FRIDAY, AUGUST 2, 1901.

Last week a fake story was set afloat of a terrible crime committed in Bohemia and hinged on the finding of an incomplete and charred bear's paw, which the innocents really thought was a human hand, and that too of the feminine gender. Since then other bear paws have been brought to town and the delusion is now thoroughly dispelled. The Eugene Register was apprised of the gruesome find and printed the story, which was perfectly proper and in the line of news, but it went out of its province to cast an uncalled for slur upon the honest miners of Bohemia, to which the Nugget took exception, thereby causing the ire of the Register man to mount high, and in his rage he makes a personal attack upon the "new importation from Portland on the Nugget," and says some very elegant and really nice things about us, for which we are truly thankful. Our time is fully occupied with affairs of duty and we have no spare moments to enter into quarrels with our neighbors. As regards the looting of cabins in Bohemia, and only one minor act of that kind has been brought out, which was ascribed to non-residents who passed through the district, the miners who dwell there would never be guilty of so contemptible an act, and would make it decidedly interesting for any person caught tampering with the cabin or effects of an absent resident. If the Register man ever comes to Cottage Grove the "new importation" will greet him kindly and introduce him to several bear paws.

In a letter from Boise to the Oregonian on July 24, the writer in speaking of the ore display made for inspection by the members of the International Mining Congress says: "Oregon came to the front today with a delayed mining exhibit which attracted a great deal of attention. The exhibit from the Bohemia district, consisting of gold, copper and silver ore, was surrounded all day by mining experts. The Eastern Oregon exhibit was very attractive on account of the rare specimens shown." This should bring much encouragement to the miners of Bohemia, because the direct interest of practical mining men will be the channel through which the best results will follow. Such men are ever in touch with capital and on the alert to find safe and lasting investment opportunities. The interest manifested in the ore exhibit from Bohemia will surely be of much benefit to that camp in the future.

It is announced that Dr. Koch, the noted German scientist, has discovered that the disease germs found in beef cattle and milk, cannot be transmitted to the human system. Upon this announcement the medical and scientific world is set agog—the great specialist being contradicted on every hand. Well it isn't the first time doctors and scientists have disagreed; and in the meantime the good people will go on devouring beef and washing it down with milk, just the same—giving Dr. Koch the benefit of the doubt.

The Second Southern Oregon District Agricultural Society has made complete and elaborate preparations for the holding of the Second Southern Oregon Fair, near Marshfield, commencing August 27 and continuing for five days. This fair will be representative of the great resources of that section in agriculture and live stock and will be patronized by all who dwell in that locality and many from all over the state.

HON. R. A. BOOTH FOR GOVERNOR.

Junction Times, Rep.

While the Times was the first paper in the state to mention Hon. R. A. Booth for governor, it has been talked up all over the state and although some of the leading papers are non-committal, the cause is gaining ground and his name will soon be urged from other sections not yet in evidence. There are few members of the last state senate that won and retained as many friends as Hon. R. A. Booth. He took his stand on the great senatorial question and while he was firm as adamant in his convictions, he was gentlemanly and accorded to all others the same right and privileges enjoyed by himself. He did not question his standing as an honest man and sincere legislator by talking to the galleries on every little measure that promised political distinction, but on the other hand attended strictly to the needs of the great senatorial district he represented. To be governor, especially so when the position is unsought, is to be placed in the highest position within the gift of the people of a great state, and knowing Mr. Booth as we do we feel sure that if he is called to this great position of trust as well as honor, he will permit the use of his name.

Mr. Booth is from this district and holds the highest estimation of all the citizens of this section. It is indeed pleasant to read the words of praise from distant sections of the state conferred upon one who commands so much honor at home. During the last legislature Mr. Booth made a lasting record for himself by his manly and courteous treatment of everybody and everything he had to deal with. In the senate chamber he was ever ready to attack that which was harmful and defend that which he conceived best for the well being of the state. If the friends of Hon. R. A. Booth can induce him to stand for the high office of governor of Oregon there is not a particle of doubt but what he will occupy the gubernatorial chair.

