his favor. Evidence deduced, goes to show that at least one other was equally guilty, and the fact of the matter is, through circumstances he is suffering the penalty that should have fallen to another, his senior, and a man who it is alleged influenced the boy in the matter of committing the dastardly crime. The other was proven guilty, in the mind of any fair minded man who heard preliminary and trial evidence. Now, this being the case, the fool women and many "fool men," likewise, believe that if the older one and the one whose examination brought out the most damaging testimony is to go free and unpunished, it is fair that the boy, whose incarceration is breaking the heart of an aged parent, should be liberated also.

In another column may be found the financial standing of the city of Cottage Grove, a table of the same having been handed to the Nugget through the courtesy of the Council. It shows the city 715.63 in debt when all uncollected taxes shall have been paid in. This indebtedness has accrued in the last year, and while it is not much still it is just that much of a burden to bear, and it is to be hoped that a sinking fund may soon be provided, whereby the city may pay it off together with other indebtedness as may from time to time accrue. This indebtedness is the result of street improvement, and it is quite easy to find people hereabouts who are sure they could handle the city's affairs to a much better advantage. It is quite probable that they could, especially if they had the result of the last year's expense account to go by. It is more than likely that the same council could also profit by the experience of the past twelve months and come out ahead instead of behind. It is not an agreeable thing to find a city involved even to the amount of $715.63; but we should all be charitable in our criticisms, especially when we remember that the burden of carrying the financial affairs of any city is not an easy one, and is always done gratuitously. There are two things we may congratulate ourselves upon, first, that we have no greater indebtedness; second, that we will have two as good streets as are to be found in the Willamette valley.

MARRIED.

Mr. Curtis Veatch and Miss Lena Stockwell were married Wednesday, April 18, at the home of the bride's uncle, Mr. R. D. Hawley, of Creswell. The parlors were decorated with sword fern, wild lilies and ivy and with drawn curtains and lighted lamps presented a very pretty appearance. At 11 o'clock Miss Anna Howe began the wedding march. The bride and groom entered led by little Berta Hawley, strewn violets, and followed by the maids and gentlemen of honor, Miss Meade Scott, Mr. Eugene Stockwell, Miss Virgie Shaub and Mr. George Smith. Rev. Samuel Snyder, of the M. E. church, performed the ceremony. After congratulations the company sat down to a toothsome luncheon, served by Mrs. Hawley assisted by Miss Edith Tozier and Miss Dora Veatch. Miss Stockwell stands very high in social circles and Mr. Veatch is a prominent young man of this city. The Nugget extends congratulations and also thanks Mrs. R. D. Hawley for a box of delicious wedding cake.

In the spring time gentle Annie
There's a smell in the back yard
And an odor in our city
That hits the stranger hard,
It's an argument for sewerage
But there is another plan;
You can go to the New Era Drug Store
And you may buy a can of Chloride of Lime.
It's very fine
Take it in time
Don't lose a dollar
To save a dime.
Call early and avoid the rush.
