ORIGIN OF A WELL KNOWN PHRASE.

Every one has heard and most people have used the phrase "he has a skeleton in his closet." It is intended by this to convey a hint of the existence in the family of the person alluded to of some secret which it is desirable to keep concealed from the public gaze. The phrase is not peculiar to the English tongue, for, somewhat changed to suit environment, it is found in almost every language in Europe. Its first appearance in literature was in one of those curious collections of stories which the monks of the middle ages were fond of making both for their own amusements and for the instruction of youth. In one of these collections, compiled by an unknown hand about the middle of the tenth century, there is a story of a wealthy lady who, having a secret grief, confided it to a friend who was apparently a perfectly happy woman.

She was the wife of a nobleman who lived in his castle in the south of France. She and her husband were outwardly on the most loving terms. Not a care cloud seemed to cast a shadow on her path. After hearing the story of her afflicted friend the noble lady took her by the hand and led her to a secret chamber adjoining her bedroom, there opened the door of a closet and exposed a skeleton.

"Know my friend," she said, "no one is happy. Every day I am forced by my husband to kiss this grinning death head, which is that of a gentleman who was my husband's rival and whom I would have married had not my parents willed otherwise."—Toledo Blade.

DIDN'T MARRY FOR MONEY.

The Boston man, who lately married a sickly rich young woman, is happy now, for he got Dr. King's New Life Pills, which restored her to perfect health. Infalible for Jaundice, Biliousness, Malaria, Fever and Ague and all Liver and stomach troubles. Gentle but effective. Only 25c at Benson Drug Co's drug store.

Have you seen the new Pan-American postage stamp? The two-cent is red with a center picture of a railroad train labeled underneath, "Fast Express." The one-cent is green in color with a picture of a steamboat designated "Fast Lake Navigation." The four is brown with the picture of an automobile, and the five is blue with the picture of bridge at Niagara. The eight has a picture of a steamboat going through the locks at Sault Ste Marie, and the ten, a picture of a big ocean steamship under full steam.

A SPRAINED ANKLE QUICKLY CURED.

"At one time I suffered from a severe sprain of the ankle," says Geo. E. Cary, editor of the Guide, Washington, Va. "After using several well recommended medicines without success, I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and am pleased to say that relief came as soon as I began its use and a complete cure speedily followed." Sold by Lyons & Applegate, Drain. BENSON DRUG CO. Cottage Grove.

THE CREAMERY BUSINESS.

A BUSINESS OF BENEFIT TO EVERY COMMUNITY REASONS WHY IT SHOULD BE CONSIDERED HERE.

H. E. Lounsbury, traveling freight agent for the Southern Pacific Company, was in the city last Friday and while here arranged for a lecture to be delivered by Mr. C. L. Smith on "Dairying and Diversified Farming."

Mr. Smith is one of the most thorough men in this line known in the state of Minnesota, and was selected by the management of the Southern Pacific Company for this work on the basis of his large experience, having devoted sixteen years to the study and operation of large dairies and farms. Mr. Smith does not come representing anything which he desires to sell, but purely at the instigation of the Southern Pacific Co., with the view of extending every advantage to the farmers and stock raisers of Oregon, whereby they may profit in the matter of improvement in stock, method of handling and in diversified farming, with the purpose of creating renewed interest and furthering advancement along those lines, the company knowing full well the benefit it will ultimately derive through increased freight traffic.

In talking about the advances made in the Willamette valley in the last year in the creamery business Mr. Lounsbury imparted the following information:

"Every creamery in the Willamette valley today seems to be enjoying a good business which is increasing in volume every month. Take the Ablany creamery for instance: Its receipts for 1899 were $18,347.18, while for the year 1900 the receipts were $27,688.25; an increase for the year of $9,451.07. The fact is the creamery business throughout the state has more than doubled in the last year. The reason for this is that creamery butter is now being manufactured in sufficient quantities to justify the commission men in reaching out for outside markets that belong to us for the asking for them.

"At Brownsville, the creamery is giving very satisfactory results. In an eight and one-half months run in 1900, the creamery there paid out in creamery checks $6,588.00, an average of something over $800 per month, and at the present time the pay roll at Brownsville is upwards of $1,000 per month, quite an item in a small town."

Mr. Lounsbury has implicit confidence in the outcome of the dairying and creamery business in Oregon, expressing the belief that it will become one of the best states in the union for these industries.

Diversified Farming and Dairying is the subject of Mr. Smith's talk next Tuesday. Hear him.
