ATTENTION BOYS!

Two business men were conversing on a street corner the other day when a lad about fifteen passed by and one of them remarked: "That's a bright boy; I am watching him. If he gets through another year without contracting any bad habits so prevalent among sixteen year old boys in town, I know where he will get the offer of a good position."

Boys you should take this to heart, and think on't. It is as true as life and incidents of the kind are happening daily.

The young blood of this country may think that the man who devotes his whole life and energy to business—who bends from early morning until late into the night over his ledger, until the eyes scarcely noticeable under the shaggy brows, are dimmed with the strain—is asleep, and has no thought of that which surrounds him save that which bears directly upon his daily vocation, but if they do think so they are mistaken. The business man is alert to note the difference in boys and girls as well. He never knows what moment he may be compelled to select some one to enter his employ, in whom he must place a certain amount of confidence and trust. If the business man realizes these things is he not going to "look for a bargain" in the selection of this clerk or assistant the same as he would "look for a bargain" in the purchase of his fall stock?"

Don't you fool yourselves, boys. You may think as long as you escape the punishment usually handed out to boys at home for misdemeanors, and the policeman's eye, that you are real cute, and O. K—but you are simply running the gauntlet composed of business men who stand with the hatchet of criticism uplifted ready to strike a blow for steadiness, sobriety and integrity in business circles.

Only a short time ago an instance of this kind was presented in this city. A certain man who operates considerable business discovered that he must have more help in the near future. He said nothing but kept his eyes open. He soon discovered a young man who, while he lost none of the innocent enjoyments of life, was punctual in his appointments, kept reasonable hours and did not dissipate. The business man also learned that the boy was quick in figures, and had his mind on the business in hand. Application after application was before the man who was soon to need help, and some of them were really good. But the boy who secured the position was the one who had no thought of that particular job, and who was going along at his ordinary pace, without thought of doing wrong,—whom the business man knew was doing right not because he was being watched or was bidding for a job, but because it was his habit to do right.

Think on it boys. Do right. Keep good company. Have a good time but not through the channels of dissipation and vice, which not only undermines your health but cuts you out of good positions without your personal knowledge.

The city council has ordered that new walks be built on either side of Main street to the depot. A good idea. Some of the property owners may feel the expense for the time being, but the improvement will add just that much to the value of the property and to its appearance in the eyes of strangers.

LETTER FROM BOHEMIA.

A Two-County Celebration on the Fairview Saddle—Newsy Gossip by a Sojourner in Nature's Treasure Vault.

Bohemia, July 8, 1901.

ED NUGGET: Supposing you have given us up as lost, strayed or stolen, on account of our failure to send you the news from camp, we will offer as our excuse, that we felt loth to occupy such a prominent place as the first page of the Nugget where anything pertaining to the mines is displayed.

If you would stick our observations and prognostications on the inside, we would not feel so timid. We concede your right and grant the privilege of "cutting" us down at your pleasure.

Our trip from the Grove this time was much more pleasant than any other, and on arriving at the hotel at the foot of Hardscrabble, we concluded to stay all night and commence observations.

The hotel is admirably situated for summer or winter, where the weary or hungry pilgrim, going to or coming from the camp can find rest and refreshment. Ye hostess, Mrs. Miller, knows just how to do both and we bespeak for her a lucrative business and the continued patronage of any and all that have had the pleasure of enjoying her splendid hospitality.

We had the pleasure of meeting an old time Cripple Creek miner Mr. J. A. Childers, who lives in Los Angeles; but has some fine property here and has Colorado Springs people to back him.

The Bohemia Gold Mining Co. has an extremely good property but a short distance from the hotel and is backed up by Boston capital. Under the management of Geo. W. Lloyd it is showing up splendidly and will meet with the approval of the Boston people when they arrive about the 20th of this month.

The Stocks, Brush and Harlow mine is showing up finely. They have made a very satisfactory mill run recently. This property is well located and will be a good proposition for a big company.

The Vesuvius property owned by the Graber Bros. & Ziniker is also as well located, and the boys are worthy of a good "stake" from it, for the time and labor they have so persistently put on it for the past four years. It would not surprise us if, some of these days, it would not take unto itself its old mountain fame for which it was named and begin to send the "lava," in a good form, clear down Sharps Creek, Row River, past Cottage Grove and make a sensation at Salem.

The Musick mine is idle and the City of Bohemia almost deserted. Charlie Gettys, the efficient postmaster, chief, cook and general around business man of the city is feeling quite happy and glad to welcome all old timers and newcomers.

Dave Ivy and Jack Morgan are opening up some good prospects near Steamboat.

The Helera stamps are making the only music for the camp. J. S. Brund is still developing his fine group of claims and deserves a fortune for his untiring efforts.

Johnson and his Salem co-workers are opening up some very fine looking ore on their Damon claim.

A. P. Churchill has been at the "Early Bird" and completed his annual labor on the Three Montes.

Geo. Lloyd was showing some very rich specimens of ore, that were not strictly nuggets, but were literally covered with free gold.

Ranger Veatch and Carpenter with their families are located in Bohemia. They have the trails about cleared and will soon be making their daily rounds.

Quite a number left the camp to celebrate the 4th at Cottage Grove and elsewhere; but those left were determined to hear the "eagle scream," and secured the assistance of Honorable Beers to "expand" his eloquence in Lane and Douglas

This is a feat which no other 4th of July orator has had the honor of, or been able to do in Oregon in 1901, as it could only be accomplished on the saddle between Fairview and Elephant mountains. It was a complete success and the "Hoodlum" parade proved very laughable and interesting indeed.

Trusting this will inform you that we are still alive, that it will not be relegated to the waste basket entire and that we may be able to make a better report "Aun," we wait your pleasure.

HEARTBURN.

When the quantity of food taken is too large or the quality too rich, heartburn is likely to follow, and especially so if the digestion has been weakened by constipation. Eat slowly and not too freely of easily digested food. Masticate the food thoroughly. Let six hours elapse between meals and when you feel a fullness and weight in the region of the stomach after eating, indicating that you have eaten too much, take one of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and the heartburn may be avoided. For sale by Benson Drug Co.

Good and Bad Eggs

There are eggs and eggs; the egg of yesterday looks, feels, measures and weighs like the egg of last year, but there's a slight difference in another respect, and that difference is worth money. It's just so with printing; the difference between the good work and the poor is slight to the unpracticed discernment, but it's a difference that counts every time. It costs money but it makes more—its the difference that changes the printing bills from an expense to an investment We do good printing—it may cost you a little more than poor work, but it is worth double or treble the difference.
