lina, Hon. W. B. Heyburn of Idaho. The United States will be represented by the congressional committee on rivers and harbors, Hon. T. E. Burton, chairman.

Mr. W. H. Savidge of Boise City says in the Oregonian of May 17: "Every state in the United States will be represented, and also Mexico and other foreign governments. More than 30 states have already appointed 30 delegates each, and delegates from at least 10 European governments will be there. We have received favorable replies from more than that number. Indications are that 2000 delegates and probably 1000 other persons who are interested in mining will be in attendance. It is to be a business campaign and one of education in all branches of mining. The desire is to bring all classes interested in mining together, and much good is expected to be accomplished for the general uplift of the country. One-third of the people in the United States are either directly or indirectly interested in mining.

"One of the purposes is to secure better recognition of the mining industry by the national government, and to bring about needed changes in federal mining laws. To induce congress to create a department of mines and mining, thus securing a cabinet officer that represents an interest which affects one-third of the people in the United States, and an industry producing in the year 1900 over one billion of dollars.

"It is not the object of the congress to confine its considerations alone to that of gold and silver mines, but also to iron, coal, marble, stone, fire clay and kindred other mineral and metallic classes. Senator Hanna and W. J. Bryan who are both coming west this summer, have each notified us that they will endeavor to arrange to take in this congress. The 40 congressmen who are coming to the coast to inspect harbor work have promised to stop over one day.

"There is a great deal of interest manifested in the congress, and the secretary's office is flooded with inquiries. Much depends on the rate the railroads will make. We cannot say exactly what the attendance will be until the railroad companies fix rates. We are trying to get a one fare rate. Information has been received that 500 people will come from Chicago if we succeed in this. It will not be entirely a mining congress, but one of business men and machinery men who are interested. To show the importance attached to these meetings, I might mention that California and Knoxville, Tenn., are trying already to get the next congress.

"The program is being made up and there will be many fine papers. The geology of states will be lectured upon, and Professor Winchell of the State University of Minnesota, for instance will speak on the geology of his state, and Prof. Hall of Minnesota, will read a paper on iron. That will be beneficial to the Idaho and Oregon delegations, as both states have some iron.

"The chamber of commerce of Boise, the governor of Idaho and our various officials and business men have the affair in charge and are doing everything in their power to give the visitors a delightful time. No expense will be spared in the entertainment and everything will be free. We have secured the Columbia Theater in the city for the business session, and the Natatorium for the mining display. The latter is the finest building of its kind in the United States. The plunge is 60x120 feet, cement lined and and floored, holding from four to fourteen feet in depth of water, and covered with a handsome arched structure containing parlors, dancing floors, billiard-rooms, dressing-rooms, etc., and the whole surrounded by a lovely park."

Besides the delegates mentioned, each mining exchange is to have five delegates, each mining bureau five, each real estate exchange five, each miner's union five and each trades assembly five. The county commissioners may also appoint five delegates.

The first International Mining Congress was held at Denver in 1897.

Governor Geer has appointed thirty delegates, they comprise the following named persons: Col F V Drak, Portland; Arthur Conklin, Grants Pass; J O Booth; J W Virtue, Leland; J W Cook, Portland; W B Dennis, Cottage Grove; Geo A Dyson, Blue River; W B Hawley Eugene; George W Lloyd, Eugene; W J D'Arcy, Salem; W T Wright, Union; Durham Wright, Union; E J Godfrey, Portland; Jonathan Bourne, Portland; W A Thatcher, Geiser; F S Bailee, Bourne; Alme Case, Cornucopia; George Barin, Granite; Albert Geiser, Baker City; William Smith, Baker City; H S McCullum, Sumpter; H A Himes, Canyon City; J W Larkin, Granite.

Mayor Rowe has been requested to appoint five delegates, and a representation has also been asked from the Portland board of trade and chamber of commerce.

The official call requests that the mayor of each city and town name five delegates. Let Cottage Grove and the Bohemia Mining District be well represented. George W Lloyd has been chosen by Governor Geer as one of the state delegates. Mr. Lloyd says that he intends to go, and is desirous of having a good exhibit of Bohemia ores. He has not the time however to collect them himself. He suggests that the mayor appoint a committee to collect the ores. He will ship and exhibit them without expense to the city.