Last Monday morning there arrived at the Imperial hotel eight gentlemen from Massachusetts to visit and investigate the Bohemia district. They left here in two of Chrisman & Bang's coaches for the hills under the leadership and guidance of G. W. Lloyd. The party consisted of M. V. Little of Boston, E. S. Newhall of Lynn, W. J. Darling and E. H. Thomas of Fall River, Ed Manter of Plymouth, H. A. Alvord and Henry C. Alvord of South Weymouth and E. S. Harris of Boston. These gentlemen came across the continent at the suggestion of and to inspect the property managed by Mr. Lloyd, as well as to view the district in general with reference to future investment. They will remain in the district several days and will be afforded an opportunity to thoroughly inspect many of the fine properties of Bohemia. They represent capital which is much needed in Bohemia and the miners will show them where investment can be made with great advantage to both capital and miner. The roads are in good condition, the weather is fine and the Massachusetts men will see and learn much about one of the largest and richest mineral districts that ever laid out of doors.

A Chicago dispatch says that Chas. Cecil Fitzmorris, the 17-year-old Chicago school-boy who was one of three lads sent out by W. R. Hearst, the newspaper proprietor, in an attempt to break the record for the trip around the world, arrived there at 6:55 a. m., July 20, on time, which breaks previous records made by George Francis Train and Nellie Bly. The young man made the trip of 20,545 miles in exactly 60 days, 13 hours, 29 minutes, 42 1/2 seconds, winning easily from his competitors sent out from New York and San Francisco. The time given includes delays and stops equal to about six days.

A man back in the Windy City, Chicago, has written a book which he is pleased to call "Who Lies?" It is now in order for some one to write a book and call it "Who Doesn't Lie?"—in Chicago.

THE HELENA CONSOLIDATED.

From a private letter from the secretary of the Helena Consolidated Mining and Milling Company the following information is extracted:

We beg to advise that the consolidation of Helena and Helena No. 2 is now fully completed and that new stock will be issued in lieu of the old on the basis of share for share for Helena and 400 shares for 1000 shares for Helena No. 2 or 40 per cent.

The first dividend of one-half a cent per share on the new stock has been declared and we hand you dividend check to cover the number of shares held by you.

The Helena Consolidated Company has a capitalization of $1,500,000 divided into 1,500,000 shares of $1.00 par value, fully paid and non-assessable, with a treasury reserve of 300,000 shares and no debts.

Under the consolidation plan the mines can be worked much more economically and return larger profits to our stockholders; with increased territory and a large treasury reserve, the company is in much better shape to enhance the value of its shares.

Through a legal technicality the bond issue of Cottage Grove, which was authorized by the recent election, becomes void, and it will be necessary to go over the entire ground in order to fully and completely legalize the contemplated issue of bonds. The bonds, when issued, will be immediately taken up at 5 per cent. At the next meeting of the council steps will be taken to call an immediate election and straighten out the legal kinks, thus putting the bond issue in valid form on the market.

The future reputation of General Funston is now established beyond all doubt and for all time. Aguinaldo has pronounced him a great strategist.

The strike of the City Front Federation in San Francisco has tied up the commerce of that city and paralyzed all industry.

BORN.

COFFIN.—At Divide on July 29, 1901, to the wife of Roy Coffin, a son.

The new comer is a ten-pounder with lusty lungs and a coming appetite and has already taken command of the Coffin household. Mrs. Coffin is getting along nicely.

MARRIED.

WENTWORTH-ADDISON.—In Lorain on Wednesday, July 31, 1901, L. F. Wentworth to Miss Pearl Addison, the Rev. C. E. Crandall officiating.

At the ceremony uniting these two loving hearts many invited guests and relatives took part, and the presents were numerous and handsome. A merry time was had and the young couple were most auspiciously launched on the matrimonial sea. The Nugget wishes them bon voyage.

BENNETT-GARDNER.—At Saginaw on Wednesday, July 31, 1901, L. F. Bennett to Miss Alma D. Gardner, the Rev. Gardner officiating.

The wedding occurred at the home of the bride in the presence of numerous friends and relatives, and the happy young couple were the recipients of many presents and a profusion of congratulations, in which the Nugget man heartily joins.
