Mines and Mining

Devoted to Bohemia Notes and items of general interest to Mining Men.

Reports from the Helena mine, Bohemia, are to the effect that everything is running along smoothly at present. It is expected that the broken machinery will soon be repaired so that the full 10 stamps will soon be dropping again. Only 5 stamps have been running for some time. The company is now working about 25 men.

A Redding dispatch to the S. F. Bulletin says the great Sweepstake gravel mine of Trinity county has been sold outright to a syndicate of several Philadelphia capitalists for a sum which is somewhat in excess $5,000,000. The money has been paid over, the purchasers have taken charge, the plans for operation are complete, and the extensive work which has already commenced, is under the direction of the buyers. This is probably the largest mine sale ever made in California, and the entire deal was consummated in less than six week's time.

The following is from the Ashland Town Talk: "We were shown this week samples of ore from the Blue Ledge, situated on Joe creek, a south fork of Elliott creek, and about 25 miles southwest of Ashland, on the state line, some of the claims lying in California and some in Oregon. There are twenty-one claims already taken, all by Crescent City parties. The ledge is a contact and in places shows 300 feet in width. It is claimed that the average tests show 30 per cent copper and some of the ore has shown as high as $60 in gold. The companies are doing development work and already have several hundred tons of ore on the dump. This is expected to develop into one of the greatest mines ever discovered on the Pacific coast.

The output of ores and minerals in the United States in 1900, according to the Engineering and Mining Journal amounted to $1,365,585, an increase over 1899 of $147,393,945. The most valuable of these products was coal, next pig iron, with copper third and clay product fourth, while gold is fifth on the list with petroleum close to it in value.

The current number of the Engineering and Mining Journal contains complete estimates of the gold output of the world, which show that the United States during last year moved from third to first place in the record of production. In 1890 the output of the United States was $99,518,718, while the world at large produced $311,505,948. Last year the United States produced $118,435,562 out of $255,954,654 produced by the entire world. Australia, which was second in 1899, dropped off last year and is still second, while Canada took the third place and Russia came fourth. The war in the Transvaal, causing the cessation of output, gave the first place to this country, but it is thought that the gains in this country is so rapid that even when the South African mines are in full production they will hardly be able to resume their old place at the head of the list.

State News.

Dennis McMahon, aged 18 years, was badly injured at Ashland last Saturday night while attempting to jump on a moving engine. The wheels passed over his right hand, which was amputated three inches above the wrist, and the footboard and brakebeams scraped his entire body, and the walls of his chest and left lung were crushed.

Saturday the river and harbors committee of the house of representatives was given an excursion up the west side of Willamette valley to Corvallis, thence across to Albany, thence down the east side of the river back to Portland. It was in all respects a successful and enjoyable affair.

George M. Miller, who has recently achieved much notoriety by hauling down the British flag near Skagway, is well known in Oregon, having resided in this state many years. He is an attorney-at-law at Eugene, and for several years has been engaged in the real estate business, with varying success. He is a brother of Joaquin Miller, the "Poet of the Sierras."

Haying has been delayed by showery and cloudy weather, and some clover lying on the ground has been injured, but most of that cut has been safely housed. A big crop of timothy hay is now ready to cut, but the farmers are waiting for warmer, sunshiny weather before beginning its harvest. The first crop of alfalfa has been secured and the yields averaged about the same as last year.

A $2,000,000 damage suit has been commenced at Pendleton, Ore. The defendants are the proprietors of the Schultz brewery and the East Oregonian. The $2,000,000 is wanted by Brewer Schlitz of Milwaukee for alleged infringement of patent. The damages asked are the largest known in the history of that town. Joseph Schlitz and Henry Schultz are managers of two brewing companies, the former operating in Milwaukee, and the latter at Pendleton. The Schlitz company's label has a globe and the name in white script. The Schultz label has a football, not dissimilar in shape to the globe, and "Schultz" in white script also. The Milwaukee people claim that their business is being diverted, and ask for an injunction restraining the use of the alleged imitation label, and damages.

The supreme court of the State of Oregon handed down a decision Monday, in the appeal of Frank McDaniel, convicted of the murder of Clara Fitch in Multnomah county, and serving a life sentence in the penitentiary. The decision of the lower court was sustained.

The Oregon exhibit in the horticultural, agricultural, mining and forestry building surpasses that of any other state. The state of Washington with an appropriation of $25,000, $5,000 more than Oregon, has not half the exhibit that our state has, and part of what it has was borrowed from our commissioners. Oregon is quite well advertised, but not as much as it should, still we, as delegates to the National Editorial Association from Oregon, were granted more favors than that of any other state delegation. Through the courtesy of the Grand Trunk Railway we were given a trip to the old Canadian city of Toronto. The celebrated New York Central and Hudson River Railroad granted us a trip to New York on its four track up-to-date railway.—Oregon City Herald.
