BRITISH AGGRESSION.

Geo. M. Miller, the well known Lane county attorney, made a little bit of history on his own account in Alaska the other day when he pulled down the British flag which was flaunting over the Stars and Stripes in an American town. The act was characteristic of the man. Mr. Miller is a quiet unassuming gentleman, having little to say and does not require much time to say it in. He acts rather than talks. He is a gentleman of high moral worth, and no one will deny his patriotism. He did that which every true and patriotic American citizen should do under like circumstances. From the beginning of our colonial history up to the outbreak of the Spanish-American war there is no place in the records of international controversy where Great Britain has not shown the hog, and in nearly every instance she has "bested" the United States settlement. It is true the American government is justified in feeling kindly toward Great Britain, when we review her attitude toward the United States, at the beginning of the strife with Spain. But in this there is little ground for the burst of enthusiasm that followed the seemingly good act of Great Britain and which we are prone to smother at this late day. Great Britain was looking after her own interests at that time and laying the ground for at least a neutral stand on the part of the United States when she saw fit to place her heel upon the Boers. Deep down in the heart of the American people there is a sympathetic cord which swells and vibrates not particularly for the Boers, nor in antagonism to Great Britain, but because of our love for the principles for which the Boers are wasting their life blood.

Again let us say that with the exception of the Spanish-American war incident in no place in the history of our great country, made great by the patriotism of a liberty loving people, do we find an instance where Great Britain has not been aggressive to us.

In Alaska particularly, has Great Britain encroached upon American rights. And if the flag incident has been reported aright, it was an opportune moment for a loyal American to cut the British ensign down. In the language of our German friend: "We like pork but d— a hog."

William J. Bryan's newspaper venture proves to those who retained some faith in his honor and integrity as a man to the "bitter end," that he is a bilk of the worst kind. He bilked the democratic party; he bilked the populist party; he bilked the free silver party, and the fusion party. Now he bilks the public by the issue of his little four page sheet which he is pleased to call a paper, by forcing it upon the public at $1 per year. It is said that he has taken in in cash nearly $75,000 on subscription alone. It does not cost this fake political doctor as much per copy to publish and mail the "Commoner" as it does the average country editor to get out the home paper and there isn't half as much down-right, hard sense in the "Commoner" as you will find in the average country paper either.

From the various reports it would seem that the shooting of the chief of police of Seattle was little less than a cold blooded murder. If this is the case and the reports of the record of the assassin's life are correct the sooner he is hanged the better for all humanity.

THE CELEBRATION.

How Cottage Grove Observed The Day—A Big Crowd—A Good Time.

The celebration of Independence day in Cottage Grove was decidedly a success in every respect. Although the crowd was not so large as usual there was none the less demonstration.

The parade started promptly at 10:30 headed by the grand marshal, followed by the Pleasant Hill band, Goddess car, Liberty car, girls on bicycles representing 13 original states, hose companies and floats. The program at the grounds was well rendered and appreciated. The afternoon was devoted to sports and was a decided success.

The Polymorphian parade was excellent.

SECOND PAYMENT.

The Bohemia Gold Mining Co., under the management of Geo. W. Lloyd, has this week made the second payment on the Gold Cross and Bohemia Girl claims, recently purchased from Attorney J. E. Young. The company has a crew engaged in development work, and a depth of 180 feet has already been gained. The ore is free milling and gives returns of $12 and $14 to the ton.

Chancey M. Depew still lets his talk works run down on the third term proposition. Well, Chancey, old boy, you were always quite a "feller" to listen to your own head roar, anyway.

By the appearance of several parties who bowed along the streets on the third, it looked as though some were inclined to celebrate the glorious day on the third as well as on the time honored fourth.

The body of an unknown man was found near Suver, Oregon, Sunday. He had been dead for some time.

Good and Bad Eggs

There are eggs and eggs; the egg of yesterday looks, feels, measures and weighs like the egg of last year, but there's a slight difference in another respect, and that difference is worth money. It's just so with printing; the difference between the good work and the poor is slight to the unpracticed discernment, but it's a difference that counts every time. It costs money but it makes more—its the difference that changes the printing bills from an expense to an investment . . . . . We do good printing—it may cost you a little more than poor work, but it is worth double or treble the difference.
