

GOING HOME.

Davey and John Finn took their departure on Monday for their home in Wisconsin. These two brothers have looked over this section very thoroughly, have sized up the future possibilities and have thought so well of the outlook that they have made several large investments and paid the spot cash for their purchases. They now go to their eastern home for the winter, and will return here about February next. They carry with them the very best of impressions and no doubt will be the means of inducing several others in and about their old home to come to Oregon and cast their lot in Cottage Grove. The Nugget wishes these gentlemen a most pleasant voyage and will be much pleased to greet them again when the springtime comes.

THE BOYS' SHOW.

For several days of late the little fellows of town have been getting up a show and last Saturday evening the great event was pulled off. Their tent was pitched under the trees in the vacant lot in the rear of Glass brothers planing mill. An evening triumphal parade through the Main street was given as a prelude to the high-class vaudeville performance that followed. The show was patronized to its full capacity at two and five cents a head and the receipts were most satisfactory to the boys. John Sherwood furnished phonographic selections between acts and the antics of the little fellows created much amusement and the large audience got its money's worth.

A BAD CUT.

While at work with the threshing outfit on the Cooley farm on Monday last Charley McKibben had a very bad accident befall him. He was chopping a piece of wood to feed the engine when the ax glanced and caught his left hand, cutting the fleshy part of the inside of his thumb entirely off, and splitting the thumb down to the first joint. He was brought to town and Dr. Job dressed the wound, making it a very serious one. Charley lost a great deal of blood, but he is feeling weak before the operation was completed. He was fortunate in not severing any of the cords and after the cut heals his hand will not be disabled.

PUFFLES ON SHOW.

Last Saturday the fine show window of the New Era drug store presented an animated appearance in dog life and attracted the attention of all who passed that way. There were fourteen fine English setter pups on exhibition, seven of which belonged to Bob Blair and seven were owned by James Benson. Both litters were sired by the same dog and they were as handsome a lot of thoroughbred puppies as were ever seen in this section. Nearly all of them have been spoken for by sportsmen and brought good prices.

LYNX HOLLOW FIRE.

Last Friday the barn and several tons of hay belonging to Marion Lebow of Lynx Hollow were destroyed by fire. His wife had built a small fire in the yard, where she was heating water for a washing, when a sudden gust of wind blew some of the sparks into the dry grass near by and before it could be checked it spread to the barn and destroyed it and its contents. There was no insurance and the loss falls quite heavily on Mr. Lebow.

FAREWELL BALL.

Last Friday evening the many friends of Mrs. Delva Atkins came together at a social dance in her honor to bid her farewell on the eve of her departure for her future home at Forest Grove. Sixteen couples graced the occasion and the hours were delightfully passed to the strains of melody from Nelson's orchestra.

A FINE BUCK'S HEAD.

Doc Pitcher, John Martin, Joseph Schlee and Dr. Job were hunting last week on Mosby creek. Dr. Job was the lucky one of the party and brought down a splendid big buck. He has dressed and mounted the head and will install it in his office.

A RUNAWAY.

On Tuesday afternoon last the team belonging to Wheeler & Owens and attached to a lumber wagon took fright in some manner while standing at Stone's flouring mill and made a lively run down River street, across the bridge and were stopped on Main street in front of the Lurch home. No damage was done because the roadway at that particular time was clear, but had there have been any pedestrians on the bridge they must surely have been injured or killed. Again is another object lesson shown why the city fathers should do something toward constructing a footpath over that bridge. There is ample room on the south side to build a secure passage for pedestrians and the outlay would be but little when compared to the benefit attained. It should be done before some one is killed or maimed for life. When school opens hundreds of little ones must cross that bridge daily and their precious lives are ever in jeopardy from passing vehicles. This state of affairs has too long existed already and the city fathers should give it their earnest and immediate attention.

A CLOSE CALL.

J. J. Lane, the mail carrier up the Coast Fork, met with a serious and nearly a fatal accident on the in trip on Tuesday. While leisurely jogging along in his cart, the vehicle suddenly broke down, throwing him out and turning the cart completely over and on top of him. The horse became frightened and ran, dragging the outfit with Mr. Lane under it for 600 feet until it collided with a fence post and smashed the cart to pieces. Mr. Lane got a terrible shaking up, but was fortunate in not having any bones broken. A farmer nearby loaned him a buggy and he gathered up the scattered contents of his charge and brought the mail through on time.

NEWLY PAINTED.

The City Hall has recently received a double coat of paint and now presents a very neat and nice appearance. The city fathers were quite a long while hatching on this sort of looking and sadly neglected egg, but they have at last evolved the once unsightly structure into an attractive edifice. The harmony and union in which the present council is working and the good work being done for the betterment of the city speaks well for the progressive spirit that now animates our citydads.

A FINE IMPROVEMENT.

The enterprising firm of Baker & Johnson have for several days been making a substantial and permanent improvement of the street in front of their big store by filling in many loads of fine gravel on either side of the crushed rock recently put upon that thoroughfare. When the storms of winter come the entire frontage of their property will now be high and dry, and will furnish a splendid object lesson for those whose premises sadly need just such improvement.

THE PIPE HAS ARRIVED.

Yesterday two carloads of iron pipe arrived from the east to be used as mains for the water system. It is being hauled and distributed along the line of ditch already dug for its reception, and the laying will be pushed to completion.

Read the new ad of Lewis & Veatch in another column. This old reliable firm carries a large and complete stock of groceries, dry goods, clothing, shoes, etc., and are selling their wares at the lowest possible living prices. Just now they are making special prices on a fine line of clothing. Call and look over their splendid stock of goods.

On Monday next the old reliable drug store of J. P. Curran changes hands, Mr. Curran retiring from the field and turning the entire business over to James Benson, formerly the guiding spirit and long identified with the Benson Drug Company. Mr. Benson is one of the oldest and most popular druggists in South Lane county and his host of friends will be glad to learn that he is to again enter into active business life in the drug line. On and after Monday next he will be found at his place of business on Wall street, west side, and will be glad to meet all of his old friends and will extend a hearty welcome to all who need anything in his line. That Mr. Benson will meet with success goes without saying.

Wallace of Colorado Springs, Colo., arrived here Saturday morning. They expect to remain here. Charley Bruneau of the Helena Consolidated came down from the mine on Tuesday. Charley is looking well and feeling fine. Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Coffman went to Eugene Saturday on their way to Wendling where they go to visit their son, Milo Coffman. Mrs. Wolfer of Comstock is a guest of the Sherwood Hotel this week. She is combining business with pleasure while visiting the Grove. Postmaster Howard and wife made a pleasant visit to Eugene this week to renew old friendships and view the sights in the county seat. Darwin Bristow and family are once again at home from their summer outing at Newport. All have spent a pleasant season at the seaside, but are now glad to be home. Tom Blew and family have returned from their camp at the mouth of Main creek. During their stay in camp they bagged a fine deer and had several misses of mountain trout. F. W. Brunley, recently from Gold Hill, is in town this week. Mr. Brunley is a mining man of practical experience and was identified with Bohemia last year. He is headed that way now. Superintendent Dennis of the Black Butte cinnabar mines was in town this week on business. The head force of men are employed in development work and good progress is being made. J. D. Cochran has on exhibition in his show window some very nice furniture, bureau, stool, rockers, chairs and rugs. The ladies would do well to take a good look at the fine array of wares he has on show. John Holland tells us that the hop yard of R. R. Hays at Creswell was never in better condition and the yield will be larger than ever before known in that yard. Picking will begin about the 5th of September. J. B. Lewis and daughter Cleo went to Junction City on Tuesday. Mr. Lewis will go to Monroe on business for a few days, while Mrs. Cleo will remain about the yard, picking up the Albany and other points near there.
